

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE Harmony of the Four Gospels in Greek, published in 1845, having been favourably received, I have been requested by many persons whose advice I could not disregard, to prepare a similar Harmony of the Gospels according to the common English Version. This I have attempted to do in the present work.

In the Gospels we have four different narratives of the life and actions of our Lord, by as many different and independent historians. The narrative of John, except during the week of the Saviour's passion, contains very little that is found in either of the other writers. That of Luke, although in its first part and at the close it has much in common with Matthew and Mark, comprises nevertheless in its middle portions a large amount of matter peculiar to Luke alone. Matthew and Mark have in general more resemblance to each other; though Matthew, being more full, presents much that is not found in Mark or Luke; while Mark, though briefer, has some things not contained in any of the rest. The Evangelists were led, under the guidance of the Spirit, to write each with a specific object in view, and for different communities or classes of readers; much as in the case of the authors of the Epistles. Hence, while the narratives all necessarily exhibit a certain degree of likeness, they nevertheless bear also each for itself the stamp of independence.

The four writers vary likewise in their chronological character. On the one hand, it appears, that Mark and John, who have little in common, follow with few exceptions the regular and true order of the events and transactions recorded by them; as may be more fully seen at the close of the Introduction to the Notes. On the other hand, Matthew and Luke manifestly have sometimes not so much had regard to chronological order, as they have been guided by the principle of association; so that in them, transactions having certain relations to each other are not seldom grouped together, though they may have happened at different times and in various places.

Some other diversities in the character and manner of the Evangelists, are pointed out in the Introduction to the Notes.

In view of the preceding considerations, it follows, that in order to obtain a full and consecutive account of all the facts of our Lord's life and ministry, the four Gospel-narratives must be so brought together, as to present as nearly as possible the true chronological order; and, where the same transaction is described by more than one writer, the different accounts must be placed side by side, so as to fill out and supply each other. Such an arrangement affords the only full and perfect survey of all the testimony relating to any and every portion of our Lord's history. In this way alone can be brought out and distinctly presented the mutual connection and dependency of the various parts, and the gradual development and completion of the great plan of redemption, so far as it was manifested in the life and ministry, the death and resurrection, of our Lord Jesus Christ. Yet without such a survey, our knowledge on all these great topics can only be fragmentary and partial.

To afford just the aid here proposed, is the object of a Harmony of the Gospels ; and by this consideration I have been governed in preparing such a work both in Greek and in English. Other uses and advantages, as also the particular objects aimed at in the present volume, are specified near the close of the Introduction to the Notes.

In all the preceding particulars, a Harmony in English is not less useful and important than one in Greek. It is mainly in respect to the verbal parallelisms of the sacred writers, that a comparison in the original language is of greater weight. These of course often disappear in a translation.

In a work of this kind, no great amount of novelty can be expected, on subjects which have more or less occupied the ablest minds of the Church during many centuries. Yet even here, knowledge has not been stationary. In a course of years, and especially within the last half century, there has been great progress in the observation and discovery of new facts and circumstances bearing upon both the social and physical history of the Hebrews and other ancient nations. These all serve to enlarge the circle of Biblical knowledge ; and they often shed light on topics which before were dark or doubtful. The accumulated facts and results of this progress, it is the duty of the Harmonist to apply to the elucidation of the narratives of the four Evangelists. This I have attempted to do in the present, as well as in my former work ; and have endeavoured every where faithfully to judge and write, according to the impressions left upon my mind by a personal inspection of most of the scenes of the Gospel history.

The Sections, and the general arrangement of the Text in this volume, are the same as in the Greek Harmony. The notation of place is every where given ; and may be regarded as a not unimportant feature of the work.

The Notes are for the most part those appended to the Greek Harmony, with such curtailments, additions, and changes, as seemed advisable in order to adapt them to the reader acquainted only with the English tongue. In using the Notes, I would particularly request the reader to search out all the scriptural references; inasmuch as very often they alone contain the evidence on which particular statements rest.

In the Text, I have inserted in two places (Matth. 6, 1. John 5, 2) the marginal reading of the English Version, for the reasons assigned in the Notes, and in accordance with all critical authority at the present day. In a few instances, a merely expletive word, added by the translators in Italic, has been silently dropped.

My hope is, that this little work may be found useful to those who love and seek the truth, in their closets, in families, in Sabbath Schools and Bible Classes. If it shall thus aid in extending the knowledge and influence of God's Holy Word, the object of my labours and prayers will be accomplished.

EDWARD ROBINSON.

New-York, July, 1846. }

NOTE.—The only point in the order of time, in which this work differs from the Greek Harmony, is in respect to our Lord's arrival at Bethany "six days before the passover," and the chronology of the passion week. In this I was formerly misled one day, by relying too implicitly upon the authority of the learned Lightfoot.

NOTE.

In the Text, the Dash [—] is used to mark a break or transposition in the order of the verses; and, also, to denote a break or division in single verses.

In the Notes, the work of Josephus on the Jewish Wars is quoted by the initials of its Latin title, viz. B. J. for de Bello Judaico.

PART I.

EVENTS CONNECTED WITH THE BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD OF OUR LORD.

TIME: About thirteen and a half years.

LUKE I. 1—4.

¹ FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us, 'even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word ; ' it seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee ⁴ in order, most excellent Theophilus, ' that thou mightest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed.

§ 2. An Angel appears to Zacharias. — JERUSALEM.

LUKE I. 5—25.

⁵ There was in the days of Herod the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia : and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord ⁷ blameless. And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren ; and they both were well stricken in years. And it came to pass, that, while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, ⁹ ' according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord. And the whole multitude of ¹¹ the people were praying without, at the time of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of incense. And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear ¹³ fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias : for thy prayer is heard ; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink ; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just ; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.* And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this ? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years. And the angel answering, said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God ; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings. And behold thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple. And when he came out, he could not speak unto them : and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple ; for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless. And it came to pass, that as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

§ 3. An Angel appears to Mary. — NAZARETH.

LUKE I. 26—38.

And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David ; and the virgin's name was Mary. And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou highly favoured, the Lord is with thee : blessed art thou among women. And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary : for thou hast found favour with God. And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest ; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David. And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever ; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man ? And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee : therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be called the Son of God. And behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age ; and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren : for with God nothing shall be impossible. And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

§ 4. Mary visits Elisabeth. — JUTTAH.

LUKE I. 39—56.

³⁹ And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill-country with haste, ⁴⁰ into a city of Juda,¹ and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted ⁴¹ Elisabeth. And it came to pass, that when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb: and Elisabeth was filled with the ⁴² Holy Ghost. And she spake out with a loud voice and said, Blessed art ⁴³ thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And whence is ⁴⁴ this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? For lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in ⁴⁵ my womb for joy. And blessed is she that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.
⁴⁶ ⁴⁷ And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord,¹ and my spirit hath ⁴⁸ rejoiced in God my Saviour. For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me ⁴⁹ blessed. For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is ⁵⁰ his name. And his mercy is on them that fear him, from generation to ⁵¹ generation. He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the ⁵² proud in the imagination of their hearts. He hath put down the mighty ⁵³ from their seats, and exalted them of low degree. He hath filled the hun-⁵⁴ gry with good things, and the rich he hath sent empty away. He hath ⁵⁵ holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy;¹ as he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed, for ever.^a ⁵⁶ And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

§ 5. Birth of John the Baptist. — JUTTAH.

LUKE I. 57—80.

⁵⁷ Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she ⁵⁸ brought forth a son. And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her; and they rejoiced with her.
⁵⁹ And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the ⁶⁰ child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. And ⁶¹ his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John. And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this ⁶² name. And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.
⁶³ And he asked for a writing-table, and wrote, saying, His name is John.
⁶⁴ And they marvelled all.¹ And his mouth was opened immediately, and his ⁶⁵ tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God. And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad ⁶⁶ throughout all the hill-country of Judea. And all they that heard them, laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be!
 And the hand of the Lord was with him.
⁶⁷ And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, ⁶⁸ saying, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeem-⁶⁹ ed his people,¹ and hath raised up an horn of salvation for us, in the house ⁷⁰ of his servant David:¹ as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which

§ 6. An angel appears to Joseph. — NAZARETH.

MATTH. I. 18—25.

¹⁸ Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise : When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found ¹⁹ with child of the Holy Ghost. Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away ²⁰ privily. But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife : for that which is conceived in ²¹ her is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS : for he shall save his people from their sins. Now ²² all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,^b Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us. ²³ Then Joseph, being raised from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife : ' and knew her not till she had brought forth her first-born son : and he called his name JESUS.

§ 7. The birth of Jesus. — BETHLEHEM.

LUKE II. 1—7.

¹ And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Cesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (This taxing was ² first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.) And all went to be ³ taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of ⁴ David,) ' to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. ⁵ And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished ⁶ that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling-clothes, and laid him in a manger ; because there was no room for them in the inn.

§ 8. An Angel appears to the Shepherds.—NEAR BETHLEHEM.

LUKE II. 8—20.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping 9 watch over their flock by night. And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were 10 sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring 11 you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.
 12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swad-
 13 dling-clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel 14 a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.
 15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made 16 known unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, 17 and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made 18 known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child. And all they that heard, wondered at those things which were told them by the 19 shepherds. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her 20 heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

§ 9. The circumcision of Jesus, and his presentation in the Temple.—BETHLEHEM, JERUSALEM.

LUKE II. 21—38.

21 And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child,^a his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he 22 was conceived in the womb. And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jeru-

 Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's 27 Christ. And he came by the Spirit into the temple; and when the parents 28 brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law, ' then 29 took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, ' Lord, now lettest years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings

MATTH. II. 1—12.

¹ Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod
 2 the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, ¹ saying,
 Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in 3 the east, and are come to worship him. When Herod the king had heard 4 these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he de-5 manded of them where Christ should be born. And they said unto him, 6 In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet, ^b ¹ And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda:
 for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.
 7 Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them dili-8 gently what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go, and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.
 9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the 10 young child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding 11 great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and 12 frankincense, and myrrh. And being warned of God in a dream, that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

⁴⁵ And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him. And it came to pass, that after three days they

⁴⁶ found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. And all that heard him were astonished

⁴⁷ at his understanding and answers. And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with

Jesus said unto him, It is written again,^b

Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the ⁶ world, and the glory of them; and saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, alone, but by every word of God. ⁹—And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence: ¹⁰ for it is written,^a He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee: ¹¹ and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. And Jesus answering, said unto him, It is said,^b Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy ⁵ God.—And the devil taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world ⁶ in a moment of time. And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me, and to whomsoever I will, I give it. ⁷ If thou therefore wilt worship me, ⁸ all shall be thine. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written,^c Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. ¹²—And when the devil had ended the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

JOHN I. 1—18.

¹ In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the ² Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was ⁴ made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not. ⁶ ⁷ There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him ⁸ might believe. He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that ⁹ Light. That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh ¹⁰ into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made by him, ¹¹ and the world knew him not. He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But to as many as received him, to them gave he power ¹² to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: ¹³ which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, ¹⁴ but of God. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

JOHN I.

¹⁵ John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me, is preferred before me; for he was before ¹⁶ me. And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. ¹⁸ No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

§ 18. Testimony of John the Baptist to Jesus.—BETHABARA BEYOND JORDAN.

JOHN I. 19—34.

¹⁹ And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites ²⁰ from Jerusalem, to ask him, Who art thou? And he confessed, and denied ²¹ not; but confessed, I am not the Christ. And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that prophet? And ²² he answered, No. Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may ²³ give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way ²⁴ of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.* And they which were sent ²⁵ were of the Pharisees. And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that ²⁶ prophet? John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there ²⁷ standeth one among you, whom ye know not: ' he it is, who coming after me, is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose. ²⁸ These things were done in Bethabara beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

²⁹ The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the ³⁰ Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world! This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me; for he ³¹ was before me. And I knew him not; but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water. And John bare ³² record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him. And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize ³³ with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the ³⁴ Holy Ghost. And I saw and bare record, that this is the Son of God.

§ 19. Jesus gains Disciples.—THE JORDAN. GALILEE?

JOHN I. 35—51.

³⁵ ³⁶ Again the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples; ' and ³⁷ looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God! And ³⁸ the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where ³⁹ dwellest thou? ' He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth ⁴⁰ hour. One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was ⁴¹ Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah; which is, being interpreted, the Christ. ⁴² And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas; which is, by interpretation, a stone.

⁴³ The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me. Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter. Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. ⁴⁷ Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile! Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee. Nathanael answered and said unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel. Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. ⁵¹ And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.^a

JOHN II. 1—12.

¹ And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there. And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage. And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you do it. And there were set there six water-pots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece. Jesus saith unto them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. ⁷ And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it. When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew,) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom, ⁹ and saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now. This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him. ¹² After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples; and they continued there not many days.

PART III.

OUR LORD'S FIRST PASSOVER, AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL THE SECOND.

TIME: One year

§ 21. At the Passover Jesus drives the Traders out of the Temple.—JERUSALEM.

JOHN II. 13—25.

¹³ AND the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem, ¹⁴ 'and found in the temple those that sold oxen, and sheep, and doves, and ¹⁵ the changers of money, sitting. And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; ¹⁶ and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables; 'and said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence: make not my Father's ¹⁷ house an house of merchandise. And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up. ^a ¹⁸ Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto ¹⁹ us, seeing that thou doest these things? Jesus answered and said unto ²⁰ them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up. Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou ²¹ ²² rear it up in three days? But he spake of the temple of his body. When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them: and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

²³ Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast-day, many ²⁴ believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did. But Jesus ²⁵ did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, 'and needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

§ 22. Our Lord's discourse with Nicodemus.—JERUSALEM.

JOHN III. 1—21.

¹ There was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:
² 'the same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water, and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh, is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit, is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness. If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you of heavenly things? And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness,* even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him, is not condemned: but he that believeth not, is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth, cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

§ 23. Jesus remains in Judea and baptizes. Further testimony of John the Baptist.

JOHN III. 22—36.

After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judea; and there he tarried with them, and baptized. And John also was baptizing in Ænon, near to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. For John was not yet cast into prison.

Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews, about purifying. And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, be- hold the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven. Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him. He that hath the bride, is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly, because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. He must increase, but I must decrease. He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony. He that hath received his testimony, hath set to his seal that God is true. For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him. The Father loveth the Son and hath given all things into his hand. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son, shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

MATTH. IV. 12.

Now, when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee.

MARK I. 14.

Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee.—

LUKE IV. 14.

And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee.—

MATTH. XIV. 3—5.

For Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife.

MARK VI. 17—20.

For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her.

LUKE III. 19, 20.

But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her. And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.

For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not: for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and an holy, and observed him: and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

JOHN IV. 1—3.

When therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John, (though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,) he left Judea and departed again into Galilee.

§ 25. Our Lord's discourse with the Samaritan woman. Many of the Samaritans believe on him.—SHECHEM or NEAPOLIS.

JOHN IV. 4—42.

And he must needs go through Samaria. Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the

JOHN IV.

7 sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus
 8 saith unto her, Give me to drink. (For his disciples were gone away unto 9 the city to buy meat.) Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How 10 is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of 11 Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans. Jesus an-12 swered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is 13 that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and 14 he would have given thee living water. The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou 15 hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast 16 thou that living water? Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which 17 gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?
 18 Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall 19 thirst again: but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, 20 shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him, shall be in him a 21 well of water springing up into everlasting life. The woman saith unto 22 him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.
 23 Jesus saith unto her, Go call thy husband, and come hither. The woman 24 answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast 25 well said, I have no husband: for thou hast had five husbands, and he 26 whom thou now hast, is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.
 27 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. Our 28 fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the 29 place where men ought to worship. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, be-30 lieve me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor 31 yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. Ye worship ye know not what: we 32 know what we worship, for salvation is of the Jews. But the hour cometh, 33 and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit 34 and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is a Spirit:
 35 and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth. The 36 woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ;
 37 when he is come, he will tell us all things. Jesus saith unto her, I that 38 speak unto thee am he.
 39 And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the 40 woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with 41 her? The woman then left her water-pot, and went her way into the city, 42 and saith to the men, Come, see a man which told me all things that ever 43 I did: is not this the Christ? Then went they out of the city, and came 44 unto him.
 45 In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat. But 46 he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of. Therefore said 47 the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat?
 48 Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to 49 finish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh
 50 harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields;
 51 for they are white already to harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth 52 wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth, and 53 he that reapeth, may rejoice together. And herein is that saying true, One 54 soweth, and another reapeth. I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed 55 no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.
 56 And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying 57 of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did. So when 58 the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry 59 with them: and he abode there two days. And many more believed be-

⁴³ cause of his own word; ' and said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

§ 26. Jesus teaches publicly in Galilee.

JOHN IV. 43—45.

⁴³ ⁴⁴ Now, after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee. For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country. ⁴⁵ Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

§ 27. Jesus again at Cana, where he heals the son of a Nobleman lying ill at Capernaum.—CANA OF GALILEE.

JOHN IV. 46—54.

⁴⁶ So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Caper-⁴⁷ naum. When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his ⁴⁸ son: for he was at the point of death. Then said Jesus unto him, Except ⁴⁹ ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe. The nobleman saith unto ⁵⁰ him, Sir, come down ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto ⁵¹ him, and he went his way. And as he was now going down, his servants ⁵² met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth. Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at ⁵³ the seventh hour the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself

§ 28. Jesus at Nazareth; he is there rejected; and fixes his abode at Capernaum.

LUKE IV. 16—31.

¹⁶ And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and stood up

And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him. And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

²² And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Joseph's son? ²³ And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country. And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country. But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land: ¹ but unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman ²⁷ that was a widow.^b And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian. ²⁸ And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, ¹ and rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill, whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down ²⁰ headlong. LUKE IV. 31—37.

³¹ —And taught them on the sabbath-days. And they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was with power.

³³ And in the synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an unclean devil; and he cried out with a loud voice, 'saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God. ³⁵ And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came

MARK I.

²⁷ out of him. And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him. And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

LUKE IV.

³⁶ out of him, and hurt him not. And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. ³⁷ And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

§ 31. The healing of Peter's wife's mother, and many others.—CAPERNAUM.

MATTH. VIII. 14—17.

¹⁴ And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.

¹⁵ And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

¹⁶ When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick; ¹⁷ that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, ^a Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

MARK I. 29—34.

²⁹ And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

But Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and anon they tell him of her. And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

³² And at even when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

LUKE IV. 38—41.

³⁸ And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house.

And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

⁴⁰ Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases, brought them unto him: and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he, rebuking them, suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

MARK I. 35—39.

³⁵ And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out

LUKE IV. 42—44.

⁴² And when it was day, he departed, and went into a desert place;

MARK I.

and departed into a solitary place, 20 and there prayed. And Simon, and they that were with him, followed 27 after him. And when they had found him, they said unto him, All 30 men seek for thee. And he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.
 32 And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

LUKE IV.

and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from 43 them. And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also, for therefore am I 44 sent. And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

MATTH. IV. 23—25.

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness, and 24 all manner of disease among the people. And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.
 25 And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

§ 33. The healing of a Leper.—GALILEE.

MATTH. VIII. 2—4.

2 And behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying,

Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean.

And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.^a

MARK I. 40—45.

And there came a leper to him, beseech-ing him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

And Jesus,
 moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean. And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

And he straightly charged him, and forthwith sent him away; and saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man;

 but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.^a

LUKE V. 12—16.

And it came to pass,
 when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean.
 And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.^a

MARK I.

LUKE V.

⁴⁵ But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

¹⁵ But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear and to be healed by him of their infirmities. ¹⁶ And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

§ 34. The healing of a Paralytic.—CAPERNAUM.

MARK II. 1—12.

LUKE V. 17—26.

¹ And again he entered into Capernaum, after some days; and it was noised that he was in the house. ² And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door:

MATTH. IX.

^a For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

LUKE V. 27, 28.

²⁷ And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me. And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

PART IV.

OUR LORD'S SECOND PASSEVER, AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL THE THIRD

§ 36. The Pool of Bethesda; the healing of the infirm man; and our Lord's subsequent discourse.—JERUSALEM.

JOHN V. 1—47.

¹ AFTER this there was a feast of the Jews: and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. Now there is at Jerusalem, by the sheep gate, a pool, which ² is called in the Hebrew tongue, Bethesda, having five porches. In these ³ lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for ⁴ the moving of the water. For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.
⁵ And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight ⁶ years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long ⁷ time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down ⁸ before me. Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.
⁹ And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.
¹⁰ The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath-day; ¹¹ it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed. He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.
¹² Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up ¹³ thy bed, and walk? And he that was healed wist not who it was: for ¹⁴ Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art ¹⁵ made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee. The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole.
¹⁶ And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath-day.

JOHN V.

17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.
 18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also, that God was his Father, making himself 19 equal with God. Then answered Jesus, and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son like-20 wise. For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may 21 marvel. For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them;
 22 even so the Son quickeneth whom he will. For the Father judgeth no 23 man; but hath committed all judgment unto the Son: ' that all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not 24 the Son, honoureth not the Father which hath sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed 25 from death unto life. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and 26 they that hear shall live. For as the Father hath life in himself, so hath 27 he given to the Son to have life in himself; ' and hath given him authority 28 to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man. Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear 29 his voice, ' and shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of dam-30 nation.* I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.
 31 32 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. There is another that beareth witness of me, and I know that the witness which he witness-33 eth of me is true. Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.
 34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye 35 might be saved. He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.
 36 But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of 37 me, that the Father hath sent me. And the Father himself which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at 38 any time, nor seen his shape. And ye have not his word abiding in you:
 39 for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not. Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.
 40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.
 41 42 I receive not honour from men. But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you. I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me 43 not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the 44 honour that cometh from God only? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye 45 trust. For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he 46 wrote of me. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my 47 words?

§ 37. The Disciples pluck ears of grain on the Sabbath.—ON THE WAY TO GALILEE?

MATTH. XII. 1—8.

¹ At that time Jesus went on the sabbath-day through the corn, and his disciples were an hungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.^a
² But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath-day. But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungered, and they that were with him;^b
⁴ 'how he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shew-bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests? Or have ye not read in the law^c how that on the sabbath-days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and ⁶ are blameless? But I say unto you, that in this place is one greater than the temple. But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice,^d ye would not have condemned the guiltless.
⁸ For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath-day.

²³ And it came to pass, that he went through the corn-fields on the sabbath-day; and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.^a And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath-day that which is not lawful?
²⁵ And he said unto them, Have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungered, he and they that were with him;^b 'how he went into the house of God, in the days of Abiathar the high-priest, and did eat the shew-bread, which is not lawful to eat, but for the priests, and gave also to them which were with him?

²⁷ And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath: 'therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

LUKE VI. 1—5.

¹ And it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn-fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.^a And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath-days? And Jesus answering them, said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himself was an hungered, and they which were with him;^b 'how he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shew-bread, and gave also to them that were with him, which it is not lawful to eat but for the priests alone?

§ 38. The healing of the withered hand on the Sabbath.—GALILEE.

MATTH. XII. 9—14.

8 And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue. And behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-days? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath-day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath-days.

13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14 Then the Pharisees went out, and held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

MARK III. 1—6.

1 And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand. And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath-day; that they might accuse him.

2 that they might find an accusation against him. But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose, and stood forth.

3 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth. And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath-days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? but they held their peace. And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

6 And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

LUKE VI. 6—11.

6 And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue, and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered: 7 and the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath-day;

8 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath-days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it? And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

§ 39. Jesus arrives at the Sea of Tiberias, and is followed by multitudes.—LAKE OF GALILEE.

MATTH. XII. 15—21.

15 But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all.

MARK III. 7—12.

7 But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea, and from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him. And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him, because of the multitude, lest they should throng him. For he had healed many; insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues. And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried saying, Thou art the Son of God.

MATTH. XII.

And he charged them that they should not make him known: ' that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles. He shall not strive nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets. A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory. And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

MARK III. 13—19.

MATTH. X. 2—4.

Now the names of the twelve apostles are these; The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alpheus, and Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus; Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

§ 41. The Sermon on the Mount.—NEAR CAPERNAUM.

MATTH. V. 1.—VIII. 1.

LUKE VI. 20—49.

¹ And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto ² him. And he opened his mouth, ³ and taught them, saying, 'Blessed ⁴ are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed ⁵ are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Blessed ⁶ are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.^a Blessed ⁷ are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. ⁸ Blessed ⁹ are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed ¹⁰ are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. Blessed ¹¹ are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God. Blessed ¹² are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. ¹³ Blessed ¹⁴ are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against ¹⁵ you falsely, for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great ¹⁶ is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you. ¹⁷ Blessed ¹⁸ are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. Rejoice ¹⁹ ye in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward ²⁰ is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto ²¹ the prophets. But wo unto you that are rich! for ye have received your ²² consolation. Wo unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Wo unto ²³ you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep. Wo unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

MATTH. V.

²¹ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time,^a Thou shalt not ²² kill; and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgment. But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou ²³ fool, shall be in danger of hell-fire. Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee, ²⁴ 'leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to ²⁵ thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and ²⁶ thou be cast into prison. Verily, I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

³³ Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time,^d Thou ³⁴ shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths. But I say unto you, Swear not at all: neither by heaven; for it is God's throne: ³⁵ 'nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem; for it is ³⁶ the city of the great King: 'neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because ³⁷ thou canst not make one hair white or black. But let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil.

³⁸ Ye have heard that it hath been said,^e An eye for an eye, and a tooth ³⁹ for a tooth. But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

would borrow of thee, turn not thou away.

⁴³ Ye have heard that it hath been said,* Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.

⁴⁴ But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use

⁴⁵ you, and persecute you; ' that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the ⁴⁶ just and on the unjust. For if ye love them which love you, what

⁴⁷ reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so?

of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend ⁴⁸ to sinners, to receive as much again. But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.

⁴⁹ Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

VI. ¹ Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

² Therefore, when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues, and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily, I say unto you, They have their reward.

³ But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth; ' that thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, himself shall reward thee openly.

⁴ And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily, I say unto you, They have their

⁵ reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father, which is in secret; and thy

⁷ shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask

⁸ him. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. ' Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done

⁹ in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. ' And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, taketh away thy goods, ask them not again.

²⁷ —But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you, ' bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you.—

For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for sinners also love those that love them. And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do

³² even the same. And if ye lend to them to sinners, to receive as much again. But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.

³⁶ Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

MATTH. VI.

¹⁴ and the glory, for ever. Amen. For, if ye forgive men their trespasses, ¹⁵ your heavenly Father will also forgive you: ' but if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

¹⁶ Moreover, when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance:
for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily, ¹⁷ I say unto you, They have their reward. But thou, when thou fastest, ¹⁸ anoint thine head, and wash thy face; ' that thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father, which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

¹⁹ Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth ²⁰ corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: ' but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and ²¹ where thieves do not break through and steal. For where your treasure is, ²² there will your heart be also. The light of the body is the eye: if there-²³ fore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!

²⁴ No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye can-²⁵ not serve God and mammon. Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body ²⁶ than raiment? Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them.
²⁷ Are ye not much better than they? ' Which of you by taking thought can ²⁸ add one cubit unto his stature? And why take ye thought for raiment?
Consider the lilies of the field how they grow; they toil not, neither do
²⁹ they spin; ' and yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory ³⁰ was not arrayed like one of these. Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he ³¹ not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall ³² we be clothed? ' (for after all these things do the Gentiles seek,) for your ³³ heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things ³⁴ shall be added unto you. Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

LUKE VI.

VII. ¹ Judge not, that ye be not ³⁷ Judge not, and ye shall not be ² judged. For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall ³⁸ shall be forgiven: ' give, and it shall be measured to you again. be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you ³⁹ again. And he spake a parable unto them; Can the blind lead the ⁴⁰ blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch? The disciple is not above his master: but every one that

³ And why beholdest thou the mote ⁴¹ is perfect, shall be as his master. And that is in thy brother's eye, but con- why beholdest thou the mote that siderest not the beam that is in thine is in thy brother's eye, but per-thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and behold, ⁵ a beam is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

⁶ Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample

⁸ it shall be opened unto you: 'for every one that asketh, receiveth; and he that seeketh, findeth; and to him that knocketh,

⁹ it shall be opened. Or what man is there of you, whom if his son

¹⁰ ask bread, will he give him a stone? Or if he ask a fish, will he

¹² Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

¹³ Enter ye in at the strait gate; for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which

¹⁵ Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening

¹⁶ wolves. Ye shall know them by their fruits: Do men gather grapes of ¹⁷ thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth ¹⁸ forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

¹⁹ Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast

²⁰ into the fire. Wherefore, by their fruits ye shall know them.

²¹ Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which ²² is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

²⁴ Therefore, whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise own eye? Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.—

⁴⁴ For every tree is known by his own fruit: for of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble-bush gather they grapes.—For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.—A good man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

⁴⁶ And why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

⁴⁷ Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like.

⁴⁸ He is like a man which built an man, which built his house upon a rock : ' and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house ; and it fell not : for it was founded upon a rock. And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand : ' and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house ; and it fell : and great was the fall of it.

And it came to pass when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine. For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

§ 42. The healing of the Centurion's servant.—CAPERNAUM.

MATTH. VIII. 5—13.

And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, ' and saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant. And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this : ' for he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue. Then Jesus went

The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof :

But he that heareth and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth, against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great.

Now when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die. And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself : for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof ; ' wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee ; but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth ; and to another, Come, and he cometh ; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

LUKE VII. 11—17.

¹¹ And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain :
¹² and many of his disciples went with him, and much people. Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people ¹³ of the city was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compas-¹⁴ sion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say ¹⁵ unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak: and ¹⁶ he delivered him to his mother. And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, ¹⁷ That God hath visited his people. And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about.

 prison the works of Christ, he sent him, Art thou he that should come,

LUKE VII. 18—35.

¹⁸ And the disciples of John shewed him of all these things. And John, ¹⁹ calling unto him two of his disciples, sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look ²⁰ we for another? When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto MATTH. XI.

LUKE VII.

¹⁰ And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.

¹² But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet. For this is he, of whom it is written,^a Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. Verily, I say unto you, Among them that are born of women, there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven, is greater than he. And from the days of John the Baptist, until now, the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force. For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. And if ye will receive it, this is Elias which was for to come.^b He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

¹³ But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows,¹ and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.² For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.

³⁴ And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings' courts.³⁵ But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. This is he, of whom it is written,^a Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women, there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God, is greater than he. (And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John. But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him.)

³⁶ And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like? They are like unto children sitting in the market-place, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept. For John the Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a devil. § 45. Reflections of Jesus on appealing to his mighty Works.—CAPERNAUM?

MATTH. XI. 20—30.

²⁰ Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works ²¹ were done, because they repented not. Wo unto thee, Chorazin! wo unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in ²² sackcloth and ashes. But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for ²³ Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you. And thou, Caper-naum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works which have been done in thee, had been done in Sod-²⁴ om, it would have remained until this day. But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom, in the day of judgment, than for thee.

²⁵ At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and ²⁶ prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight. All things are delivered unto me of my Father; and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.
²⁸ Come unto me, all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you ²⁹ rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me: for I am meek and lowly ³⁰ in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

§ 46. While sitting at meat with a Pharisee, Jesus is anointed by a woman who had been a sinner.—CAPERNAUM?

LUKE VII. 36—50.

³⁶ And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And ³⁷ he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. And behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at ³⁸ meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster-box of ointment, and stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

³⁹ Now, when the Pharisee which had bidden him, saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who,
and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.
⁴⁰ And Jesus answering, said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto ⁴¹ thee. And he saith, Master, say on. ' There was a certain creditor, which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other ⁴² fifty. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both.
⁴³ Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most? ' Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto ⁴⁴ him, Thou hast rightly judged. And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, ⁴⁵ and wiped them with the hairs of her head. Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet.
⁴⁶ Mine head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed ⁴⁷ my feet with ointment. Wherefore, I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, ⁴⁸ the same loveth little. And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.

LUKE VII.

⁴⁹ And they that sat at meat with him, began to say within themselves, ⁵⁰ Who is this that forgiveth sins also? And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

§ 47. Jesus, with the Twelve, makes a second circuit in Galilee.

MARK III.

²⁸ Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: but he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation. Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

§ 49. The Scribes and Pharisees seek a sign. Our Lord's reflections.—
GALILEE.

MATTH. XII. 38—45.

³⁸ Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee. But he answered and said to them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign, and

²³ No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on ²⁴ a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light. The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when thine eye is evil, ²⁵ thy body also is full of darkness. Take heed therefore, that ²⁶ the light which is in thee be not darkness. If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light; as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.—

Then he saith, I will return into mine house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. ⁴³ Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

- ²⁷ And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which ²⁸ thou hast sucked. But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

§ 50. The true Disciples of Christ his nearest relatives.—GALILEE.

MATTH. XII. 46—50.

⁴⁶ While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak
⁴⁷ with him. Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak ⁴⁸ with thee. But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?
⁴⁹ And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and ⁵⁰ my brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

MARK III. 31—35.

³¹ There came then his brethren and his mother, and standing without, sent unto him, calling him. And the multitude sat about him; and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. And he answered them, saying, ³² Who is my mother, or my brethren?
³³ And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my ³⁴ brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

LUKE VIII. 19—21.

¹⁹ Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.
²⁰ And it was told him by certain, which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. And he answered and said unto them, ²¹

My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

§ 51. At a Pharisee's table, Jesus denounces woes against the Pharisees and others.—GALILEE.

LUKE XI. 37—54.

³⁷ And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him: and ³⁸ he went in and sat down to meat. And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner. And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter;
³⁹ but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness. Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?
⁴⁰ But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and behold, all things are ⁴¹ clean unto you. But wo unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint, and rue, and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God:
⁴² these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. Wo unto you, Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and
⁴⁴ Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying, thou reproachest us also. And he said, Wo unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch ⁴⁵ not the burdens with one of your fingers. Wo unto you! for ye build the ⁴⁶ sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. Truly ye bear

witness, that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres. Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute: ' that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation; ' from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple: ' verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation. Wo unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered. And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things; ' laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

§ 52. Jesus discourses to his Disciples and the multitude.—GALILEE.

LUKE XII. 1—59.

¹ In the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, ² which is hypocrisy. For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known. Therefore, whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness, shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets, shall be proclaimed upon the house-tops. ⁴ And I say unto you, my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, ⁵ and after that, have no more that they can do. But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. Are not five sparrows sold ⁷ for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God? But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye ⁸ are of more value than many sparrows. Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before ⁹ the angels of God. But he that denieth me before men, shall be denied ¹⁰ before the angels of God. And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth ¹¹ against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven. And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye ¹² no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: ' for the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say. ¹³ And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, ¹⁴ that he divide the inheritance with me. And he said unto him, Man, who ¹⁵ made me a judge, or a divider over you? And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the ¹⁶ abundance of the things which he possesseth. And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plenti- ¹⁷ fully: ' and he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I ¹⁸ have no room where to bestow my fruits? And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my ¹⁹ fruits and my goods. And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.

LUKE XII.

⁴⁰ But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of ⁴¹ thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided? So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

⁴² And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall ⁴³ put on. The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

⁴⁴ Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap: which neither have store-house, nor barn; and God feedeth them. How much more are ye ⁴⁵ better than the fowls? And which of you with taking thought can add to ⁴⁶ his stature one cubit? If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, ⁴⁷ why take ye thought for the rest? Consider the lilies how they grow:

 they toil not, they spin not: and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all ⁴⁸ his glory was not arrayed like one of these. If then God so clothe the grass, which is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how ⁴⁹ much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith? And seek not ye what ⁵⁰ ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father ⁵¹ knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you.

⁵² Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you ⁵³ the kingdom. Sell that ye have, and give alms: provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no ⁵⁴ thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth. For where your treasure is, ⁵⁵ there will your heart be also. Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning; ' and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, ⁵⁶ when he will return from the wedding; that, when he cometh and knock-

⁵⁷ eth, they may open unto him immediately. Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily, I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and ⁵⁸ will come forth and serve them. And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

⁵⁹ And this know, that if the good man of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his ⁶⁰ house to be broken through. Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

⁶¹ Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or ⁶² even to all? And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their ⁶³ portion of meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his lord ⁶⁴ when he cometh shall find so doing. Of a truth I say unto you, that he ⁶⁵ will make him ruler over all that he hath. But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the men-

⁶⁶ servants, and ma'dens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken; ' the lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint

⁶⁷ him his portion with the unbelievers. And that servant which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, ⁶⁸ shall be beaten with many stripes. But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

⁶⁹ I am come to send fire on the earth, and what will I, if it be already ⁷⁰ kindled? But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I strait-

LUKE XII.

- ⁵² ened till it be accomplished! Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on ⁵³ earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division: ' for from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.
⁵⁴ The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.
⁵⁵ And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, ⁵⁶ straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is. And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat; and it cometh to ⁵⁷ pass. Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky, and of the earth; ⁵⁸ but how is it, that ye do not discern this time? Yea, and why even of ⁵⁹ yourselves judge ye not what is right? When thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the ⁶⁰ judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison. I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the very last mite.

§ 53. The slaughter of certain Galileans. Parable of the barren Fig-tree.—
GALILEE.

LUKE XIII. 1—9.

- ¹ There were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, ² whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. And Jesus answering, said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above ³ all the Galileans, because they suffered such things? I tell you, Nay; but ⁴ except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were ⁵ sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay; but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.
⁶ He spake also this parable: A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his ⁷ vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none. Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it ⁸ the ground? And he answering, said unto him, Lord, let it alone this ⁹ year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: ' and if it bear fruit, well:
and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow.

And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way-side, and the fowls came and devoured them up. Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth; and forthwith they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: and when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up, and choked them.

But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, some thirty-fold.

Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. ' Hearken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow. And it came to pass as he sowed, some fell by the way-side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up. And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth: but when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away. And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up, and increased, and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred.

And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

And when he was alone, they that were about him, with the twelve, asked of him the parable. And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables:

him out of every city, he spake by a parable:

A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way-side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundred-fold.

And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?

And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables;

not, from Therefore that seeing they might not see, and hearing, they hear not; neither do they understand. And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith,^a

MATTH. XIII.

By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive: ' for this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them. But blessed are your eyes, for they see. and your ears, for they hear.

¹⁷ For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

¹⁸ Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.

¹⁹ When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way-side. But he into received the seed that stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it;

²² He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness and hearing they may hear, and not understand;^a lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.

And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?

MARK IV.

¹³ And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?

¹⁵ And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness; and have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended. And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word, and the cares of this ing they might not understand.^a

LUKE VIII.

¹¹ Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. Those by the way-side, are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

¹³ And that which fell among thorns, are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares, and riches, and pleaof riches choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

²³ But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundred-fold, some sixty, some thirty.

MARK IV.

²¹ And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick? For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad. If any man have ears to hear, let him hear. And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear, shall more be given. For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

sures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

LUKE VIII.

¹⁶ No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light. For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be known, and come abroad. Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.

§ 55. Parable of the Tares. Other Parables.—NEAR CAPERNAUM?

MATTH. XIII. 24—53.

²⁴ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: 'but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?' He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

MARK IV. 26—34.

²⁶ And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground; 'and should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how. For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear. But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

MATTH. XIII.

Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field: ' which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

Another parable spake he unto them: The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them: ' that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field. He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; ' the field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one; ' the enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; ' and shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant-man seeking goodly pearls: ' who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind: ' which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away. So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth,

And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it? It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth: ' but when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it. But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

MATTH. XIII.

³⁰ and sever the wicked from among the just, ' and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

³¹ Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say

² And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

³ Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake.—

MATTH. VIII.

⁴ And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead.

§ 58. Levi's Feast.—CAPERNAUM.

MATTH. IX. 10—17.

And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.

And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?

But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

MARK II. 15—22.

And it came to pass, that as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many, and they followed him. And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners? When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole, have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance.

LUKE V. 29—39.

And Levi made him a great feast in his own house; and there was a great company of publicans, and of others that sat down with them.

But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

And Jesus answering, said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick. I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

MATTH. IX.

²⁴ Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

²⁵ And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them?

But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

MARK II.

¹⁸ And the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees, used to fast: and they come, and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast. But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

²³ No man also having drunk old wine, straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

LUKE V.

And they said unto him, Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink?

³⁴ And he said unto them, Can ye make the children of the bride-chamber fast while the bridegroom is with them?

³⁶ And he spake also a parable unto them: No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old: if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old. And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish. But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.

MARK VI.

² But when Herod's birth-day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod. Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask. And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a charger. And the king was sorry: nevertheless for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her. And he sent, and beheaded

²¹ And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birth-day made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee; and when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom. And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist. And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me, by and by, in a charger, the head of John the Baptist. And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her. And immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison; and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

MARK VI.

And when the evening was come, he was there alone. But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary. And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea. And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear. But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.

And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus. But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.

Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them; and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them. But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out. (For they all saw him, and were troubled.) And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.

And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered. For they considered not the miracle of the loaves; for their heart was hardened.

And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea, and entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them. And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew. So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid. But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid.

Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

MATTH. XIV.

34 And when they were gone over, they came into the land of Genesareth. MARK VI.

34 And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Genesareth, and drew to the shore. And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, 35 and ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, 36 where they heard he was. And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch, if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him, were made whole.

§ 66. Our Lord's discourse to the multitude in the Synagogue at Capernaum. Many disciples turn back. Peter's profession of faith.—CAPERNAUM.

JOHN VI. 22—71. VII. 1.

22 The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the 23 boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone; (howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, 24 after the Lord had given thanks;) when the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to 25 Capernaum, seeking for Jesus. And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither? 26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and 27 were filled. Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto 28 you: for him hath God the Father sealed. Then said they unto him, What 29 shall we do, that we might work the works of God. Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he 30 hath sent. They said therefore unto him, What sign shewest thou then, 31 that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work? Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written,^a He gave them bread from 32 heaven to eat. Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you 33 the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God is he which cometh 34 down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world. Then said they unto 35 him, Lord, evermore give us this bread. And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me, shall never hunger; and he that be- 36 lieveth on me, shall never thirst. But I said unto you, that ye also have 37 seen me, and believe not. All that the Father giveth me, shall come to 38 me; and him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out. For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent 39 me. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the 40 last day. And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

⁴¹ The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which ⁴² came down from heaven. And they said, Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, ⁴³ I came down from heaven? Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, ⁴⁴ Murmur not among yourselves. No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last ⁴⁵ day. It is written in the prophets,^a And they shall be all taught of God.
 Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, ⁴⁶ cometh unto me. Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is ⁴⁷ of God, he hath seen the Father. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that ⁴⁸ believeth on me hath everlasting life. I am that bread of life. Your ⁴⁹ fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.^b This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.
⁵¹ I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

⁵² The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man ⁵³ give us his flesh to eat? Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ⁵⁴ ye have no life in you. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, ⁵⁵ hath eternal life: and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is ⁵⁶ meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh, and ⁵⁷ drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him. As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall ⁶⁰ live by me. This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live ⁶¹ for ever. These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

⁶² Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying; who can hear it? When Jesus knew in himself that his ⁶³ disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you? What ⁶⁴ and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before? It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I ⁶⁵ speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were ⁶⁶ that believed not, and who should betray him. And he said, Therefore said
 I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

⁶⁷ From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?
⁶⁸ Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life. And we believe, and are sure that thou art that ⁶⁹ Christ, the Son of the living God. Jesus answered them, Have not I ⁷⁰ chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil? He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

FROM OUR LORD'S THIRD PASSOVER UNTIL HIS FINAL DEPARTURE FROM GALILEE AT THE FESTIVAL OF TABERNACLES.

TIME: Six Months.

§ 67. Our Lord justifies his Disciples for eating with unwashen hands.
Pharisaic Traditions.—CAPERNAUM.

MATTH. XV. 1—20.

¹ THEN came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with defiled ² (that is to say, with unwashen) hands, they found fault. For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands ⁴ oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders. And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not.

And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, and brazen vessels, and

² saying, 'Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when ³ they eat bread. But he answered
¹ and said unto them,—'Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of ² you, saying, 'This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but ³ their heart is far from me. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

MARK VII. 1—23.

¹ Then came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, ² which came from Jerusalem. And scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands? He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, 'This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.' Howbeit, in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. For laying aside the commandments of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

MATTH. XV.

³—Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? For God commanded, saying,^a Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; and honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free.

Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

¹⁰ And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand: Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

¹⁶ are they that defile the man. If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

MATTH. XV.

²³ Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying? But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up. Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

²⁶ Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable. And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding? Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

it entereth not into ²⁸ But those things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart; and they defile the man. For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies: these are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

MARK VII.

⁹ And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. For Moses said,^a Honour thy father and thy mother; and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free. And ye suffer him no more to do aught for his father or his mother; making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.

¹⁴ And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand. There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him, can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

MARK VII.

¹⁷ And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable. And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him: because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats? And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness; all these evils things come from within, and defile the man.

§ 68. The daughter of a Syrophenician woman is healed.—REGION OF TYRE AND SIDON

MATTH. XV. 21—28.

²¹ Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon. And behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us. ²² But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and to cast it to dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

MARK VII. 24—30.

²⁴ And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would have no man know it: but he could not be hid. For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet; ' (the woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation;) and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

²⁷ But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs. And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs. ²⁸ And he said unto her, For this saying, go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter. And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

§ 69. A deaf and dumb man healed; also many others. Four thousand are fed.—THE DECAPOLIS.

MATTH. XV. 29—38.

²⁹ And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

MARK VII. 31—37. VIII. 1—9.

³¹ And again, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.

³² And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him. And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue: ' and looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it: ' and were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well; he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

MATTH. XV.

- ³⁰ And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' ³¹ feet; and he healed them: ' insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see; and they glorified the God of Israel.

MARK VIII.

MATTH. XV.

- ³² Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way. And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude? And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little ³³ fishes. And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground. ³⁴ And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

- Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them, ' I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat: ' and if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came ⁴ from far. And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness? And he asked them, How many loaves have ⁵ ye? and they said, Seven. And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set ⁶ them before the people. And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

- ³⁷ And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat ³⁸ that was left seven baskets full. And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.

- ⁷ So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left, seven baskets. ⁸ And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

MATTH. XVI. 4—12.

4 —And he left them, and departed.

5 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread. Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

6 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.

7 Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?

8 Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

9 Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up? How is it that ye do not 10 understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees? Then 11 understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

MARK VIII. 13—21.

13 And he left them, and entering into the ship again, departed to the other side.

14 Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of ⁶ But, whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. Wo unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but wo to that man by whom the offence cometh! Wherefore, if thine hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee; it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet, to be cast into everlasting fire. ⁹ And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes, to be cast into hell-fire.

For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

²¹ Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until seventy times seven. ²² Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants. And when he had begun to reckon, ²³ one was brought unto him which owed him ten thousand talents. But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt. But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him an hundred pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest. And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt. So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me: ³⁰ 'shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pity on thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him. So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

TIME : Six months, less six days.

§ 83. Jesus at the Festival of Tabernacles. His public teaching.—JERUSALEM.

JOHN VII. 11—53. VIII. 1.

¹¹ THEN the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?
¹² And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him:
for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the ¹³ people. Howbeit, no man spake openly of him, for fear of the Jews.
¹⁴ Now about the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and ¹⁵ taught. And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, ¹⁶ having never learned? Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is ¹⁷ not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know ¹⁸ of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.
¹⁹ Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law?
²⁰ Why go ye about to kill me? The people answered and said, Thou hast ²¹ a devil: who goeth about to kill thee? Jesus answered and said unto ²² them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel. Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers,) and ²³ ye on the sabbath-day circumcise a man.^a If a man on the sabbath-day receive circumcision, that the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath-day? Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judg-²⁴ ment. Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they ²⁵ seek to kill? But lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him.
²⁶ Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ? Howbeit, we know this man, whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence ²⁷ he is. Then cried Jesus in the temple, as he taught, saying, Ye both know

^a 22. Lev. 12, 3.

me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. But I know him; for I am from him, and he hath sent me. Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come. And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him. Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come. Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles? What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come? In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.^a But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive; for the Holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Jesus was not yet glorified.

Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee? Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?^b So there was a division among the people because of him. And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him? The officers answered, Never man spake like this man. Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived? Have any of the rulers, or of the Pharisees believed on him? But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed. Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,) Doth our law judge any man before it hear him, and know what he doeth? They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

VIII.¹ And every man went unto his own house. But Jesus went unto the mount of Olives.

§ 84. The Woman taken in Adultery.—JERUSALEM.

JOHN VIII. 2—11.

And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down and taught them. And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery: and when they had set her in the midst, they say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act. Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou? This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down,

⁷ and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not. So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, ⁸ He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. And ⁹ again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground. And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the ¹⁰ woman standing in the midst. When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine ¹¹ accusers? hath no man condemned thee? She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

§ 85. Further public teaching of our Lord. He reproves the unbelieving Jews, and escapes from their hands.—JERUSALEM.

JOHN VIII. 12—59.

¹² Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of ¹³ life. The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true. Jesus answered and said unto them, Though ¹⁴ I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go. ¹⁵ Ye judge after the flesh, I judge no man. And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. It is ¹⁶ also written in your law,^b that the testimony of two men is true. I am one that beareth witness of myself; and the Father that sent me, beareth ¹⁷ witness of me. Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye ¹⁸ should have known my Father also. These words spake Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him, for his hour was not yet come.

¹⁹ Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come. Then said the ²⁰ Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come. And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ²¹ ye are of this world; I am not of this world. I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall ²² die in your sins. Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning. ²³ I have many things to say, and to judge of you: but he that sent me, is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him. ²⁴ They understood not that he spake to them of the Father. Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye ²⁵ know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things. And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please ²⁶ him. As he spake these words, many believed on him.

²⁷ Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye

JOHN VIII.

²⁴ shall be made free? Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, ²⁵ Whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin. And the servant abideth ²⁶ not in the house for ever, but the Son abideth ever. If the Son therefore ²⁷ shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. I know that ye are Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in ²⁸ you. I speak that which I have seen with my Father; and ye do that ²⁹ which ye have seen with your father. They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's ³⁰ children, ye would do the works of Abraham. But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did ³¹ not Abraham. 'Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, ³² We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God. Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded ³³ forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but he sent me. Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word.
³⁴ Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth; because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own:
³⁵ for he is a liar, and the father of it. And because I tell you the truth, ye ³⁶ believe me not. 'Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the ³⁷ truth, why do ye not believe me? He that is of God, heareth God's words:
 ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou ³⁸ art a Samaritan, and hast a devil? Jesus answered, I have not a devil;
³⁹ but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me. And I seek not mine ⁴⁰ own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth. Verily, verily, I say ⁴¹ unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death. Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall ⁴² never taste of death. Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is ⁴³ dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? Jesus answered, If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that ⁴⁴ honoureth me, of whom ye say, that he is your God. Yet ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall ⁴⁵ be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying. Your father ⁴⁶ Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad. Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen ⁴⁷ Abraham? Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

⁴⁸ Then took they up stones to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

§ 86. A Lawyer instructed. Love to our neighbour defined. Parable of the good Samaritan.—NEAR JERUSALEM.

LUKE X. 25—37.

²⁵ And behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, ²⁶ what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said unto him, What is written ²⁷ in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy

LUKE X.

²⁹ But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?
³⁰ And Jesus answering, said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance there came down a certain priest that way; and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. And on the morrow, when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him: and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee. Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

§ 87. Jesus in the house of Martha and Mary.—BETHANY.

LUKE X. 38—42.

³⁸ Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman, named Martha, received him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word. But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. And Jesus answered, and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful, and troubled about many things; but one thing is needful; and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

§ 88. The Disciples again taught how to pray.—NEAR JERUSALEM.

LUKE XI. 1—13.

¹ And it came to pass, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come.
² Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. Give us day by day our daily bread. And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.
³ And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves: for a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him? And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee. I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given

¹⁰ you ; seek, and ye shall find ; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh, receiveth ; and he that seeketh, findeth ; and to him ¹¹ that knocketh, it shall be opened. If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone ? or if he ask a fish, will he ¹² for a fish give him a serpent ? Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him ¹³ a scorpion ? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children : how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him ?

§ 89. The Seventy return.—JERUSALEM ?

LUKE X. 17—24.

¹⁷ And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils ¹⁸ are subject unto us through thy name. And he said unto them, I beheld ¹⁹ Satan as lightning fall from heaven. Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy : and ²⁰ nothing shall by any means hurt you. Notwithstanding, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you ; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven. ²¹ In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes ; even so, Father ; for so ²² it seemed good in thy sight. All things are delivered to me of my Father : and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father ; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him. ²³ And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the ²⁴ eyes which see the things that ye see. For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them : and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

JOHN IX. 1—41. X. 1—21.

¹ And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth. ² And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man or his ³ parents, that he was born blind ? Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents : but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. I must work the works of him that sent me while it is day : ⁴ the night cometh when no man can work. As long as I am in the world, ⁵ I am the light of the world. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ⁶ ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind ⁷ man with the clay, ' and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, which is by interpretation, Sent. He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. ⁸ The neighbours, therefore, and they which before had seen him that he ⁹ was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged ? Some said, This is ¹⁰ he : others said, He is like him : but he said, I am he. Therefore said ¹¹ they unto him, How were thine eyes opened ? He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash : and I went and washed, and I

JOHN IX.

²³ received sight. Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

²⁴ They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. And it was the sabbath-day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see. ²⁵ Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath-day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them. ²⁶ They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet. ²⁷ But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight. And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? How then doth he now see? His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: ²⁸ but by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself. These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.

²⁹ Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner. He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples? Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples. We know that God spake unto Moses; ³⁰ as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is. The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes. Now we know that God heareth not sinners; ³¹ but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth. Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind. If ³² this man were not of God, he could do nothing. They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

³³ Jesus heard that they had cast him out: and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God? He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him? And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee. And ³⁴ he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. And Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this world; that they which see not might see, and that they which see, might be made blind. And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also? Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

X. ¹ Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door, is the shepherd of the sheep.

JOHN X.

⁹ To him the porter openeth ; and the sheep hear his voice : and he calleth ¹⁰ his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him : for they ¹¹ know his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from ¹² him : for they know not the voice of strangers. This parable spake Jesus unto them : but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

¹³ Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the ¹⁴ door of the sheep. All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers :
¹⁵ but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door : by me if any man enter ¹⁶ in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture. The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy : I am come that they ¹⁷ might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. I am the ¹⁸ good shepherd : the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, ¹⁹ seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth ; and the wolf ²⁰ catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep. The hireling fleeth, because he is ²¹ an hireling, and careth not for the sheep. I am the good shepherd, and ²² know my sheep, and am known of mine. As the Father knoweth me, even ²³ so know I the Father : and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold : them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice ; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.
²⁴ Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might ²⁵ take it again. ' No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.

²⁶ There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.
²⁷ And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad ; why hear ye him ?
²⁸ Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil. Can a devil open the eyes of the blind ?

§ 91. Jesus in Jerusalem at the Festival of Dedication. He retires beyond Jordan.—JERUSALEM. BETHABARA BEYOND JORDAN.

JOHN X. 22—42.

²² And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter.
²³ And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch. Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt ?
²⁴ If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. ' Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not : the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear wit-²⁵ ness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said ²⁶ unto you. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me :
²⁷ ' and I give unto them eternal life ; and they shall never perish, neither ²⁸ shall any man pluck them out of my hand. My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all ; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's ²⁹ hand. I and my Father are one.
³⁰ Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him. Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father ; for which of ³¹ those works do ye stone me ? The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not ; but for blasphemy, and because that thou, being ³² a man, makest thyself God. Jesus answered them, Is it not written in

JOHN X.

²⁸ your law,* I said, Ye are gods? If he called them gods, unto whom the ²⁹ word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken; ' say ye of him whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphem-³⁰ est; because I said, I am the Son of God? If I do not the works of my ³¹ Father, believe me not. But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in him.

³² Therefore they sought again to take him; but he escaped out of their ³³ hand, ' and went away again beyond Jordan, into the place where John at ³⁴ first baptized; and there he abode. And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle; but all things that John spake of this man were true.
³⁵ And many believed on him there.

§ 92. The raising of Lazarus.—BETHANY.

JOHN XI. 1—46.

Now a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha. It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was ³ sick. Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom ⁴ thou lovest is sick. When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified ⁵ thereby. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same ⁶ place where he was. Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go
⁷ into Judea again. His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late ⁸ sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stum-⁹ bleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in ¹⁰ the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

¹¹ These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go that I may awake him out of sleep. Then said his dis-¹² ciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well. Howbeit, Jesus spake of his ¹³ death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep. Then ¹⁴ said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless, let ¹⁵ us go unto him. Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

¹⁶ Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen fur-¹⁷ longs off: ' and many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort ¹⁸ them concerning their brother. Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house.
¹⁹ Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother ²⁰ had not died. But I know that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, ²¹ God wil. give it thee. Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.
²² Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life:
²³ he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: ' and whosoever liveth, and believeth in me, shall never die. Believest thou this?

JOHN XI.

²⁷ She saith unto him, Yea, Lord : I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of ²⁸ God, which should come into the world. And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is ²⁹ come, and calleth for thee. As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

³⁰ Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where ³¹ Martha met him. The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary that she rose up hastily, and went out, ³² followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there. Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.
³³ When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which ³⁴ came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled. And said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.
³⁵ ³⁶ Jesus wept. Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him! And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?

³⁷ Jesus therefore again groaning in himself, cometh to the grave. It was ³⁸ a cave, and a stone lay upon it. Jesus said, Take ye away the stone.
 Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time ³⁹ he stinketh : for he hath been dead four days. Jesus saith unto her, Said ⁴⁰ I not unto thee, that if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory ⁴¹ of God? Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that ⁴² thou hast heard me : ' and I knew that thou hearest me always : but because of the people which stand by, I said it ; that they may believe that thou ⁴³ hast sent me. And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, ⁴⁴ Lazarus, come forth. And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes : and his face was bound about with a napkin.
 Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

⁴⁵ Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things ⁴⁶ which Jesus did, believed on him. But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

§ 93. The counsel of Caiaphas against Jesus. He retires from Jerusalem.—
 JERUSALEM. EPHRAIM.

JOHN XI. 47—54.

⁴⁷ Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, ⁴⁸ What do we? for this man doeth many miracles. If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him : and the Romans shall come, and take away ⁴⁹ both our place and nation. And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the ⁵⁰ high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all ; ' nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, ⁵¹ and that the whole nation perish not. And this spake he not of himself :
 but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that ⁵² nation ; ' and not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together ⁵³ in one the children of God that were scattered abroad. Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

⁵⁴ Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews ; but went thence into a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there

§ 94. Jesus beyond Jordan is followed by multitudes. The healing of the infirm Woman on the Sabbath.—VALLEY OF JORDAN? PEREA.

MATTH. XIX. 1, 2.

MARK X. 1.

¹ And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judea, beyond Jordan: ' and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

LUKE XIII. 10—21.

¹¹ And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath. And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath-day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath-day. The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering? And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day? And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

¹² Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it? It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it. And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

§ 95. Our Lord goes teaching and journeying towards Jerusalem. He is warned against Herod.—PEREA.

LUKE XIII. 22—35.

²² And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem.

²³ Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them, ' Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able. When once the Master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are: ' then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets. But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out. And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God. And behold, there are last, which shall be first; and there are first, which shall be last.

The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence; for Herod will kill thee. And he said unto them, Go ye and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected. Nevertheless, I must walk to-day and to-morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate ^a. And verily, I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

§ 96. Our Lord dines with a chief Pharisee on the Sabbath. Incidents.—
PEREA.

LUKE XIV. 1—24.

And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath-day, that they watched him. And behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy. And Jesus answering, spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-day? And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go: ¹ and answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath-day? And they could not answer him again to these things.

And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them, ¹ When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room, ^b lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him; ¹ and he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room. But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee. For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind; ¹ and thou shalt be blessed: for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.

And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. Then said he unto him, A certain man made a great supper, and bade many: ¹ and sent his servant at supper-time, to say to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready. And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.

²⁹ And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife:
³¹ and therefore I cannot come. So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in ³² hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind. And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is ³³ room. And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

§ 97. What is required of true Disciples.—PEREA.

LUKE XIV. 25—35.

²⁵ And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them, ' If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he ²⁷ cannot be my disciple. And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. For which of you intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it? Lest haply after he hath laid the foundation, and is not ²⁹ able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him, ' saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. Or what king going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty ³¹ thousand? Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace. So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.
³³ Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill; but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

§ 98. Parable of the Lost Sheep, etc. Parable of the Prodigal Son.—PEREA.

LUKE XV. 1—32.

¹ Then drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners for to hear him.
² And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.
⁸ Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find

LUKE XV.

- ⁹ it? And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which
- ¹⁰ I had lost. Likewise, I say unto you, There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.
- ¹¹ ¹² And he said, A certain man had two sons: ' and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me.
- ¹³ And he divided unto them his living. ' And not many days after, the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country,
- ¹⁴ and there wasted his substance with riotous living. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.
- ¹⁵ And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent
- ¹⁶ him into his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat; and no man gave unto him.
- ¹⁷ And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my
- ¹⁸ father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned
- ¹⁹ against heaven, and before thee, ' and am no more worthy to be called thy
- ²⁰ son: make me as one of thy hired servants. And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and
- ²¹ had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight,
- ²² and am no more worthy to be called thy son. But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his
- ²³ hand, and shoes on his feet: ' and bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it;
- ²⁴ and let us eat, and be merry: ' for this my son was dead, and is alive again;
- ²⁵ he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. ' Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard
- ²⁶ music and dancing. And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant. And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy
- ²⁷ father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. And he was angry, and would not go in; therefore came his father
- ²⁸ out, and entreated him. And he answering, said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment; and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry
- ²⁹ with my friends: ' but as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf. And
- ³⁰ he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me; and all that I have is thine.
- ³¹ It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

§ 99. Parable of the Unjust Steward.—PEREA.

LUKE XVI. 1—13.

- ¹ And he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted
- ² his goods. And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no
- ³ longer steward. Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I
- ⁴ am ashamed. I am resolved what to do, that when I am put out of the
- ⁵ stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest

LUKE XVI.

⁶ thou unto my lord? ' And he said, An hundred measures of oil. And he ⁷ said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty. Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write four-⁸ score. And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light.

⁹ And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting ¹⁰ habitations. He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in ¹¹ much; and he that is unjust in the least, is unjust also in much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit ¹² to your trust the true riches? And if ye have not been faithful in that ¹³ which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own? No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

§ 100. The Pharisees reproved. Parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus.— PEREA.

LUKE XVI. 14—31.

¹⁴ And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things, and ¹⁵ they derided him. And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly ¹⁶ esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God. The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is ¹⁷ preached, and every man presseth into it. And it is easier for heaven and ¹⁸ earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail. Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery; and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

¹⁹ There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine
²⁰ linen, and fared sumptuously every day: ' and there was a certain beggar ²¹ named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores, ' and desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover, the ²² dogs came and licked his sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom. The rich man also ²³ died, and was buried: ' and in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, ²⁴ and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried, and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue: for I am tormented ²⁵ in this flame. But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he ²⁶ is comforted, and thou art tormented. And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you, cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from ²⁷ thence. Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house: ' for I have five brethren; that he may ²⁸ testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.
²⁹ And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the ³⁰ dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

§ 101. Jesus inculcates forbearance, faith, humility.—PEREA.

LUKE XVII. 1—10.

¹ Then said he unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will ² come: but wo unto him through whom they come! It were better for him ³ that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than ⁴ that he should offend one of these little ones. Take heed to yourselves: if ⁵ thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.
⁶ And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a ⁷ day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.
⁸ And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith. And the Lord
⁹ said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye might say unto this ¹⁰ sycamine-tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the ¹¹ sea; and it should obey you. But which of you having a servant plough-¹² ing, or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come out of ¹³ the field, Go and sit down to meat? and will not rather say unto him, ¹⁴ Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I ¹⁵ have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? Doth ¹⁶ he thank that servant, because he did the things that were commanded him?
¹⁷ I trow not. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which ¹⁸ are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done ¹⁹ that which was our duty to do.

§ 102. Christ's coming will be sudden.—PEREA.

LUKE XVII. 20—37.

²⁰ And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God
²¹ should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh ²² not with observation. Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, Lo there! for ²³ behold, the kingdom of God is within you. And he said unto the disciples, ²⁴ The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the ²⁵ Son of man, and ye shall not see it. And they shall say to you, See here!
²⁶ or, See there! go not after them, nor follow them. For as the lightning ²⁷ that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other ²⁸ part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day. But first ²⁹ must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation. And as it ³⁰ was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.
³¹ They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, ³² until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and ³³ destroyed them all.^b Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot: they did ³⁴ eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; but ³⁵ the same day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from ³⁶ heaven, and destroyed them all:^c even thus shall it be in the day when ³⁷ the Son of man is revealed. In that day, he which shall be upon the ³⁸ house-top, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it ³⁹ away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back. Re-⁴⁰ member Lot's wife.^d Whosoever shall seek to save his life, shall lose it; eagles be gathered together.

§ 103. Parables: The Importunate Widow. The Pharisee and Publican.— PEREA.

LUKE XVIII. 1—14.

¹ And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always ² to pray, and not to faint; ³ saying, There was in a city a judge, which ⁴ feared not God, neither regarded man. And there was a widow in that ⁵ city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary. And ⁶ he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I
⁷ fear not God, nor regard man, ⁸ yet, because this widow troubleth me, I ⁹ will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me. And the ¹⁰ Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith. And shall not God avenge ¹¹ his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with ¹² them? ¹³ I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when ¹⁴ the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

¹⁵ And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves
¹⁶ that they were righteous, and despised others: Two men went up into the ¹⁷ temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. The Phari-
¹⁸ seee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not ¹⁹ as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.
²⁰ ²¹ I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess. And the pub-
²² lican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, ²³ but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. I tell ²⁴ you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?^b He saith unto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives; but from the beginning it was not so. And I say unto you, whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away, doth commit adultery.

²⁰ His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry. But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given. For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

What therefore, God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter. And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her. And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

§ 105. Jesus receives and blesses little children.—PEREA.

MATTH. XIX. 13—15.

²³ Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein. And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

MARK X. 13—16.

²³ And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them; and his disciples rebuked those that brought them. LUKE XVIII. 18—30.

²⁶ And behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do that I may have eternal life? And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments. He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, ²⁷ Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet? Jesus said unto him,

If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. ²⁷ And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundred-fold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the market-place, and said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, I will give you. And they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny. And when they had received it, they murmured against the good man of the house, saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day. But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? is thine eye evil because I am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

MATTH. XX. 17—19.

And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.

and the third day he shall rise again.

MARK X. 32—34.

And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them: and they were amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him, saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles; and they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him:

LUKE XVIII. 31—34.

Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them,

Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished. For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on; and they shall scourge him, and put him to death; and the third day he shall rise

MATTHEW XX. 20—28.

²⁰ Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children, with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

²² But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able. And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but, to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

²³ And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren. But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them.

²⁴ But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant: even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

MARK X. 35—45.

And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall desire. And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you?

³⁶ They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory. But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized: but to sit on my right hand and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

³⁷ And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John. But Jesus calleth them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles, exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them. But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister; and whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all. For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

And Jesus stood still, and called them, and they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee. And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

And behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich. And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature. And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore-tree to see him; for he was to pass that way. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down: for to-day I must abide at thy house. And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner. And Zac-cheus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him four-fold. And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham.

For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear. He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come. But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us. And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading. Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds. And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities. And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds. And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities. And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin: for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow: wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?

And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds. (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.) For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath, shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him. But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem,

JOHN XI. 55—57. XII. 1, 9—11.

And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand: and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves. Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast? Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

XII. Then Jesus, six days before the passover, came to Bethany, where Lazarus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.—Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death; because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record. For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle. For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, ³⁴ and shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee: and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another: because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

MATTH. XXI.

¹⁰ And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, ¹¹ Who is this? And the multitude said, This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.—And the ¹² blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them. And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of ¹³ David; they were sore displeased, ¹⁴ and said unto him, Heardest thou what these say? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me. And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him? But if we shall say, Of men; they feared the people: for all men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed. And they answered and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.
- 26 And it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him, with the elders, and spake unto him, saying, Tell us, by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority? And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:

§ 116. Parable of the wicked Husbandmen —JERUSALEM.

Fourth Day of the Week.

MATTH. XXI. 33—46.

³³ Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine-press in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

³⁷ But last of all, he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

³⁸ And they caught him, and cast him out of

MARK XII. 1—12.

¹ And he began to speak unto them by parables: A certain man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and digged a place for the wine-fat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country. And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard. And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty. And again he sent unto them another servant: and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and ² sent him away shamefully handled. And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

³ Having yet therefore one son, his well-beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son. But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

⁴ And they took him, and killed him, and

⁵ cast him out of the vineyard, and

⁶ stoned him. And when the lord of the vineyard came, he will destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto other husbandmen.

⁷ And he began to say unto them, I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

⁹ So they cast him out of the vineyard, and

¹¹ And he began to say unto them, I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

LUKE XX. 9—19.

⁹ Then began he to speak to the people this parable: A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

¹¹ And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

¹³ Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

¹⁴ But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

¹⁵ So they cast him out of the vineyard, and ¹⁶ stoned him. And when the lord of the vineyard came, he will destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto other husbandmen.

¹⁷ And he began to say unto them, I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

§ 117. Parable of the Marriage of the King's Son.—JERUSALEM.

Fourth Day of the Week.

MATTH. XXII. 1—14.

¹ And Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said,
² The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage
³ for his son, and sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to ⁴ the wedding: and they would not come. Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come ⁵ unto the marriage. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to ⁶ his farm, another to his merchandise. And the remnant took his servants,

Then saith he to his servants, The ⁹ wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy. Go ye ¹⁰ therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage. So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

¹¹ And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which ¹² had not on a wedding garment: and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. ¹³ Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. § 118. Insidious question of the Pharisees: Tribute to Cesar.—JERUSALEM.

Fourth Day of the Week.

MATTH. XXII. 15—22.

¹⁵ Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk. ¹⁶ And they sent out unto him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cesar, or not? But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? Shew me the tribute-money. And they brought unto him a penny. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? They say unto him, Cesar's. MATTH. XXII. 23—33.

²³ The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him,

²⁴ 'saying, Master, Moses said,^a If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

²⁵ Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased; and having no issue, left his wife unto his brother. Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh. And last of all the woman died also.

JERUSALEM.

MATTH. XXII. 34—40.

³⁴ But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together. ³⁵ Then one of them which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, 'Master, which is the great commandment in the law? ³⁶ Jesus said unto him,^a 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and ³⁷ with all thy mind. § 121. How is Christ the Son of David?—JERUSALEM.

Fourth Day of the Week.

MATTH. XXII. 41—46.

MARK XII. 35—37.

LUKE XX. 41—44.

⁴¹ While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them.
⁴² 'saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David. He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying, 'The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool? If David then call him Lord, how is he his son? And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man, from that day forth, ask him any more questions.

³⁵ And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the son of David? For David himself said by the Holy Ghost, 'The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. David therefore himself calleth him Lord, and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

⁴¹ And he said unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son? And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, 'The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?

 4 them with one of their fingers. But all their works they do for to be seen of 5 men : they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their 6 garments, and love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in 7 the synagogues, and greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, 8 Rabbi, Rabbi. But be not ye called Rabbi : for one is your Master, even 9 Christ ; and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon the 10 earth : for one is your Father which is in heaven. Neither be ye called 11 masters : for one is your Master, even Christ. But he that is greatest among 12 you, shall be your servant. And whosoever shall exalt himself, shall be abased ; and he that shall humble himself, shall be exalted.

LUKE XX. 47.

14 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites ! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers : therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

40 Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers : these shall receive greater damna-
 tion.

47 Which devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers : the same shall receive greater damna-
 tion.

15 But wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites ! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men : for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that 16 are entering to go in. Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites ! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte ; and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the child of hell than yourselves.

17 Wo unto you, ye blind guides ! which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing ; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, 18 he is a debtor. Ye fools, and blind ! for whether is greater, the gold, or the 19 temple that sanctifieth the gold ? And whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing ; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is 20 guilty. Ye fools, and blind ! for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar
 21 that sanctifieth the gift ? Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, swear-22 eth by it, and by all things thereon. And whoso shall swear by the tem-23 ple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein. And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

24 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites ! for ye pay tithe of mint, and anise, and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith : these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat, and swallow a 25 camel. Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites ! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extor-
 26 tion and excess. Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites ! for ye are like unto whitened sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within MATTH. XXIII.

³² O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.^b For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.^c

MARK XII. 41—44.

LUKE XXI. 1—4.

⁴¹ And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.

⁴² And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two

⁴³ mites, which make a farthing. And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily,

I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury. For all they did cast in of their abundance: but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

² And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all. ³ For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

Fourth Day of the Week.

JOHN XII. 20—36.

And there were certain Greeks among them, that came up to worship at the feast. The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again, Andrew and Philip tell Jesus.

And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour. Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour. Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

The people therefore that stood by and heard it, said that it thundered. Others said, An angel spake to him. Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes. Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. (This he said, signifying what death he should die.) The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth forever; and how sayest thou, The son of man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of man? Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them.

Fourth Day of the Week.

JOHN XII. 37—50.

But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him: that the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him. Nevertheless, among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: for they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God. Jesus cried, and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but

And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not : for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him : the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day. For I have not spoken of myself ; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. § 127. Jesus, on taking leave of the Temple, foretells its destruction and the persecution of his Disciples.—JERUSALEM. MOUNT OF OLIVES.

Fourth Day of the Week.

MATTH. XXIV. 1—14.

1 And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple : and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things ? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.
2 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be ? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world ?
3 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ ; and shall deceive many.
4 And ye shall hear of wars, and rumours of wars : see that ye be not troubled : for all these things must come

MARK XIII. 1—13.

1 And as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones, and what buildings are here ! And Jesus answering, said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings ? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.
2 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, over against the temple, Peter, and John, and Andrew, asked him privately, ' Tell us, when shall these things be ? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled ? And Jesus answering them, began to say, Take heed lest any man deceive you : ' for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ ; and shall deceive many.
3 And when ye shall hear of wars, and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled : for such things must needs be ;

LUKE XXI. 5—19.

5 And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones, and gifts, he said, As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.
6 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be ? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass ? And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived : for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ ; and the time draweth near : go ye not therefore after them. But when ye shall hear of wars, and commotions, be not terrified : for these things must first

MARK XIII.

But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.—But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye; for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.

MATTH. XXIV.

Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake. And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another. And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world, for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

LUKE XXI.

But before all these they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake. And it shall turn to you for a testimony. Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer. For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist. And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.

But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.— And the gospel must first be published among all nations.

But there shall not an hair of your head perish. In your patience possess ye your souls.

¹⁹ And wo unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath-day: ²⁰ for then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days

²¹ shall be shortened. Then, if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here ²² is Christ, or there; believe it not. For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; inasmuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect. Behold, I have told you before. Then let them which are in Judea flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto. ²¹ For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

²² But wo unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people. LUKE XXI.

30 Immediately after the tribulation of those days, shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens 30 shall be shaken: ^a and then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

30 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light,

30 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

30 Now learn a parable of the fig-tree: When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh. So likewise ye, when ye shall see these things, know that it is near, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.

35 Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. But of that day shaken.^a And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud, with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads: for your redemption draweth nigh.

30 And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig-tree, and all the 30 trees; when they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.

32 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

MATTH. XXIV.

²⁷ But as the days of Noc were, so shall also the coming of the Son of § 129. Transition to Christ's final coming at the Day of Judgment. Exhortation to watchfulness. Parables: The Ten Virgins; The Five Talents.—MOUNT OF OLIVES.

Fourth Day of the Week.

MATTH. XXIV. 43—51. XXV. 1—30.

⁴² But know this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have ⁴³ suffered his house to be broken up. Therefore be ye also ready: for in ⁴⁴ such an hour as ye think not, the Son of man cometh. Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his house-⁴⁵ held, to give them meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his ⁴⁶ lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing. Verily I say unto you, that he ⁴⁷ shall make him ruler over all his goods. But and if that evil servant shall ⁴⁸ say in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming; ' and shall begin to smite ⁴⁹ his fellow-servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken; ' the lord of ⁵⁰ that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an ⁵¹ hour that he is not aware of, ' and shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

XXV. ¹ Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which ² took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. And five of them ³ were wise, and five were foolish. They that were foolish took their ⁴ lamps, and took no oil with them: ' but the wise took oil in their vessels
⁵ with their lamps. While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and

MATTH. XXV.

8 slept. And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom
9 cometh; go ye out to meet him. Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed 10 their lamps. And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil: for 11 our lamps are gone out. But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there 12 be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy 13 for yourselves. And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and 14 they that were ready, went in with him to the marriage: and the door was 15 shut. Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open 16 to us. But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you 17 not. Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour when the 18 Son of man cometh.

19 For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who 20 called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one 21 he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man 22 according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey. Then 23 he that had received the five talents, went and traded with the same, and 24 made them other five talents. And likewise he that had received two, he 25 also gained other two. But he that had received one, went and digged in 26 the earth, and hid his lord's money. After a long time the lord of those 27 servants cometh, and reckoneth with them. And so he that had received 28 five talents, came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliv-
29 erdest unto me five talents: behold, I have gained besides them five talents
30 more. His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant;
31 thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many 32 things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. He also that had received two 33 talents came, and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, 34 I have gained two other talents besides them. His lord said unto him, 35 Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few 36 things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of 37 thy lord. Then he which had received the one talent came, and said, Lord, 38 I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, 39 and gathering where thou hast not strewed: ' and I was afraid, and went 40 and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine. His lord 41 answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knew-42 est that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strewed:
43 ' thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then 44 at my coming I should have received mine own with usury. Take there-45 fore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.
46 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance:
47 but from him that hath not, shall be taken away even that which he hath.
48 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be 49 weeping and gnashing of teeth.

MATTH. XXV. 31—46.

31 When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels
32 with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: ' and before him 33 shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, 34 as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats: ' and he shall set the sheep 35 on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

MATTH. XXIV.

- ³⁶ Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: ' for I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: ' naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me. Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink? When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? ' or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.
- ⁴¹ Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: ' for I was an hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: ' I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee? Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

³ his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end. And supper being ended, (the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, ⁴ Simon's son, to betray him,) ⁵ Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God; ⁶ he riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments, and took a towel, and ⁷ girded himself. After that, he poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe ~~them~~ with the towel wherewith he was ⁸ girded. Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith unto him, Lord, ⁹ dost thou wash my feet? Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do ¹⁰ thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter. Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee ¹¹ not, thou hast no part with me. Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not ¹² my feet only, but also my hands and my head. Jesus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: ¹³ and ye are clean, but not all. For he knew who should betray him: therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

¹⁴ So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you? ¹⁵ Ye call me Master, and Lord: and ye say well: for so I am. If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one ¹⁶ another's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I ¹⁷ have done to you. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater ¹⁸ than his lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him. If ¹⁹ ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them. I speak not of you all; I know whom I have chosen; but that the scripture may be fulfilled,^a He ²⁰ that eateth bread with me, hath lifted up his heel against me. Now I tell ²¹ you before it come, that when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am ²² he. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send, ²³ receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

- ²⁴ And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

JOHN XIV. 1—31.

- ¹ Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.
- ² In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have
- ³ told you. I go to prepare a place for you. ' And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself; that where
- ⁴ I am, there ye may be also. And whither I go ye know, and the way ye
- ⁵ know. Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest;
- ⁶ and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and
- ⁷ the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.
- ⁸ Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.
- ⁹ Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me, hath seen the Father;
- ¹⁰ and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father? Believeest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you, I speak not of myself: but the Father, that dwelleth in me, he doeth the
- ¹¹ works. Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else
- ¹² believe me for the very works' sake. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater
- ¹³ works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.
- ¹⁴ ¹⁵ If ye love me, keep my commandments: ' and I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; ' even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth
- ¹⁶ with you, and shall be in you. I will not leave you comfortless: I will

- ¹⁸ see me: because I live, ye shall live also. At that day ye shall know that
- ¹⁹ I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me : and he that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. Judas saith unto him, (not Iscariot,) Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world? Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words : and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. He that loveth me not, keepeth not my sayings : and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you : not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father : for my Father is greater than I. And now I have told you before it come to pass, that when it is come to pass, ye might believe. Hereafter I will not talk much with you : for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me. But that the world may know that I love the Father ; and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

§ 139. Christ the true Vine. His Disciples hated by the World.—
JERUSALEM.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

JOHN XV. 1—27.

I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh away : and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine ; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches : he that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit : for without me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered ; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit ; so shall ye be my disciples. As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you : continue ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love ; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth I call you not servants ; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth : but I have called you friends ; for all things that I have heard of my Father, I have made known unto you. Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain : that whatsoever ye shall ask of the

JOHN XV.

- ²⁷ Father in my name, he may give it you. These things I command you, ²⁸ That ye love one another. If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me ²⁹ before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love his own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.
³⁰ Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you: if they ³¹ have kept my saying, they will keep yours also. But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent ³² me. If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but ³³ now they have no cloak for their sin. He that hateth me, hateth my Father ³⁴ also. If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen, and hated both me and ³⁵ my Father. But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that ³⁶ is written in their law,^a They hated me without a cause. But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit ³⁷ of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me. And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

§ 140. Persecution foretold. Further promise of the Holy Spirit. Prayer in the name of Christ.—JERUSALEM.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

JOHN XVI. 1—33.

- ¹ These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.
² They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that ³ whosoever killeth you, will think that he doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor ⁴ me. But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto ⁵ you at the beginning because I was with you. But now I go my way to ⁶ him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.
⁷ Nevertheless, I tell you the truth: It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if ⁸ I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will reprove ⁹ the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: 'of sin, because ¹⁰ they believe not on me; 'of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ¹¹ ye see me no more; 'of judgment, because the prince of this world is ¹² judged. I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them ¹³ now. Howbeit, when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall ¹⁴ hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come. He shall ¹⁵ glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you. All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take ¹⁶ of mine, and shall shew it unto you. A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.
¹⁷ Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little

JOHN XVI.

¹⁰ while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father? They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what ¹¹ he saith. Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?
¹² Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned ¹³ into joy. A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no
¹⁴ more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall ¹⁵ rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you. And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask ¹⁶ the Father in my name, he will give it you. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.
¹⁷ These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you
¹⁸ plainly of the Father. At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say ¹⁹ not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: ' for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out ²⁰ from God. I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father. His disciples said unto ²¹ him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb. Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ²² ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God. Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? ' behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now
²³ come, that ye shall be scattered every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer: I have overcome the world.

§ 141. Christ's last prayer with his Disciples.—JERUSALEM.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

JOHN XVII. 1—26.

¹ These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify
² thee: ' as thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give ³ eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou
⁴ hast sent. I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work
⁵ which thou gavest me to do. And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.
⁶ I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept
⁷ thy word. Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast
⁸ given me are of thee: ' for I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I
⁹ came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given ¹⁰ me; for they are thine. And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and ¹¹ I am glorified in them. And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we ²⁸ are. While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of ²⁹ perdition; that the scripture might be fulfilled.* And now come I to thee, and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled

³⁰ in themselves. I have given them thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. I ³¹ pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. They are not of the world, even as I ³² am not of the world. Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth. As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into ³³ the world. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

³⁴ Neither pray I for these alone; but for them also which shall believe on me through their word: 'that they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may ³⁵ believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one; 'I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

³⁶ Father, I will that they also whom thou hast given me be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory which thou hast given me: for thou ³⁷ lovedst me before the foundation of the world. O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known ³⁸ that thou hast sent me. And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

§ 142. The agony in Gethsemane.—MOUNT OF OLIVES.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

³⁶ And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. — Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.	³⁶ And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. — And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.	³⁶ And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him. And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.
		¹ When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

MATTH. XXVI.

MARK XIV.

²⁷ And he took with him Peter, and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy. Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me. And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

²⁸ And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy; and saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

LUKE XXII.

²⁹ And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him. And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.

³⁰ And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine, be done. And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him. And being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.

³¹ And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What! could ye not watch with me one hour? Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me except I drink it, thy will be done.

³² And he cometh, and findeth them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy. And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

³⁴ And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour? Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak. And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words. And when he returned, he found them asleep again, for their eyes were heavy; neither wist they what to answer him.

³⁵ And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow, and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

³⁶ And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

Then went out that other disciple which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and ²⁹ brought in Peter.—And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals; (for it was cold;) and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.—

§ 145. Jesus before Caiaphas and the Sanhedrim. He declares himself to be the Christ ; is condemned and mocked.—JERUSALEM.

Morning of the Sixth Day of the Week.

JOHN XVIII. 19—24.

¹⁹ The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.
²⁰ And Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world ; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort ; and in secret have I said nothing. Why askest thou me ? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them : behold, they know what I said. And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by, struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so ? Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil : but if well, why smitest thou me ? Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caia-

And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ the Son of God? Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless, I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy. ² What think ye? They answered and said, He is guilty of death. ³ Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and others smote him with the palms of their hands, saying, Prophecy unto us, thou Christ, Who is he that smote thee? ⁴ And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophecy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands. ⁵ And the men that held Jesus, mocked him, and smote him. And when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophecy, who is it that smote thee? And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

LUKE XXII.

Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God. Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, Ye say that I am. And they said, What need we any further witnesses? for we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.—

Sixth Day of the Week.

LUKE XXIII. 6—12.

- ° When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.
 ° And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself was also at Jerusalem at that time.
 ° And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him. Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing. And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him. And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.
 ° And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

- ° Now at that feast, the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would. And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.
 ° Therefore, when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus, which is called Christ?
 ° For he knew that for envy they had delivered him. When he was set down on the judgment-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream, because of him.
- ° I will therefore chastise him, and release him.
 ° For of necessity he must release one unto you at the feast.
 ° But ye have a custom that I should release unto you one at the passover.—
- ° And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection. And the multitude crying aloud, began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them. But Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy.
- ° Will ye therefore, that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

- ¹¹ But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas. Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.
- ¹² But the chief priests moved the people that he should rather release Barabbas unto them.
- ¹³ And they cried out all at once saying, Away with this man, but Barabbas, and release unto us Barabbas: who, for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison. Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them. But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him; I will therefore chastise him and let him go. And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them, and of the chief priests prevailed.
- ¹⁴ And Pilate answered, and said again unto them, What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews? And they cried out again, Crucify him. Then Pilate said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucify him.

MATTH. XXVII.

- ¹⁵ When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it. Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children.

JOHN XIX. 4—16.

⁴ Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him. Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And ⁵ Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man! When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him. The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

⁶ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid; and went again into the judgment-hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer. ⁷ Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not, that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee? Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend. Whosoever maketh himself a king, speaketh against Cesar.

⁸ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment-seat, in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha. And it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King! But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your king? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cesar. Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified —

And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself. ¹⁰ And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood. And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called The field of blood, unto this day. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, ^a And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value; ' and gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts? Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have. And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet. And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat? And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an honey-comb. And he took it, and did eat before them. And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me. Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures, and said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

JOHN XXI. 1—24.

After these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias: and on this wise
 2 shewed he himself. There were together Simon Peter and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and 3 two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing.
 They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered 4 into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing. But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore; but the disci-
 5 ples knew not that it was Jesus. Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, 6 have ye any meat? They answered, No. ' And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

JOHN XXI.

⁷ Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, for he was naked, and did cast himself into the sea.

⁸ And the other disciples came in a little ship (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits) dragging the net with fishes. As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread. Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught. Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet ¹² was not the net broken. ¹³ Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish ¹⁴ likewise. This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

¹⁵ So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord: thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. ¹⁶ He saith to him again the second time, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord: thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my ¹⁷ sheep. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry ¹⁸ thee whither thou wouldest not. This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

¹⁹ Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved, following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is ²⁰ he that betrayeth thee? Peter seeing him, saith to Jesus, Lord, and what ²¹ shall this man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me. ²² Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

²³ This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true.

NOTES

HARMONY OF THE FOUR GOSPELS.

INTRODUCTION.

THE following Notes relate chiefly to the mode and order of harmonizing the narratives of the four Evangelists; and touch only incidentally upon other topics. They do not claim, in any sense, to be a Commentary upon the Gospels.

The Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke, along with many diversities, have nevertheless a striking affinity with each other in their general features of time and place. But, when compared with John's Gospel, there is seen to be a diversity no less striking between them and the latter, not only in respect to chronology, but likewise as to the part of the country where our Lord's discourses and mighty works mainly occurred. Matthew, Mark, and Luke speak only of one Passover, that at which Jesus suffered; and from this it would follow, that our Lord's ministry continued at most only about six months. John expressly enumerates three Passovers, and more probably four, during Christ's ministry; which therefore must have had a duration of at least two and a half years, and more probably of three and a half. Again, Matthew, Mark, and Luke place the scene of Jesus' public ministrations chiefly in Galilee; whence he goes up to Jerusalem only just before his death. John, on the other hand, narrates the miracles and discourses of our Lord as occurring principally at Jerusalem, on various former occasions as well as at his last visit.

The apparent difficulty arising from the first difference, is at once set aside by the remark, that although the three Evangelists do expressly mention only one Passover, yet they do not any where, nor in any way, affirm, or even imply, that there were no more; while the testimony of John is express and definite. And further, the incident, narrated by all the three writers, of the disciples' plucking ripe ears of grain as they went through the fields, necessarily presupposes the recent occurrence of a Passover during our Lord's ministry, different from the one at which he suffered; and this is further confirmed by Luke's mention of the "second sabbath after the first" in the same connection. See Matth. 12, 1. Mark 2, 23. Luke 6, 1. See also the Note on § 37.

This difference being thus satisfactorily explained, the existence of the second difference is of course accounted for. If John is right in enumerating several Passovers, he is right in narrating what took place at Jerusalem on those occasions. But, more than this, we find in the other Evangelists several things in which they too seem to allude to earlier visits and labours of Jesus in the Holy City. So the language in which our Lord laments over Jerusalem, as having rejected his efforts, Matth. 23, 37. Luke 13, 34; and, further, his intimate relations with the family of Lazarus, which imply a longer acquaintance than a few weeks, Luke 10, 38, 39; comp. John 11, 1, 2.

For these reasons, I do not hesitate to follow, with most Commentators, the chronology of John's Gospel, and assign to our Lord's ministry four Passovers, or a duration of three and a half years. The second of these Passovers, which is less certain than the rest, and depends upon the interpretation of John 5, 1, will be considered in its place; see Note on § 36.

In view of the same circumstances, it follows also that the Gospel of John was intended to be supplementary to the others, and to narrate only such facts and events as had not been recorded by the other Evangelists. This, too, is manifest on the pages of the Harmony; since up to the last week of our Lord's life, the language of John is in only a single instance parallel to that of the other Gospels, viz. in the feeding of the five thousand, and the accompanying incidents; see §§ 64, 65.

The Gospels, and especially the first three, can in no sense be regarded as methodical annals. It is therefore difficult, and perhaps impossible, so to harmonize them, in respect to time, as in all cases to arrive at results which shall be entirely certain and satisfactory. There is often in them no definite note of time; and then we can proceed only upon conjecture, founded on a careful comparison of all the circumstances. In such cases, the decision must depend very much upon the judgment and taste of the Harmonist; and what to one person may appear probable and appropriate, may seem less so to another.

It is the aim of the present work, not so much to ascertain and exhibit the true chronological order, (although this object is not neglected,) as to place side by side the different narratives of the same events, in an order which may be regarded as at least a probable one. In so doing I may hope to exhibit the legitimate uses of a Harmony, and accomplish a three-fold purpose, viz. to make the Evangelists their own best interpreters; to show how wonderfully they are supplemental to each other in minute as well as important particulars; and in this way to bring out fully and clearly the fundamental characteristic of their testimony, UNITY IN DIVERSITY.

In the arrangement of the Harmony, made in accordance with the probable sequence of the events, and without ascribing any preference to the order of either Evangelist, this unexpected result has been brought out, viz. that the order of both Mark and John remains every where undisturbed; with the exception of four short passages in Mark and of three in John; in all which cases the reasons for a change of order are apparent. See Mark 2, 15-22, in § 58. Mark 6, 17-20, in § 24. Mark 14, 22-25, in § 137. Mark 14, 66-72, in § 144. John 12, 2-8, in § 131. John 18, 25-27, in § 144. John 20, 30, 31, in § 173. Besides these there are a few slight transpositions of single verses for the sake of closer parallelism; e. g. in §§ 112, 142, 153, etc.

PART I.

EVENTS CONNECTED WITH THE BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD OF OUR LORD.

§ 2. Zacharias was an ordinary priest of the class of Abia, one of the twenty-four classes instituted by David for the service of the temple, which relieved each other in succession every Sabbath; see 1 Chr. 24, 3-19. 2 Chr. 8, 14. Joseph. Ant. 7. 14. 7. Their service included the daily burning of incense on the altar of incense in the first or outer sanctuary; and this was what Zacharias was now doing; Luke 1, 9. Ex. 30, 6-8. 1 Chr. 23, 13.—It follows, that no inference whatever can hence be drawn as to the year, or season of the year, when the vision took place. Nor is it said how long a time elapsed between the vision and Elizabeth's conception; the expression "after those days" in v. 24 being quite indefinite.

§ 3. The sixth month here refers back, not to the vision, but to the conception of Elizabeth; see v. 36.

§ 4. The conjecture of Reland is probably correct, viz. that Juda in v. 39 is a softened form for Juta, i. e. Jutah or Juttah in Hebrew, a city of the priests in the mountains of Judah, south of Hebron; Josh. 15, 55. 21, 16. The place still exists under the same name. See Reland Palæst. p. 870. Bibl. Researches in Palest. II. p. 628.

§ 5. Mary remained with Elizabeth about three months, or nearly until the full time of the latter; and then returned to Nazareth; Luke 1, 56. It was after this and after the birth of John, when Mary was now in her fourth or fifth month, and her pregnancy had become perceptible, that Joseph was minded to put her away.

§ 6. The precise year of our Lord's birth is uncertain. Several data however exist, by which an approximation may be made, sufficiently accurate to show that our present Christian era is not entirely correct.

1. According to Matth. 2, 1-6, Jesus was born during the lifetime of Herod the Great, and not long before his death. Herod died in the year of Rome (A. U.) 750, just before the Passover; see Jos. Antiq. 17. 8. 1. ib. 17. 9. 3. This has been verified by calculating the eclipse of the moon, which happened just before his death; Jos. Ant. 17. 6. 4. Ideler Handb. of Chronol. II. p. 391 sq. If now we make an allowance of time for the purification, the visit of the Magi, the flight into Egypt, and the remaining there till Herod was dead,—for all which not less than six months can well be required,—it follows, that the birth of Christ cannot in any case be fixed later than the autumn of A. U. 749.

2. Another note of time occurs in Luke 3, 1. 2, where John the Baptist is said to have entered upon his ministry in the fifteenth year of Tiberius; and again in Luke 3, 23, where Jesus is said to have been "about thirty years of age" at his baptism. Now if both John and Jesus, as is quite probable, entered upon their ministry at the age of thirty, in accordance with the Levitical custom (Num. 4, 3. 35. 39. 43. 47), then, by reckoning back thirty years we may ascertain the year of John's birth, and of course also that of Jesus. Augustus died Aug. 29th, A. U. 767; and was succeeded by Tiberius, who had already been associated with him in the government for at least two years, and probably three. If now we reckon from the death of Augustus, the fifteenth year of Tiberius commenced Aug. 29th, A. U. 781; and going back thirty years, we find that John must have been born not earlier than August, A. U. 751, and our Lord of course not earlier than A. U. 752;—a result disagreeing with that obtained from Matthew by three years. If, on the other hand, we reckon from the time when Tiberius was admitted as co-regent of the empire, which is shown to have been certainly as early as A. U. 765, and probably in A. U. 764; then the fifteenth year of Tiberius began in A. U. 778, and it follows that John may have been born in A. U. 748, and our Lord in A. U. 749. In this way the results obtained from Matthew and Luke are more nearly coincident.

3. A third note of time is derived from John 2, 20, "Forty and six years was this temple in building." Josephus says, in one place, that Herod began to build the temple in the eighteenth year of his reign; while in another he specifies the fifteenth year; Ant. 15. 11. 1. B. J. 1. 21. 1. He also assigns the length of Herod's reign at thirty-seven or thirty-four years; according as he reckons from his appointment by the Romans, or from the death of Antigonus; Ant. 17. 8. 1. B. J. 1. 33. 8. Herod was first declared king of Judea in A. U. 714; Jos. Ant. 14. 14. 4, 5. B. J. 1. 14. 4. comp. Ant. 14. 16. 4. Ideler Handb. of Chron. II. p. 390. Hence the eighteenth year of his reign, when Herod began to rebuild the temple, would coincide with A. U. 732; and our Lord's first Passover, in the forty-seventh year following, would fall in A. U. 779. If now our Lord at that time was thirty and a half years of age, as is probable, this would carry back the year of his birth to the autumn of A. U. 748.

4. Further, according to a tradition preserved by the Latin Fathers of the first five centuries, our Lord's death took place during the consulate of the two Gemini, C. Rubellius and C. Fufius, that is, in A. U. 782. So Tertullian, Lactantius, Augustine, etc. See Tertull. adv. Jud. § 8. Augustin. de Civ. Dei XVII. 54. If now the duration of his ministry was three and a half years, then, as before, the year of his birth would be carried back to the autumn of A. U. 748.

5. Some modern writers, taking into account the abode in Egypt and also the "two years" of Matth. 2, 16, have supposed that Jesus must have been from two to three years old at Herod's death; and hence they assume that he was born in A. U. 747. The same year, A. U. 747, is also fixed upon as the date of Christ's birth, by those who regard the star in the east as having been the conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn, which occurred in that year. So Kepler, Münter, Ideler Handb. of Chronol. Berlin 1826.

From all these data it would appear, that while our Lord's birth cannot have taken place later than A. U. 749, it may nevertheless have occurred one or two years earlier.

The present Christian era, which was fixed by the abbot Dionysius Exiguus in the sixth century, assumes the year of Christ's birth as coincident with A. U. 754. It follows then from the preceding statements, that this our common era begins in any case more than four years too late; that is, from four to five years, at the least, after the actual birth of Christ. This era was first used in historical works by the Venerable Bede, early in the eighth century; and was not long after introduced in public transactions by the Frank kings Pepin and Charlemagne.

In respect to the time of the year when Jesus was born, there is still less certainty. John the Baptist would seem to have entered upon his ministry in the spring; perhaps when the multitudes were collected in Jerusalem at the Passover. The crowds which followed him imply that it was not winter. The baptism of Jesus in the Jordan, probably six months later, would then have occurred in autumn. It could not well have been in the winter, for John was still followed by crowds; nor does a winter seem to have intervened. If now we may assume, as is most probable, that John entered on his office when he had completed his thirtieth year; then the time of his birth was also the spring; and that of our Lord, six months later, was the autumn. Archbishop Newcome, referring to Lardner, has the following remark: "Jesus was born, says Lardner, between the middle of August and the middle of November, A. U. 748 or 749. We will take the mean time, October 1." See Lardner's Works, Vol. I. p. 370, 372. Lond. 1835.—There is, on this point, no valid tradition. According to the earliest accounts, the sixth of January, or Epiphany, was celebrated by the eastern churches. In the third and fourth centuries, as the festival of the birth and baptism of Jesus; Cassian. Collat. X. c. 2. In the western churches, after the middle of the fourth century, the twenty-fifth of December (Christmas) began to be kept as the festival of Christ's nativity; this day having been fixed upon, partly at least, as being the then current winter solstice. Thus, as late as the time of pope Leo the Great, (ob. 461,) there were many in Rome, "by whom this day of solemnity was regarded as honourable, not so much on account of the nativity of Christ, as because of the rising of the new sun, as they called it." Leon. Magn. Sermon. XXI. c. 6. See the Church Hist. of Neander, Vol. I; also that of Gieseler, Vol. I. The observance of this latter festival (Christmas) spread into the East; while that of the Epiphany, as the baptismal day, was adopted in the West.

§ 10. The visit of the Magi at Bethlehem naturally follows the presentation in the temple; since, after the jealousy of Herod had been once roused, this public presentation could not well have taken place. Joseph and Mary return from Jerusalem to Bethlehem, distant five English miles, where they had now been detained for nearly two months. Luke indeed does not allude to this return (2, 39); but neither does he mention the flight into Egypt.

§ 13. The genealogy in Luke is inverted, for the sake of more convenient comparison. The words "which was the son," so often repeated in the English Version, is an addition by the translators merely to fill out the connection.

I. In the genealogy given by Matthew, considered by itself, some difficulties present themselves.

1. There is some diversity among commentators in making out the three divisions, each of fourteen generations, v. 17. It is, however, obvious, that the first division begins with Abraham and ends with David. But does the second begin with David, or with Solomon? Assuredly with the former; because, just as the first begins from Abraham, so the second also is said to begin from

David. The first extends to David, and includes him; the second extends until the carrying away into Babylon, i.e. to an epoch and not to a person; and therefore the persons who are mentioned as coeval with this epoch (about the time of the carrying away, v. 11), are not reckoned before it. After the epoch the enumeration begins again with Jeconiah, and ends with Jesus. In this way the three divisions are made out thus:

1. Abraham.	1. David.	1. Jeconiah.
2. Isaac.	2. Solomon.	2. Salathiel.
3. Jacob.	3. Roboam.	3. Zorobabel.
4. Judah.	4. Abiah.	4. Abiud.
5. Phares.	5. Asa.	5. Eliakim.
6. Esrom.	6. Josaphat.	6. Azor.
7. Aram.	7. Joram.	7. Sadoc.
8. Aminadab.	8. Uzziah (Ozias).	8. Achim.
9. Naasson.	9. Jotham.	9. Eliud.
10. Salmon.	10. Ahaz.	10. Eleazar.
11. Boaz.	11. Hezekiah.	11. Matthan.
12. Obed.	12. Manasseh.	12. Jacob.
13. Jesse.	13. Amon.	13. Joseph.
14. David.	14. Josiah.	14. Jesus.

2. Another difficulty arises from the fact, that between Joram and Ozias, in v. 8, three names of Jewish kings are omitted, viz. Ahaziah, Joash, and Amariah; see 2 K. 8, 25 and 2 Chr. 22, 1.—2 K. 11, 2. 21 and 2 Chr. 22, 11.—2 K. 12, 21. 14, 1 and 2 Chr. 24, 27. Further, between Josiah and Jeconiah in v. 11, the name of Jehoiakim is also omitted; 2 K. 23, 34. 2 Chr. 36, 4. comp. 1 Chr. 3, 15. 16. If these four names are to be reckoned, then the second division, instead of fourteen generations, will contain eighteen, in contradiction to v. 17. To avoid this difficulty, Newcome and some others have regarded v. 17 as a mere gloss, "a marginal note taken into the text." This indeed is in itself possible; yet all the external testimony of manuscripts and versions is in favour of the genuineness of that verse. It is better therefore to regard these names as having been customarily omitted in the current genealogical tables, from which Matthew copied. Such omissions of particular generations did sometimes actually occur, "because they were wicked and impious," according to the Rabbins; see Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on Matth. 1, 8. A striking example of an omission of this kind, apparently without any such reason, is found in Ezra 7, 1-5, compared with 1 Chr. 6, 3-15. This latter passage contains the lineal descent of the high priests from Aaron to the captivity; while Ezra, in the place cited, in tracing back his own genealogy through the very same line of descent, omits at least six generations. The two accounts stand thus:

1 Chr. 6, 3-15.	Ezra 7, 1-5.	1 Chr. 6, 3-15.	Ezra 7, 1-5.
1. Aaron.	Aaron.	13. Azariah.	Azariah.
2. Eleazar.	Eleazar.	14. Johanan.	Amariah.
3. Phinehas.	Phinehas.	15. Azariah.	Ahitub.
4. Abishua.	Abishua.	16. Amariah.	Zadok.
5. Bukki.	Bukki.	17. Ahitub.	Shallum.
6. Uzzi.	Uzzi.	18. Zadok.	Hilkiah.
7. Zerachiah.	Zerachiah.	19. Shallum.	Azariah.
8. Meraioth.	Meraioth.	20. Hilkiah.	Seraiah.
9. Amariah.		21. Azariah.
10. Ahitub.		22. Seraiah.
11. Zadok.		23. Jehozadak.
12. Ahimaaz.		24.	Ezra.

A similar omission is necessarily implied in the genealogy of David, as given Ruth 4, 20-22. 1 Chr. 2, 10-12. Matth. 1, 5. 6. Salmon was cotemporary with the capture of Jericho by Joshua, and married Rahab. But from that time until David, an interval of at least four hundred and fifty years (Acts 13, 20), there intervened, according to the list, only four generations, averaging of course more than one hundred years to each. But the highest average in point of fact is three generations to a century; and if reckoned by the eldest sons they are usually shorter, or three generations for every seventy-five or eighty years. See Sir I. Newton's Chronol. p. 53. Lond. 1728.

We may therefore rest in the necessary conclusion, that as our Lord's regular descent from David was always asserted, and was never denied even by the Jews; so Matthew, in tracing this admitted descent, appealed to genealogical tables, which were public and acknowledged in the family and tribe from which Christ sprang. He could not indeed do otherwise. How much stress was laid by the Jews upon lineage in general, and how much care and attention were bestowed upon such tables, is well known. See Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on Matth. 1, 1. In the N. T. also, see Phil. 3, 4. 5.

II. Other questions of some difficulty present themselves, when we compare together the two genealogies.

1. Both tables at first view purport to give the lineage of our Lord through Joseph. But Joseph cannot have been the son by natural descent of both Jacob and Heli (Eli), Matth. 1, 16. Luke 3, 23. Only one of the tables therefore can give his true lineage by generation. This is done apparently in that of Matthew; because, beginning at Abraham, it proceeds by natural descent, as we know from history, until after the exile; and then continues on in the same mode of expression until Joseph. Here the phrase is changed; and it is no longer Joseph who "begat" Jesus, but Joseph "the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus who is called Christ."

2. To whom then does the genealogy in Luke chiefly relate? If in any way to Joseph, as the language purports, then it must be because he in some way bore the legal relation of son to Heli, either by adoption or by marriage. If the former simply, it is difficult to comprehend, why, along with his true personal lineage as traced by Matthew up through the royal line of Jewish kings to David, there should be given also another subordinate genealogy, not personally his own, and running back through a different and inferior line to the same great ancestor. If, on the other hand, as is most probable, this relation to Heli came by marriage with his daughter, so that Joseph was truly his son-in-law (comp. Ruth 1, 8. 11. 12); then it follows, that the genealogy in Luke is in fact that of Mary the mother of Jesus. This being so, we can perceive a sufficient reason, why this genealogy should be thus given, viz. in order to show definitely, that Jesus was in the most full and perfect sense a descendant of David; not only by law in the royal line of kings through his reputed father, but also in fact by direct personal descent through his mother.

That Mary, like Joseph, was a descendant of David, is not indeed elsewhere expressly said in the New Testament. Yet a very strong presumption to that effect is to be drawn from the address of the angel in Luke 1, 32; as also from the language of Luke 2, 5, where Joseph, as one of the posterity of David, is said to have gone up to Bethlehem to enrol himself with Mary his espoused wife; for this is the meaning of the Greek. The ground and circumstances of Mary's enrolment must obviously have been the same as in the case of Joseph himself. Whether all this arose from her having been an only child and heiress, as some suppose, so that she was espoused to Joseph in accordance with Num. 36, 8, 9, it is not necessary here to inquire.

It is indeed objected, that it was not customary among the Jews to trace back descent through the female line, i. e. on the mother's side. There are however examples to show that this was sometimes done; and in the case of Jesus, as we have seen, there was a sufficient reason for it. Thus in 1 Chr. 2, 22, Jair is enumerated among the posterity of Judah by regular descent. But the grandfather of Jair had married the daughter of Machir, one of the heads of Manasseh, 1 Chr. 2, 21, 7, 14; and therefore, in Num. 32, 40, 41, Jair is called the son (descendant) of Manasseh. In like manner, in Ezra 2, 61 and Neh. 7, 63, a certain family is spoken of as "the children of Barzillai;" because their ancestor "took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name."

3. A question is raised as to the identity, in the two genealogies, of the Salathiel and Zorobabel named as father and son, Matth. 1, 12. Luke 3, 27. The Zorobabel of Matthew is no doubt the chief, who led back the first band of captives from Babylon, and rebuilt the temple, Ezra c. 2-6. He is also called the son of Salathiel in Ezra 3, 2. Neh. 12, 1. Hagg. 1, 1, 2, 2, 23. Were then the Salathiel and Zorobabel of Luke the same persons? Those who assume this, must rest solely on the identity of the names; for there is no other possible evidence to prove, either that they were cotemporary, or that they were not different persons. On the other hand, there are one or two considerations, of some force, which go to show that they were probably not the same persons.

First, if Salathiel and Zorobabel are indeed the same in both genealogies, then Salathiel, who according to Matthew was the son of Jechoniah by natural descent, must have been called the son of Neri in Luke either from adoption or marriage. In that case, his connection with David through Nathan, as given by Luke, was not his own personal genealogy. It is difficult therefore to see, why Luke, after tracing back the descent of Jesus to Salathiel, should abandon the true personal lineage in the royal line of kings, and turn aside again to a merely collateral and humbler line. If the mother of Jesus was in fact descended from the Zorobabel and Salathiel of Matthew, she, like them, was descended also from David through the royal line. Why rob her of this dignity, and ascribe to her only a descent through an inferior lineage?

Again, the mere identity of names under these circumstances, affords no proof; for nothing is more common in Scripture, even among cotemporaries. Thus we have two Ezras; one in Neh. 12, 1. 13, 33; from whom Ezra the scribe is expressly distinguished in v. 36. We have likewise two Nehemiahs; one who went up with Zorobabel, Ezra 2, 2; and the other the governor who went later to Jerusalem, Neh. 2, 9 sq. So too, as cotemporaries, Joram son of Ahab king of Israel, and Joram (Jehoram) son of Jehoshaphat king of Judah; 2 K. 8, 16. comp. v. 23, 24. Also, Joash king of Judah and Joash king of Israel; 2 K. 13, 9, 10. Further we find in succession among the descendants of Cain the following names: Enoch, Irad, Methusael, Lamech, Gen. 4, 17, 18; and later among the descendants of Seth these similar ones: Enoch, Methuselah, Lamech, Gen. 5, 21-25.

Various artificial theories of inheritances and intermarriages have at different times been proposed, in order to explain and harmonize the two genealogies. But in the view here taken all these become unnecessary. See Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on Luke 3, 23.

PART II.

ANNOUNCEMENT AND INTRODUCTION OF OUR LORD'S PUBLIC MINISTRY.

§§ 14—20.

§ 14. For the time when John the Baptist entered upon his public ministry, see Note on § 7. p. 169.—On Matth. 3, 11 and the parallel passages, see the next Note.

§ 15. For the time of our Lord's baptism, see Note on § 7.—We may here, once for all, make a remark upon the difference of the words from heaven, as quoted Matth. 3, 17 and the parallel passages. A like difference is seen in the four copies of the title on the cross, Matth. 27, 37. Mark 15, 26. Luke 23, 38. John 19, 19. And still more, in the solemn words of our Lord at the institution of the cup, Matth. 26, 28. Mark 14, 24. Luke 22, 20. 1 Cor. 11, 25. Similar varieties of expression in the different reports of the same language are found in the following passages, as well as very many others: Matth. 3, 11. Mark 1, 7. Luke 3, 16. John 1, 27.—Matth. 9, 11. Mark 5, 16. Luke 5, 30.—Matth. 15, 27. Mark 7, 28.—Matth. 16, 6—9. Mark 8, 17—19.—Matth. 20, 33. Mark 10, 51. Luke 18, 41.—Matth. 21, 9. Mark 11, 9. Luke 19, 38.—Matth. 26, 39. Mark 14, 36. Luke 22, 42.—Matth. 28, 5. 6. Mark 16, 6. Luke 24, 5. 6.—All these examples go only to show, that where the Evangelists profess to record the expressions used by our Lord and others, they usually give them according to the sense, and not according to the letter; and this must be regarded as a general principle of interpretation in the Gospels and elsewhere.

§ 16. That the temptation of Jesus took place directly after his baptism, appears from the word "immediately" in Mark 1, 12; and also from a comparison of John 1, 29. 35. 44.—According to Mark and Luke, Jesus was subjected to temptation during the forty days. Matthew and Luke specify three instances of temptation, but in a different order. One of these apparently must have occurred at the end of the forty days. The order of Matthew is perhaps the most natural of the two; though, as the accounts were probably derived from the recital of our Lord himself, given at various times, in his intercourse with his disciples, the true order may have been different from either.

§ 18. In v. 21 the Baptist declares that he was not Elias; meaning that he was not Elias risen from the dead. In Matth. 17, 12 Jesus says that "Elias is come already;" meaning that John had come "in the spirit and power of Elias;" Luke 1, 17.

In v. 33, John the Baptist says he knew not Jesus; though in Matth. 3, 14:

(§ 15) he appears to have known who he was. That is to say: John must have been acquainted with the events of his own childhood and that of Jesus; he had now come preaching and baptizing as his forerunner, v. 31; but he knew not Jesus personally before he came to be baptized; at which time God had promised him a sign, by which he might know certainly that Jesus was the Messiah.

§ 20. The third day refers back to John 1, 44. The journey in returning to Galilee did not require more than two days; the distance being, in any position of Bethabara, not over about fifty miles. Cana, now Kâna el-Jelil, was situated about seven miles north of Nazareth, and about three miles N. by E. of Sephoris; see Bibl. Res. in Palest. III. p. 204.

PART III.

OUR LORD'S FIRST PASSOVER, AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL THE SECOND.

§ 21. This our Lord's first Passover is mentioned only by John; though the language of the other Evangelists implies, that he had been again in Judea; Matth. 4, 12. Mark 1, 14.

John connects with this first Passover the cleansing of the temple and the casting out of the traders; while the other Evangelists describe a like transaction at his last Passover, Matth. 21, 12 sq. Mark 11, 15 sq. Luke 19, 45 sq. The question is raised, whether these were different transactions; and whether there is not here a neglect of the order of time, either by John or in the other Gospels. As the language and the note of time in all the Evangelists in respect to both the instances, is entirely definite and specific, the answer may be said to depend upon a further question, viz. Whether our Lord would be likely to repeat a highly symbolic and important public act, after an interval of two or three years? That he was accustomed to repeat the substance of his discourses, or at least the more striking parts of them, at different times and before different persons, is sufficiently obvious. Compare Luke 11, 37-54 uttered in Galilee, with Matth. 23, 1-39 delivered at Jerusalem; likewise Matth. 5, 13 in the Sermon on the Mount, with Mark 9, 50 and Luke 14, 34. 35, spoken elsewhere; and also the different examples of the Lord's prayer, Matth. 6, 9-13. Luke 11, 2-4. Further, Matth. 5, 29. 30 compared with Mark 9, 43-47; and Matth. 6. 25-33, with Luke 12, 22-31. Such examples indeed may be multiplied almost indefinitely, as the pages of the Harmony every where show. Now if this is true in respect to the discourses of Christ, why might he not just as well have repeated, after a long interval and before different persons, a public symbolical act, so significant in itself, and so expressive of his character and authority as the Messiah? The Jews, it seems, did not question his right to perform such an act, provided he was a true prophet. They only demanded some sign of his authority; John 2, 18. This Jesus gave, and had already given in his mighty works, wrought at the same Passover, v. 23; works which drew from Nicodemus, a Pharisee and a member of the Sanhedrim, the admission, that he was "a teacher come from God;" John 3, 2.

On the "three days" in John 2, 20; see Note on § 49.

§§ 23, 24. The order is here determined by comparing John, 3, 24 with Matth. 4, 12. Mark 1, 14. Jesus goes out with his disciples from Jerusalem into the country of Judea; where he remains until after John was cast into prison. See the next Note.

§ 25. John 4, 35 contains a specification of time which is tolerably definite: "Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest?" According to Lev. 23, 5-7. 10. 11. 14. 15, and Jos. Antiq. 3. 10. 5, the first-fruits of the barley-harvest were presented on the second day of the paschal week; while the wheat harvest was two or three weeks later; see Bibl. Res. in Palest. II. p. 99 sq. Hence this journey of our Lord must have been made in the latter part of November or in December, about eight months after the preceding Passover. It follows, that the public ministry of John the Baptist had continued for at least a year and six months, before his imprisonment; that is to say, on the supposition that he commenced his labours about the time of the Passover in the preceding year. See Note on § 7, last paragraph.

§ 28. The visit to Nazareth is inserted here on the testimony of Luke 4, 16 sq. which is supported by Matth. 4, 13. The visit mentioned in Matth. 13, 54 sq. Mark 6, 1 sq. was later, and took place after the raising of Jairus' daughter.

Our Lord's escape from the crowd, Luke 4, 30, does not seem necessarily to imply any thing directly supernatural; see the similar circumstances narrated, John 8, 59. 10, 39.

§ 29. That the call of the four Apostles belongs here, in accordance with Mark's order, is obvious; since they were afterwards present with Jesus at the healing of the demoniac and of Peter's wife's mother, §§ 30, 31.—The three accounts all evidently relate to the same transaction. Luke relates more particularly the former part, including the putting off upon the lake in Simon's boat and also the miraculous draught of fishes; and passes lightly over the latter part. Matthew and Mark, on the other hand, narrate the former part only generally; but the latter part with more detail. In the one part, Luke introduces circumstances which the others omit; in the other part, Matthew and Mark mention facts which Luke has not noted. The remark of Spanheim is here just: "The facts narrated by Luke are not contradicted by Matthew, but only passed over. Nothing is more common than that circumstances omitted by one, should be supplied by another; lest the sacred writers should seem to have written by compact, or lest the readers should cleave to one and neglect the others." Dubia Evang. Tom. III. Dub. 72. vii.

PART IV.

OUR LORD'S SECOND PASSOVER, AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL THE THIRD.

§§ 36—66.

§ 36. In John 5, 2, the marginal reading of the English version is adopted, viz. "sheep gate" instead of "sheep market." We know there was such a gate, Neh. 3, 1, 12, 39; but there is no mention of such a market.

On the phrase "a feast [festival] of the Jews," John 5, 1, turns mainly the question as to the duration of our Lord's public ministry. John notes distinctly three Passovers; John 2, 13, 6, 4, 12, 1. If now this festival be another Passover, then our Lord's public labours continued during three and a half years; if not, then the time of his ministry must in all probability be reckoned one year less.

The only reasonable ground of doubt in this case, is the absence (in the Greek) of the definite article before the word signifying feast, or rather festival. Did the text read "the feast of the Jews," (as is actually the case in some Manuscripts and Editions,) then, as most admit, it would with sufficient definiteness denote the Passover; comp. Matth. 26, 5. Luke 2, 42. John 4, 45, 11, 56, etc. At any rate, even as the text now stands, it may assuredly in itself just as well denote the great Jewish festival, as any other. The following considerations seem to show, that it does most probably thus stand for a Passover, viz. the second in our Lord's public ministry.

1. The same word without the article is put definitely for the Passover, in the phrase "at the feast," where our English version from necessity inserts the or that, Matth. 27, 15. Mark 15, 6. Luke 23, 17. Comp. John 18, 39.

2. It is not probable, that John means here to imply that the festival was indefinite or uncertain. Such is not his usual manner. The Jewish festivals were to him the measures of time; and in every other instance they are definitely specified. So the Passover, John 2, 23, 12, 1; even when Jesus does not visit it, 6, 4; and also when it is expressed only by the feast, 4, 45, 11, 56, 12, 20. So too the festival of Tabernacles, 7, 2; and of the Dedication, 10, 22. This is all natural in him; for an indefinite festival could afford no note of time.

3. The plucking of the ears of grain by the disciples (§ 37 and Note), shows that a Passover had just been kept; which tallies accurately with this visit of our Lord to Jerusalem.

4. This feast could not have been the festival either of Pentecost or of Tabernacles next following our Lord's first Passover. He returned from Judea to Galilee not until eight months after that Passover, when both these festivals were already past; see Note on § 25.—That it might by possibility have been the Pentecost after a second Passover not mentioned, and before that in John 6, 4, cannot perhaps be fully disproved; but such a view has in itself no probability, and is apparently entertained by no one. At any rate it also would give the same duration of three and a half years to our Lord's ministry.

5. Nor can we well understand here the festival of Purim, which occurred on the fourteenth and fifteenth of the month Adar (March), one month before the Passover; see Esth. 9, 21. 22. 26-28. Against this the following considerations present themselves: (a) The Jews did not go up to Jerusalem to celebrate the festival of Purim. The observance of it among that people throughout the world, consisted solely in reading the Book of Esther in their synagogues on those days, and making them "days of fasting and joy, and of sending portions [dishes] one to another, and gifts to the poor;" Esth. 9, 22. Jos. Ant. 11. 6. 13. But the "multitude," John 5, 13, seems to imply a concourse of strangers at one of the great festivals.—(b) It is very improbable, that Jesus would have gone up to Jerusalem at the Purim, to which the Jews did not go up, rather than at the Passover, which occurred only a month later. His being once present at the festival of Dedication (John 10, 22) is not a parallel case; since he appears not to have gone up for that purpose, but this festival occurred while he remained in or near Jerusalem after the festival of Tabernacles, John 7, 2 sq.—(c) The infirm man was healed on the Sabbath, John 5, 9; which Sabbath belonged to the festival, as the whole context shows, John 5, 1. 2. 10-13. But the Purim was never celebrated on a Sabbath; and, when it happened to fall on that day, was regularly deferred; see Reland Antiq. Heb. IV. 9.

6. The main objection urged against taking this festival as a Passover, is the circumstance, that in such case, as our Lord did not go up to the Passover spoken of in John 6, 4, but only at the subsequent festival of Tabernacles in John 7, 2 sq. he would thus have absented himself from Jerusalem for a year and six months; a neglect, it is alleged, inconsistent with his character and with a due observance of the Jewish law. But a sufficient reason is assigned for this omission, viz. "because the Jews sought to kill him," John 7, 1. comp. 5, 18. It obviously had been our Lord's custom to visit the Holy City every year at the Passover; and because, for the reason assigned, he once let this occasion pass by, he therefore went up six months afterwards at the festival of Tabernacles. All this presents a view perfectly natural; and covers the whole ground. Nor have we any right to assume, as many do, that our Lord regularly went up to Jerusalem on other occasions, besides those specified in the New Testament.

In this instance, the most ancient view is that which interprets the festival as a Passover. So Irenæus in the third century; and the same view was adopted by Eusebius, Theodoret, and others; and in later times has been followed by Luther, Scaliger, Grotius, Le Clerc, Lampe, Hengstenberg, etc. Cyril and Chrysostom held to a Pentecost; and so, in modern times, Erasmus, Calvin, Beza, Bengel, etc. The festival of Purim was first suggested by Keppler; and at the present day this is the only view, aside from the Passover, that finds advocates. Those who hold it, as Hug, Neander, Ols-hausen, Tholuck, Meyer, (Lücke and De Wette leave the question undecided,) regard John 6, 4 as having reference to the second Passover during our Lord's ministry; which latter thus becomes limited to two and a half years.

§ 37. The circumstances here narrated show that a Passover had just been celebrated; see Note on § 25. The phrase "second sabbath after the first" in

Luke 6, 1, is more properly translated "the second-first sabbath," and was probably a sort of proper name for the first Sabbath after the second day of the Passover or of unleavened bread; that is, the first of the seven Sabbaths reckoned between that day and Pentecost; see the Greek Lexicons, also Scaliger Emendat. Tempp. VI. 557. Our Lord would seem to have hastened away from Jerusalem; for which a reason is found in John 5, 16. 18.

§ 40. The appointment of the Twelve follows here according to Mark and Luke. Matthew gives their names in c. 10, 24, as having been already appointed. Lebbeus, called also Thaddeus by Matthew and Mark, is the same as Jude the brother of James in Luke. The epithet Zelotes, Zealot, is the Greek translation of the Hebrew word, Cananite, Zealot. Nathaniel, who is mentioned with the Apostles in John 21, 2, was probably the same as Bartholomew, who elsewhere also is coupled with Philip; see John 1, 45 sq.

§ 41. The Sermon on the Mount finds its proper place here, in accordance with the order of Luke. The correctness of this order, so far as it respects Matthew, depends on the question: Whether the discourse as reported by the two Evangelists is one and the same, and was delivered on the same occasion? The question is answered at the present day by interpreters, with great unanimity, in the affirmative; and mainly for the following reasons.

1. The choice of the Twelve by our Lord, as his ministers and witnesses, furnished an appropriate occasion for this public declaration respecting the spiritual nature of his kingdom, and the life and character required of those who would become his true followers. Luke expressly assigns this as the occasion; and although Matthew is silent here and elsewhere as to the selection of the Apostles, yet some passages of the discourse as reported by him, seem to presuppose their previous appointment as teachers; see Matth. 5, 13. 14. 7, 6.

2. The beginning and the end of both discourses, and the general course of thought in both, exhibit an entire accordance one with the other.

3. The historical circumstances which follow both discourses are the same, viz. the entrance into Capernaum and the healing of the Centurion's servant.

The main objection which has been felt and urged against the identity of the two discourses, is the fact, that Matthew's report contains much that is not found in Luke; while, on the other hand, Luke adds a few things not found in Matthew, as vv. 24-26. 38-40. 45; and, further, his expressions are often modified and different, as in vv. 20. 29. 35. 36. 43. 44. 46. But this objection vanishes, if we look at the different objects which the two Evangelists had in view. Matthew was writing chiefly for Hebrew Christians; and it was therefore important for him to bring out, in full, the manner in which our Lord enforced the spiritual nature of his dispensation and doctrine, in opposition to the mere letter of the Jewish law and the teaching and corrupt practice of the Scribes and Pharisees. This he does particularly, and with many examples, in Matth. 5, 18-38. 6, 1-34. Luke, on the contrary, was writing mainly for Gentile Christians; and hence he omits the long passages of Matthew above referred to, and dwells only upon those topics which are of practical importance to all, whether Jew or Gentile. In other respects, the discourses, as given by the two writers, do not differ more than is elsewhere often the case in different reports of the same discourse. Compare Matth. 24, 1-42 with Mark 13, 1-37 and Luke 21, 5-36; also Matth. 23, 5-8 with Mark 16, 6-8 and Luke 24, 5-8. See also Note on § 15.

Some, in order to avoid the like difficulty, have supposed that our Lord first held the longer discourse in Matthew before his disciples on the top of the mountain; and afterwards descended and delivered the same in the briefer form of Luke to the multitudes below. But this is unnecessary; and the order of circumstances would seem rather to have been the following: Our Lord retires to the mountain and chooses the Twelve; and with them descends to the multitudes on the level place or plain, where he heals many. (§ 40.) As they press upon him, he again ascends to a more elevated spot, where he can overlook the crowds and be heard by them; and here, seating himself with the Twelve around him, he addresses himself to his disciples in particular and to the multitudes in general. See Matth. 5, 1. 2. Luke 6, 20; also Matth. 7, 28. Luke 7, 1.

The mountain where these events took place, was doubtless some part of the high ground on the west of the Lake of Tiberias, not far from Capernaum. The Romish church has the tradition, that the singular hill called Tell Hattin, or Kürün Hattin, was the spot; and that hill is hence known to travellers as the Mount of Beatitudes. But this eminence is seven or eight miles distant from the probable site of Capernaum; which seems inconsistent with Matth. 8, 5. Luke 7, 1. And further, this tradition is current only among foreign Latin monks, and cannot be traced back, even among them, beyond the twelfth century; while Christians of the Greek church, which has been native upon the soil from the earliest centuries, know nothing of it; and have indeed no tradition whatever connected with the Sermon on the Mount. See Bibl. Researches in Palestine, III. p. 240.

In Matth. 6, 1, p. 34, the marginal reading of the English version is inserted in the text, viz. "righteousness" instead of "alms." This is in accordance with all the critical editions of the Greek Testament, and also with the context; for the word "righteousness" is here general, including the subsequent specifications of alms v. 2, prayer v. 5, and fasting v. 16.

§ 42. In Matthew, the Centurion seems to come in person to Jesus; in Luke, he sends the elders of the Jews. This diversity is satisfactorily explained by the old law-maxim: Qui facit per alium, facit per se, "What one does by another, he does himself." Matthew narrates briefly; Luke gives the circumstances more fully. In like manner, in John 4, 1, Jesus is said to baptize, when he did it by his disciples. In John 19, 1, and elsewhere, Pilate is said to have scourged Jesus; certainly not with his own hands. In Mark 10, 35, James and John come to Jesus with a certain request; in Matth. 20, 20, it is their mother who prefers the request. In 2 Sam. 24, 1, God moves David to number Israel; in 1 Chr. 21, 1, it is Satan who provokes him.

§ 44. Matthew places this narrative after the sending out of the Twelve, Matth. 11, 1. 2. This appears to be too late; for, during the absence of the Twelve, John was beheaded; see Mark 6, 30. Matth. 14, 13. The order of Luke is therefore retained. Our Lord was probably at or near Capernaum; comp. § 45.

§ 48. The order of Mark is here resumed, who places these transactions next after the appointment of the Twelve, omitting the Sermon on the Mount and other intervening matters. The narrative of Luke is obviously parallel; although given by him in a different place and order. See in Introd. Note to Part VI. p. 185.

§ 49. The specification in Matth. 12, 40, that Jesus should be "three days and three nights" in the sepulchre, seems at first view not to harmonize with the accounts of his burial and resurrection. From these latter it appears, that he was laid in the tomb before sunset on the sixth day of the week or Friday, and rose quite early on the first day of the week or Sunday; having lain in the grave not far from thirty-six hours. See §§ 159, 160, and Notes. This accords with the usual formula which our Lord employed in speaking of his resurrection, viz. that "he should rise on the third day;" Matth. 16, 21. 20, 19. Mark 9, 31. 10, 34. Luke 9, 22. 18, 33. etc. Equivalent to this is also the expression, "after three days I will rise again," Math. 27, 63. Mark 8, 31. John 2, 19. etc. This latter idiom is found also in John 20, 26, where eight days is put for a week. So too in German, the expression: nach drey Tagen, "after three days," is always the same as: am dritten Tage, "on the third day," the day after to-morrow; and acht Tage, "eight days," is the more common phrase instead of eine Woche, "a week."

In the present instance, Matth. 12, 40, the apparent difficulty arises from the form of the expression "three days and three nights," which our Lord uses here, and here alone, because he is quoting from Jonah 1, 17. The phrase "day and night" doubtless in itself implies a day and night of twenty-four hours. But the Hebrew form of expression for three days and three nights, was likewise used generally and indefinitely for three days simply; as is obvious from 1 Sam. 30, 11. 12 (compared with v. 13), and from the circumstances there narrated. Such also is manifestly the case here.

§ 51. The order here connects back with Luke 11, 36, in § 49. Jesus receives the invitation of the Pharisee while he was speaking. See Introd. Note to Part VI. p. 185.

§ 53. The order is here fixed by v. 1.

§ 54. The order here depends on Matth 13, 1; comp. in § 50. The intervening events in §§ 51-53 are supplied by Luke. The place may be Capernaum; but this is not certain.

§ 56. Mark here fixes the order of time, "the same day at evening." The incident of the Scribe and of another disciple, which Matthew gives definitely here, is related by Luke in a wholly different connection without any note of time. It is transferred hither, because it is of such a nature that it cannot well be supposed to have occurred twice in circumstances so exactly parallel. The conversation takes place, as our Lord was on his way from the house (Matth. 13, 36) to the boat.

§ 57. Origen says that a city Gergesa anciently stood on the eastern shore of the lake of Tiberias; Opp. IV. p. 140. Gadara was a larger city, whose district or jurisdiction apparently extended to the lake, and included Gergesa. In Matth. 8, 28, some critical editions read Gerasenes, and others Gadarenes.

Mark and Luke speak of only one demoniac; Matthew of two. Here the maxim of Le Clerc holds true: Qui plura narrat, pauciora complectitur; qui pauciora memorat, plura non negat; which may here be thus applied: "He who speaks of two, includes also the one; he who mentions only one, does not deny the two." Something peculiar in the circumstances or character of one of the persons, may have rendered him more prominent, and led the two former Evangelists to speak of him particularly. But their language does not exclude another.—A familiar example will illustrate the principle. In the year 1824, Lafayette visited the United States; and was every where welcomed with honours and pageants. Historians will describe these as a noble incident in his life. Others writers will relate the same visit as made, and the same honours as enjoyed, by two persons, viz. Lafayette and his son. Will there be any contradiction between these two classes of writers? Will not both record the truth? See Bibliotheca Sacra, 1845. No. 1. p. 169.

§§ 58, 59. The call of Levi or Matthew is placed by the three Evangelists immediately after the healing of the paralytic in Capernaum; see §§ 34, 35. Very naturally too, they all three connect with his call an account of the feast which he afterwards made for Jesus; in order to bring together and present at once all that was personal to Matthew. But from Matth. 9, 18, it appears, that while our Lord was reclining and discoursing at that feast, Jairus comes to beseech him to visit his daughter lying at the point of death; and Jesus goes with him. Now this last transaction, according to Mark and Luke, did not happen until immediately after the return from the eastern shore of the lake. Hence the narrative of the feast is to be transferred to this place; and that too with the more certainty, because the Twelve appear to have been also present at it; Matth. 9, 10. Mark 2, 15.

§§ 63, 64. While the Twelve are absent preaching in the name of Christ, Herod causes John the Baptist to be beheaded in the castle of Machaerus at the southern extremity of Perea, near the Dead Sea; Jos. Ant. 18. 5. 2. In consequence of the preaching of the Apostles, Herod hears the fame of Jesus; is conscience-smitten; and declares him to be John, risen from the dead. The disciples of John come and tell Jesus; and the Twelve also return with the same intelligence; upon which Jesus retires to the northeastern coast of the lake, not far from the northern Bethsaida or Julias; see Bibl. Res. in Palest. III. p. 308. All these events seem to have taken place near together.

Matthew and Mark narrate the death of the Baptist in explanation of Herod's declaration. The account of his imprisonment, which is retrospective in these two Evangelists, is transferred to § 24.

According to John 6, 4, the Passover was now at hand, viz. the third during our Lord's ministry. John therefore had lain in prison not far from a year and six months; and was beheaded about three years after entering upon his public ministry. See Note on § 25.

§§ 65, 66. From the region of the northern Bethsaida or Julias, the disciples embark for Bethsaida of Galilee, Mark 6, 45; or for Capernaum according to John 6, 17. They land on the plain of Gennesareth, Matth. 14, 34. Mark 6, 53. The next day the multitudes follow in boats to Capernaum seeking for Jesus, and find him there; John 6, 24. 25. 59. It follows, as a necessary conclusion, that Capernaum was on or near the plain of Gennesareth; most probably at its northeastern extremity. For the topography of this region, see Bibl. Res. in Palest. III. p. 288 sq. comp. p. 282 sq.

In John 7, 1, a reason is assigned why Jesus did not go up at this time to the Passover mentioned in John 6, 4. This was the third Passover during his ministry.

PART V.

FROM OUR LORD'S THIRD PASSEOVER UNTIL HIS FINAL DEPARTURE FROM GALILEE AT THE FESTIVAL OF TABERNACLES.

§ 67 sq. The order of events, as far as to § 79 inclusive, is in accordance with both Matthew and Mark; with whom Luke also coincides, so far as he touches upon the same transactions.

§ 68. Jesus retires from Galilee, first to the region of Tyre and Sidon; then he returns to the Decapolis; and goes afterwards to the district of Cesarea Philippi, now Baniās. All these were districts not under the jurisdiction of Herod; whose domain included only Galilee and Perea. Not improbably Jesus may have withdrawn from Galilee at this particular time, because the attention of Herod had been thus turned to him after the death of John the Baptist; and perhaps too on account of Herod's temporary presence in that province, by which his own personal danger would naturally be increased. See Note on §§ 63, 64.

§ 69. The Decapolis was a region comprising ten cities, situated chiefly on the S. and S. E. of the Lake of Tiberias. It included Scythopolis (Bethshean), Gadara, Hippos, Pella, Gerasa. The names of the other cities are less certain. Our Lord in returning from Tyre and Sidon had probably passed through Galilee. The feeding of the four thousand obviously took place in the Decapolis; since Jesus immediately afterwards passes over the lake to Magdala on its western shore.

§ 72. The healing of the blind man at the northern Bethsaida, is related only by Mark. It took place on the way from the eastern shore of the lake toward Cesarea Philippi, now Baniās.

§ 74. The phrase "after three days" of Mark 8, 31, is equivalent to "the third day" of Matth. 16, 21. Luke 9, 22. See Note on § 49.

§ 75. On Matth. 17, 12, see Note on § 18.

naum; see vv. 13. 15. It comes therefore here in its order, before our Lord leaves Galilee to go up to the festival of Tabernacles. The words "after these things" in v. 1, refer to the general series of events narrated in the preceding chapter; not to v. 51 sq. in particular. The incident of the Scribe, which there follows (v. 57 sq.) was in fact much earlier; see in § 56 and Note.

According to Luke 10, 1, the Seventy were to go to every city and place, whither our Lord himself would come. To what part of the country, then, were they sent? Not throughout Galilee; for Jesus apparently never returned to that province; and besides, both himself and the Twelve had already preached in all the towns and villages. Not in Samaria; for he merely passes through that district without making any delay. Possibly into some parts of Judea, whither our Lord himself afterwards came; but more probably along the great valley of the Jordan and throughout the populous region of Perea, which our Lord traversed and where he taught after the festival of Dedication, and as he for the last time went up to Jerusalem; see John 10, 40. Matth. 19, 1. Mark 10, 1. Luke 13, 22.—In accordance with this view, the return of the Seventy took place in Jerusalem or Judea, not long before the festival of Dedication (§ 89); immediately after which festival Jesus withdrew into Perea to follow up their labours, John 10, 40 sq. See Introd. Note to Part VI. p. 185, 186.

Our Lord's instructions to the Seventy have a striking resemblance to those given to the Twelve; see in § 62.

§ 81. Our Lord evades the hypocritical urgency of his relatives, and afterwards goes up to the festival more privately; that is, with less of public notoriety and without being followed as usual by crowds. The journey mentioned in Luke 9, 51 was obviously his last journey from Galilee to Jerusalem; and v. 53 shows that he was passing on rapidly and without delay. In both these circumstances, Luke accords with John; and the two accounts are therefore properly arranged together. See more in Introd. Note to Part VI. p. 184.

§ 82. The healing of the ten lepers evidently connects itself with the same journey through Samaria; and is narrated by Luke out of its proper order. Compare the incident of the Scribe and another, Luke 9, 57 sq. and see Note on § 56.

PART VI.

THE FESTIVAL OF TABERNACLES, AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL OUR LORD'S ARRIVAL AT BETHANY SIX DAYS BEFORE THE FOURTH PASSOVER.

§§ 83—111.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE—ORDER OF LUKE AND JOHN.

In this interval of time, from the festival of Tabernacles to our Lord's last arrival at Bethany, we encounter one of the most difficult portions of the whole Gospel Harmony.

According to John's narrative, Jesus, after leaving Galilee to go up to the festival of Tabernacles in October (John 7, 10), did not return again to Galilee; but spent the time intervening before the festival of Dedication in December, probably in Jerusalem, or, when in danger from the Jews, in the neighbouring villages of Judea; John 8, 59. Luke 10, 38 sq. Had Jesus actually returned to Galilee during this interval, it can hardly be supposed that John, who had hitherto so carefully noted our Lord's return thither after each visit to Jerusalem, would have failed to give some hint of it in this case also, either after c. 8, 59, or after c. 10, 21. But neither John, nor the other Evangelists, afford any such hint.—Immediately after the festival of Dedication, Jesus withdrew from the machinations of the Jews beyond Jordan; whence he was recalled to Bethany by the decease of Lazarus; John 10, 40. 11, 7. He then once more retired to Ephraim; and is found again at Bethany six days before the Passover, John 11, 54. 12. 1.

Matthew and Mark contain no allusion at all to the festival of Tabernacles; nor do we find any express mention of it in Luke. Yet Luke 9, 51 is most naturally referred to our Lord's journey at that time; and it implies also that this was his final departure from Galilee; see Note on § 81. Luke and John are therefore here parallel. The circumstances of danger, which had induced Jesus during the summer to retire from Galilee in various directions (see Note on § 68), as well as the approach of the time when "he should be received up," are reasons of sufficient weight to account for his having transferred, at this time, the scene of his ministry and labours from the north to Jerusalem and Judea, including excursions to the country on and beyond the Jordan.

In regard to the transactions during the whole interval of time comprised in this Part, Matthew and Mark are silent; except where they relate that our Lord, after his departure from Galilee, approached Jerusalem for the last time through Perea and by way of Jericho, where he was followed by multitudes; Matth. 19, 1. 20, 29. Mark 10, 1. 46. With the transactions recorded by these two Evangelists during this last approach, Luke also has some things parallel; Luke 18, 15–43. The arrival at Bethany is common to the three; and in this they all accord with John; Matth. 21, 1. Mark 11, 1. Luke 19, 29. John 12, 1. 12 sq.

There exists consequently no difficulty in harmonizing Matthew and Mark, and so much of Luke as is parallel to them (18, 15 sq.) with John. But in Luke, from c. 9, 51, where Jesus leaves Galilee, to c. 18, 14, where the record again becomes parallel with Matthew and Mark, there is a large body of matter peculiar for the most part to Luke, and relating prima facie to the time subsequent to our Lord's departure from Galilee. How is this portion of Luke's Gospel to be arranged and distributed, in order to harmonize with the narrative of John? The difficulty of course does not exist in the case of those Harmonists, who, like Calvin, Griesbach, and others, attempt to bring together only the first three Evangelists.

Those Harmonists who have likewise included John's Gospel, have hitherto generally, and perhaps universally, assumed a return of our Lord to Galilee after the festival of Tabernacles; and this avowedly in order to provide a place for this portion of Luke's Gospel. But the manner in which it has been arranged, after all, is exceedingly various. Some, as Le Clerc, insert nearly the whole during this supposed journey. Others, as Lightfoot, assign to this journey only what precedes Luke 13, 23; and refer the remainder to our Lord's sojourn beyond Jordan. In like manner Schleiermacher, Neander, Olshausen, and others, assume a return to Galilee before the festival of Dedication; but differ greatly in their distribution of this part of Luke.

If now we examine more closely the portion of Luke in question (9, 51—18, 14), we perceive, that although an order of time is discoverable in certain parts, yet as a whole it is wanting in exact chronological arrangement. This indeed is admitted, at the present day, by all Harmonists and Commentators. It would seem almost, as if, in this portion peculiar to Luke, that Evangelist, after recording many of the earlier transactions of Jesus in Galilee in accordance with Matthew and Mark, had here, upon our Lord's final departure from that province, brought together this new and various matter of his own, relating partly to our Lord's previous ministry in Galilee, partly to this journey, and still more to his subsequent proceedings, until the narrative (in c. 18, 15) again becomes parallel to the accounts of Matthew and Mark. Such, for example, is the incident of the Scribe and of another in Luke 9, 52 sq.—an occurrence of such a nature that we cannot well suppose it to have happened twice, and which Matthew narrates at Capernaum, on the occasion of our Lord's first excursion across the lake; see § 56. The sending forth also the Seventy evidently took place at or near Capernaum, c. 10, 1 sq. see § 80 and Note. The transactions narrated in c. 10, 17—11, 13, have marks of chronological connection; and the scene of them is obviously Jerusalem or its vicinity; see § 86—89 and Notes. The healing of a demoniac and the consequent blasphemy of the Scribes and Pharisees in Luke 11, 14. 15. 17 sq. is parallel with the same events in Matthew and Mark, which these two Evangelists describe as having occurred in Galilee; see § 48 and Note. With this passage again Luke 11, 37—54 is immediately connected; see § 51 and Note. The transition to the next chapter (c. 12) is made by a phrase marking proximity of time; § 52 and Note. And, further, the words introducing Luke 13, 1, show that the conversation there given (vv. 1-9) immediately followed.—The remainder of this portion of Luke, c. 13, 10—18, 14 (with the exception of c. 17, 11-19, which obviously connects itself with the journey in c. 9, 51), contains absolutely no definite notation of time or place; nor any thing, indeed, to show that the events happened in the order recorded, or that they did not take place at different times and in different parts of the country. The only passage to which this remark does not perhaps fully apply, is c. 13, 22-35.

For these reasons, like Newcome, I have distributed Luke 9, 51—10, 16, and 11, 14—13, 9, (as also 17, 11-19,) in Parts IV, V, as already specified, among the transactions of our Lord's ministry in Galilee, between his second Passover and his journey to the festival of Tabernacles. The remainder of this whole portion of Luke, viz. c. 10, 17—11, 13, and 13, 10—17, 10, as also 17, 20—18, 14, remains to be disposed of in the present Part.

With many leading modern Commentators, I prefer here to follow the narrative of John, and infer that our Lord did not again return to Galilee after the festival of Tabernacles. So Lücke, Tholuck, Hengstenberg, De Wette, Meyer, and others. On this principle, therefore, the present Harmony is constructed. Hence, Luke 10, 17—11, 13 is inserted between the festival of Tabernacles and that of Dedication; see the particulars in the Notes on §§ 86-89.

More difficult is it to assign the proper place for Luke 13, 10—17, 10; the transactions recorded in which all cluster around or follow c. 13, 22, where Jesus is represented as travelling leisurely through the cities and villages towards Jerusalem. Now this journey cannot have been the same with that in Luke 9, 51 and John 7, 10; because there Jesus went up privately, while here he is accompanied by multitudes, Luke 14, 25. Nor can it have been a later journey from Galilee; for that in Luke 9, 51 was the final one. Nor indeed were the Jews accustomed to go up from the country to Jerusalem at the festival of Dedication; see Note on § 91. Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on John 10, 22. Besides, Luke 13, 22 stands in connection with the warning received by our Lord against Herod, vv. 31-33; which under the attendant circumstances cannot well be regarded as having been given in Galilee, and much less in Jerusalem. But Herod was lord also of Perea; and in that province he had imprisoned and put to death John the Baptist; Joseph. Ant. 18. 5. 2. It would therefore be natural, that our Lord, who had been less known in that region, and who now appeared there followed by multitudes, should receive warning of the danger he was thus incurring. Hence, I have ventured to assign this part of Luke (13, 10—17, 10) to that period of our Lord's life and ministry, which was passed in Perea after the festival of Dedication.

Our Lord first withdrew soon after that festival from the plots of the Jews into Perea, the province beyond Jordan: "He went away again beyond Jordan, into the place where John at first baptized; and there he abode. And many resorted unto him and believed;" John 10, 40-42. How long Jesus remained in that region before he was recalled by the death of Lazarus, can be only matter of conjecture. In that interval Lightfoot places all this part of Luke after c. 13, 22; see Opp. II. p. 39. In this I am unable to accord with that profound scholar; because the language of John does not necessarily imply that our Lord at this time made any journey or circuit in Perea itself. At least, it could not then and there be said of him in any sense, that "he went through their cities and villages, teaching, and journeying towards Jerusalem," Luke 13, 22; for he had just departed from Jerusalem, and was recalled to Bethany by a special message from the sisters of Lazarus, John 11, 3. 7. All this would seem to imply rather, that Jesus remained during this excursion, at least mainly, in the district "where John had baptized;" so that Martha and Mary knew at once where to send for him. It follows also as a natural inference, that this first sojourn beyond Jordan could not well have been a long one, nor probably have occupied more than a few weeks out of the four months intervening between the festival of Dedication and the Passover.

After the raising of Lazarus, Jesus again retired from the machinations of the Jews to "a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples;" John 11, 54. The Evangelist John records nothing more of his movements, until he again appears in Bethany six days before the Passover; John 12, 1. But the expression used by John as to his sojourn at Ephraim, (literally: there he passed the time,) does not preclude the idea of excursions from that place, nor of a circuitous route on his return to Bethany and Jerusalem at the Passover. Now Matthew, Mark, and Luke affirm expressly, that on his return Jesus went up to Bethany from Jericho; and the two former narrate, as expressly, that in thus reaching Jericho he had come "into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan," where great multitudes followed him, and he healed them and taught them, as he was wont; Matth. 19, 1. 2. Mark 10, 1. With all this the language of Luke 13, 22 accords perfectly: "And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying towards Jerusalem;" as does also the mention of the multitudes in Luke 14, 25. With this too accords Luke 13, 31-35, including the warning against Herod and our Lord's reply; as also the touching lamentation over Jerusalem, where Jesus was so soon to suffer. With this accords, further, the fact, that the narrative of Luke subsequent to the portion in question, viz. Luke 18, 15 sq. is parallel with that of Matthew and Mark during the same journey; see §§ 105-109.

After long consideration, therefore, I do not hesitate to refer Luke 13, 22, with the transactions and discourses of which it forms the nucleus, mainly to a journey of our Lord through the populous region of Perea, on his return to Bethany after sojourning in Ephraim. There may also have been excursions from that city to the neighbouring villages of Judea, or even to the Jordan valley. This city Ephraim I hold to be probably identical with Ephron and Ophrah of the Old Testament; and therefore apparently represented by the modern Taiyibeh, situated nearly twenty Roman miles N. N. E. of Jerusalem, and five or six Roman miles N. E. of Bethel, on the borders of the desert which stretches along on the west of the Dead Sea and the Valley of Jordan; see Note on § 93. It occupies a lofty site; and from it one overlooks the adjacent desert, the Jordan with its great valley, and the mountains of Perea beyond, with the Saracenic castle er-Rübüd, near Ajlûn, in the northern part of Perea, bearing about N. E. Even at the present day the hardy and industrious mountaineers of this place have much intercourse with the valley, and till the rich fields and reap the harvests of Jericho; see Bibl. Res. in Palest. II. p. 121. p. 276. It was therefore quite natural and easy for our Lord, from this point to cross the valley and the Jordan, and then turn his course towards Jericho and Jerusalem; while at the same time he exercised his ministry among the cities and villages along the valley and in the eastern region. Thither, indeed, he not improbably had sent before him the Seventy disciples (see Note on § 80); and some parts of the same district he himself had already visited.

I have therefore inserted the whole of Luke 13, 11-17, 10, after the mention of our Lord's sojourn at Ephraim; as belonging naturally to that period and to this return-journey through Perea. And then it only remained to let Luke 17, 20-18, 14 follow directly afterwards; because there is no mark nor authority for placing it any where else; and because too it immediately precedes, and thus connects with, that portion of Luke which is subsequently parallel to Matthew and Mark. Not that I would by any means assert, that all the events and the discourses of our Lord here given, are recorded by Luke in their exact chronological order; for this portion of his Gospel presents very much the appearance of a collection of discourses and transactions in themselves disconnected. Yet, as there are no marks nor evidence, internal or external, by which to arrange them differently, it seems hardly advisable, on mere conjecture, to abandon the order in which they have been left to us by Luke himself.

If it be objected, that this arrangement crowds too many incidents and discourses into this journey through Perea, the reply is not difficult. Matthew and Mark confine their previous narratives chiefly to Galilee; and give comparatively little of what took place later in Perea. Luke, besides recounting the like events in Galilee, has a large amount of matter peculiar to himself, without any definite notation of time and place; and it is therefore not unnatural to suppose, that an important portion of it may relate to this last journey. Again, there is room for allowing to this journey in Perea an interval of time, amply sufficient for all these transactions, and indeed many more. If we assume, that our Lord's first sojourn beyond Jordan, his return to Bethany, and the subsequent departure to Ephraim, occupied even two months (which is a large allowance), there still remained nearly two months before the Passover, in which to make excursions from Ephraim, and also traverse leisurely the distance through Perea to Bethany, requiring in itself, at the utmost, not more than five days of travel. If now we compare the transactions thus spread out over these two months (or not improbably over a longer interval), with those recorded during the following six days next before the Passover (see Part VII), we shall hardly be very strongly impressed with the idea, that too much in proportion is thus allotted to this journey.

§§ 86, 87. Our Lord had left the temple, and apparently the city; John 8, 59. The healing of the blind man occurred later; see Note on § 90. While thus absent from the city, and yet in its vicinity, Jesus visits Bethany and is received by Martha and Mary, with whom very probably he may have been earlier acquainted. This visit is placed by Luke in immediate connection with the incident of the lawyer and the parable of the Good Samaritan; which therefore are inserted here. The scene of that parable also implies, that it was spoken in the vicinity of Jerusalem and Bethany.

§ 88. Jesus repeats on this occasion the same model-form of prayer taught in the Sermon on the Mount, § 41. Luke's order is here retained; as there is no evidence by which to assign any other.

§ 89. Luke relates the return of the Seventy in immediate connection with their appointment (Luke 10, 1-16), evidently by anticipation. Their appointment appears to have been one of our Lord's last acts in Galilee; and they went forth, probably into Perea and elsewhere, while he proceeded to Jerusalem; see Note on § 80. Their return to him at or near Jerusalem; is therefore here placed as late as may be, before the festival of Dedication.

§ 90. With the healing of the blind man the discourse in John 10, 1 sq. stands in immediate connection; see c. 9, 40. And in the words of our Lord, John 10, 26, spoken at the festival of Dedication, there is a direct allusion to the figurative representation of the shepherd and his sheep in the same discourse. This implies that the same audience was then present, at least in part; and consequently, that the discourse in question had been delivered not long before. For these reasons the healing of the blind man would seem also to have taken place near the beginning of the festival of Dedication, or at least not long before.

after the three years' profanation by Antiochus Epiphanes. It was held during eight days, commencing on the 25th day of the month Kislew, which began with the new moon of December. See 1 Macc. 4, 52-59. 2 Macc. 10, 5-8. Josephus calls it the festival of lights or lanterns, and speaks of it as a season of rejoicing; Antiq. 12. 7. 6, 7. It was celebrated by the Jews, not at Jerusalem alone, like the great festivals of the law; but at home, throughout the whole country, by the festive illumination of their dwellings; see Lightfoot. Hor. Heb. on Joh. 10, 22.—According to John's narrative, Jesus was now at Jerusalem, not because the Jews were accustomed to go up thither at this festival, but because he had remained in the vicinity since the festival of Tabernacles; see Introd. Note to Part VI. p. 183, 184.

The place "where John at first baptized" (10, 40) was Bethabara beyond Jordan; or Bethany beyond Jordan, according to some manuscripts and editions; see John 1, 28. Nothing more is known as to its situation. On our Lord's sojourn here, and also the probable length of it, see Introd. Note to Part VI. pp. 184, 186.

§ 93. As the Sanhedrim had now determined, in accordance with the counsel of Caiaphas, that Jesus should be put to death, he therefore withdraws from Jerusalem to a city called Ephraim "near to the wilderness;" John 11, 54. This place has only recently been identified with any modern site. There is, however, little reason to doubt, that it was the same with the Ephraim or Ephron of 2 Chr. 13, 19, and also with the Ephron of Eusebius and Jerome, nearly twenty Roman miles north of Jerusalem. It lay also near the desert; and corresponds, therefore, in all these particulars with the modern Taiyibeh, a most remarkable and commanding site. See Bibl. Res. in Palest. II. p. 121-124.

Indeed, the coincidence of circumstances leaves little room for question, that Ephron and also Ophrah of the Old Testament, and Ephraim of the New, were all identical, and are all represented by the modern Taiyibeh. This then was the place to which our Lord withdrew.

For our Lord's sojourn in Ephraim, and his return thence through Perea to Bethany, see Introd. Note to Part VI. p. 187. For a fuller discussion respecting the identity of Ephraim with Taiyibeh, see Greek Harmony, p. 203, 204.

§ 94. Matthew and Mark, having omitted all mention of our Lord's presence and teaching in Jerusalem at the festivals of Tabernacles and of Dedication, as likewise all notice of the raising of Lazarus and other intervening events, here resume their narrative by relating, that after Jesus had left Galilee he approached Jerusalem, as the Passover drew nigh, by passing through the country beyond Jordan. Both Evangelists speak of the great multitudes that followed Jesus.

Luke 13, 10-21 is inserted here, because it immediately precedes, and is thus connected with, the notice of our Lord's journeying towards Jerusalem in Luke 13, 22; see § 95 and Note.

§ 95. For the reasons why Luke 13, 22 is arranged in this connection, see Introd. Note to Part VI. pp. 185, 186. For the appropriateness of this arrangement, so far as it respects vv. 31-35, see the same Note, p. 186, 187.

The lamentation over Jerusalem in v. 34 arises naturally from the mention of that city in v. 33. In Matth. 23, 37 sq. (§ 123) the same lamentation is repeated in connection with our Lord's denunciation of the Scribes and Pharisees in Jerusalem. Luke's phrase, "Ye shall not see me, etc." is explained by the like phrase of Matthew, "Ye shall not see me henceforth, etc." implying that he was now about to withdraw from the world, and that Jerusalem, which then rejected him, would not again behold him and enjoy the privilege of his presence, until compelled by his glorious manifestation to acknowledge him as the true Messiah.

§ 96-103. These sections are placed here for the reasons assigned in the Introd. Note to Part VI. p. 187.

§ 104. This section properly comes in here before § 105, where Luke is again parallel with Matthew and Mark.

§ 107. This discourse probably took place in Perea; as Jesus had not yet arrived at Jericho. The expression to go up, is used of any journey to Jerusalem or Judea; see Luke 2, 4. John 7, 8. 12, 20. Acts 18, 22.

§ 108 In Matthew it is the mother of James and John who makes the request; in Luke it is the two disciples themselves; see Note on § 42.

§ 109. Mark and Luke here speak of one blind man; Matthew of two. The case is similar to that of the demoniacs of Gadara; see Note on § 57.

More difficult is it to harmonize the accounts as to the place where the miracle was wrought. Matthew and Mark narrate it as having occurred when Jesus was departing from Jericho; while Luke seems to describe it as happening during his approach to the city. Several ways of solving this difficulty have been proposed.

1. The language of Mark is, "They came to Jericho." This, it is said, may be understood as implying, that Jesus remained some days at least in Jericho, where he would naturally visit points of interest in the vicinity; as, for example, the fountain of Elisha, a mile or more distant. The miracle, therefore, may have been wrought, not when he was finally leaving Jericho for Jerusalem; but when he was occasionally going out of, and returning to, Jericho. So Newcome, Harm. Note on § 108.

2. The Greek verb here rendered to come nigh, it is said, may signify not only to draw nigh, but also to be nigh or near. Hence, the language of Luke may include also the idea expressed by Matthew and Mark, i. e. while he was still near the city. So Grotius, Comm. on Matth. 20, 30. Passow in his Lexicon gives a like definition of the Greek verb, i. e. to be near, to draw near; but neither he nor Grotius brings forward any references to classic authors in support of such a meaning. Indeed, it is very doubtful, whether this definition can be fully sustained by classic authority. Yet in the New Testament and Septuagint there are several passages, which go to imply such a usage of the Greek word. Thus, Luke 19, 29 compared with Matth. 21, 1. So Phil. 2, 3 he was nigh unto death. The usage of the LXX is still more definite; e. g. of Naboth's vineyard, 1 K. 21, 2 because it is near unto my house. Also Deut. 21, 3, the city next [nigh] unto the slain man. v. 6. 22, 2; and trop. Jer. 23, 23. Ruth 2, 20.

2 Sam. 19, 42. These instances seem sufficient to bear out the proposed interpretation in Luke; which is also adopted by Le Clerc, Doddridge, Pilkington, and others.—Nor is this method of explanation “made useless for the purpose of reconciling the Evangelists, by Luke 19, 1,” as Newcome asserts. In connection with Jericho, Luke first of all relates this striking miracle; then goes back and mentions that Jesus “entered and passed through Jericho;” and lastly records the visit to the house of Zaccheus, apparently within the city. Luke 19, 1 therefore is not more at variance with this view respecting the miracle, than it is with the visit to Zaccheus. It is a passing announcement of a general fact, in connection with which other more important circumstances are related, not indeed in the order of time, but partly by anticipation.

3. Less probable than either of the above is the solution of Lightfoot and others, who assume that Jesus healed one blind man before entering the city, and another on departing from it. See Lightfoot Opp. II. p. 42.

§ 111. The phrase “out of the country,” John 11, 55, does not refer to the region of Ephraim; for those coming from that vicinity would hardly have made such inquiries. The phrase therefore signifies from the country generally, as distinguished from Jerusalem; compare in Luke 21, 21.

“Six days before the Passover” is equivalent to “the sixth day” before that festival; see Note on § 49. As our Lord ate the paschal supper on the evening following Thursday, (which evening was reckoned in the Jewish manner to Friday,) the sixth day before the Passover was the first day of the week or Sunday, reckoning back from Friday itself as one day, as is done in all like cases. Jesus then came to Bethany on the first day of the week, from Jericho.

John 12, 2-8, where the supper at Bethany is described, is postponed in accordance with the order of Matthew and Mark; see Note on § 131.

PART VII.

OUR LORD'S PUBLIC ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM, AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS BEFORE THE FOURTH PASSOVER.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.—SCHEDULE OF DAYS.

THE Jewish day of twenty-four hours was reckoned from sunset to sunset, as is still the case in oriental countries. The paschal lamb was killed on the fourteenth day of Nisan towards sunset; and was eaten the same evening, after the fifteenth day of Nisan had begun; Ex. 12, 6. 8. Our Lord was crucified on the day before the Jewish Sabbath, that is, on Friday, Mark 15, 42; and as he had eaten the Passover on the preceding evening, it follows that the fourteenth of Nisan fell that year on Thursday, reckoned from the preceding sunset. Hence, the sixth day before the Passover, when Jesus came to Bethany, was the first day of the week or Sunday (see Note on § 111); and the transactions of the week, comprised in Parts VII and VIII, may be distributed ac-according to the following Schedule; which differs somewhat from the Schema of Lightfoot; see his Hor. Heb. on Joh. 12, 2.

Days

Days
of Week.

SCHEDULE OF DAYS.

9. 7. SAT. reckoned from sunset. The Jewish Sabbath. Jesus remains at Jericho.
10. 1. SUND. from sunset. Jesus arrives at Bethany from Jericho, John 12, 1.
11. 2. MOND. from sunset. Jesus makes his public entry into Jerusalem, § 112; and returns at night to Bethany, Mark, 11, 11.
12. 3. TUESD. from sunset. Jesus goes to Jerusalem; on his way the incident of the barren fig-tree. He cleanses the temple, § 113; and again returns to Bethany, Mark 11, 19.
13. 4. WEDN. from sunset. Jesus returns to the city; on the way the disciples see the fig-tree withered, Mark 11, 20. Our Lord discourses in the temple, § 115-126; takes leave of it; and, when on the Mount of Olives, on his way to Bethany, foretells his coming to destroy the city, and proceeds to speak also of his final coming to judgment, §§ 127-130.
14. 5. THURS. from sunset. The rulers conspire against Christ. On the eve of this day, (i. e. the evening following Wednesday,) our Lord had partaken of the supper at Bethany; where Mary anointed him, and where Judas laid his plan of treachery, which he made known to the chief priests in the course of this day.
Jesus sends two disciples to the city to make ready the Pass-over. He himself repairs thither in the afternoon, in order to eat the paschal supper at evening.
15. 6. FRID. from sunset. At evening, in the very beginning of the fifteenth of Nisan, Jesus partakes of the paschal supper; institutes the Lord's Supper; is betrayed and apprehended; §§ 133-143. He is brought first before Caiaphas, and then in the morning before Pilate; is condemned, crucified, and before sunset laid in the sepulchre; §§ 144-158.
16. 7. SAT. The Jewish Sabbath. Our Lord rests in the sepulchre.
17. 1. SUND. Jesus rises from the dead at early dawn; see § 159 and Note.

§ 112. The time is specified in John 12, 12. The other Evangelists do not notice the fact, that Jesus had remained at Bethany the preceding night.

§ 113. Mark 11, 11. 12 specifies the time very exactly. On the cleansing of the temple, see Note on § 21.

Luke 21, 37. 38 is inserted here, because in Luke's order it is only retrospective; being placed after our Lord's discourses on the Mount of Olives, when he had already taken leave of the temple, to which he returned no more.

§§ 114-130. These sections include the numerous discourses and transactions of the fourth day of this week.

§ 114. The account of the withering away of the fig-tree might in itself well be connected with the preceding Section. But according to Mark 11, 20, this occurrence took place on the subsequent day.

§ 123. In Matthew, verses 13 and 14 are transposed, as in the best critical editions.

125. This incident of the Greeks is inserted here on the fourth day of the week, rather than on the second, because of John 12, 36; which implies that Jesus afterwards appeared no more in public as a teacher. He immediately takes leave of the temple.

§ 126. The Evangelist John here gives his own reflections upon the unbelief of the Jews. From v. 44 we are not to understand, that Jesus, after having left the temple, returned and uttered this additional discourse. It is rather the vivid manner of the Evangelist himself; who thus introduces Jesus as speaking, in order to recapitulate the sum and substance of his teaching, which the Jews had rejected.

§§ 127-130. The topics of these Sections are more fully discussed in an article by the author of this work, in the Bibliotheca Sacra, 1843, No. III. pp. 531 sq.

§ 127. Our Lord takes leave of the temple, to which he returns no more; at the same time foretelling its impending destruction. On his way to Bethany, he seats himself for a time upon the Mount of Olives, over against the temple, where the city was spread out before him as on a map; and here four of his disciples put to him the question, "When shall these things be?" According to Matthew they add: "And what the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?" They were still in darkness; and believed, like the other Jews, that the Messiah was yet to go forth as an exalted temporal prince, to subvert the then present order of things, to overthrow their enemies and subdue all nations, and thus restore pre-eminency and glory to the Jewish people, and reign in peace and splendour over the world; see Luke 24, 21. Acts 1, 6. This was the expected coming and the end of the world, or present state of things, referred to in Matth. 24, 3; as also in Luke 17, 20 sq. 19, 11. See Biblioth. Sacra, ib. pp. 531-535.

Jesus does not directly answer the question of the four Apostles; but speaks of deceivers and calamities and persecutions, that should arise. His language here is strictly introductory to the next Section.

§ 128. That the "abomination of desolation" Matth. 24, 15 etc. refers to the Roman armies by which Jerusalem was besieged and destroyed, is shown conclusively by Luke 21, 20.

The subsequent desolation and calamity spoken of in Matth. 24, 29-31 and the parallel passages, may be most appropriately referred to the overthrow and complete extirpation of the Jewish people fifty years later under Adrian; when they were sold as slaves and utterly driven out from the land of their fathers. See Münter's Jewish War, translated by W. W. Turner in the Biblioth. Sacra, 1843. No. III. p. 393 sq. Compare ibid. p. 550 sq. This was the final war and catastrophe of the Jewish nation under the celebrated and mysterious Bar-Cochba, "Son of a Star." It was a catastrophe far more terrible than that of the destruction of Jerusalem; though the latter, in consequence of the vivid description of it by Josephus, has come to be usually considered as the last act in this great tragedy. Such, however, it was not.

The figurative language of these verses (Matth. 24, 29-31, etc.) is similar to that of many passages in the Old Testament, which refer to civil commotions and historical events, of far less importance than the destruction of Jerusalem and the overthrow of the Jewish state; see Is. 13, 9 sq. 19, 1. 5 sq. 34, 2. 4 sq. Ezek. 32, 2. 7. Ps. 18, 7-14. 68, 1 sq. etc. See also Biblioth. Sac. 1843, No. III. p. 545 sq. Further, Luke 21, 28 shows decisively, that these verses cannot have reference to the general judgment of the great and final day; the language of Luke directly expresses temporal deliverance, and that only. That some near catastrophe is meant, appears also from the limitation to "this generation," in Matth. 24, 34 and the parallel passages.

Matth. 24, 36-42 connects itself directly with what precedes, see v. 36; and refers likewise to the overthrow of the Jewish people and dispensation; comp. Luke 17, 20-37. But with v. 42 of Matthew, all direct reference to the Jewish catastrophe terminates. This appears from the nature of the language; and also further from the fact, that thus far both Mark and Luke give parallel reports; while at this very point their reports cease, and all that follows belongs to Matthew alone. This goes to show, that the discourse of our Lord up to this point is to be regarded as a whole, which is here completed; having reference to his coming for the overthrow of Judaism. At this point a new topic is introduced.

§§ 129, 130. Our Lord here makes a transition, and proceeds to speak of his final coming at the day of judgment. This appears from the fact, that the matter of these Sections is added by Matthew, after Mark and Luke have ended their parallel reports relative to the Jewish catastrophe; and Matthew here commences with v. 43, the same discourse which Luke has given on another occasion, in Galilee; Luke 12, 39 sq § 52. (See Note on § 21.) This discourse in Luke has reference obviously to our Lord's final coming; and that it has here the same reference, is apparent from the appropriateness of the subsequent warnings, and their intimate connection with Matth. 25, 31-46; which latter all interpreters of note agree in referring to the general judgment. See Biblioth. Sac. l. ib. 553 sq.

§ 131. On the fifth day of the week the chief priests and others, after deliberation, came to the formal conclusion to seize Jesus and put him to death; Matth. 26, 3. 4. etc. As the means by which this purpose was aided and accomplished, the first three Evangelists narrate the treacherous intent of Judas; which again Matthew and Mark introduce by describing the circumstances under which it arose during the supper at Bethany. According to Matthew and Mark this supper would most naturally seem to have taken place on the preceding evening; that is, the evening which ushered in, and was reckoned to, the fifth day of the week. John's order would apparently assign it to the evening after the day on which Jesus came to Bethany.

As in the accounts of this supper itself, neither of the Evangelists has specified any note of time, we are left to infer from other circumstances, whether it more probably took place on the evening after the arrival of Jesus at Bethany, as John seems to imply; or, on the evening following the fourth day of the week, in accordance with Matthew and Mark, after our Lord had taken his final leave of the temple. The following are some of these circumstances.

1. The formal determination of the chief priests to put Jesus to death, was made early on the fifth day of the week, Matth. 26, 1-5. Mark 14, 1. etc. It was not until afterwards that Judas came to them with his proposal of treachery, which they received with joy, Matth. 26, 14. Mark 14, 10. 11. etc.

2. Matthew and Mark relate the supper as the occasion which led to the treachery of Judas. Stung by his Master's rebuke, he is represented as going away to the chief priests and offering to betray him. This act would then seem to have been done under the impulse of sudden resentment; and this view of the matter receives also some support from his subsequent remorse and suicide. All this accords well with the order of Matthew and Mark. But if the supper took place on the evening after Jesus came to Bethany, then Judas had already cherished this purpose of treachery in his heart for several days without executing it; and that too while our Lord was daily teaching in the temple, and there was abundant opportunity to betray him. Such a supposition, under the circumstances, is against probability.

3. The language of Matthew, "then Judas went," v. 14, seems necessarily to connect the visit of Judas to the chief priests immediately with the supper, which therefore must have taken place on the preceding evening. On the other hand, it would be very natural for John to anticipate the time of the supper and narrate it where he does, in order there to bring together and complete all that he had to say further of Bethany; which indeed he mentions no more.

There is no sufficient reason for supposing, with Lightfoot and others, that the supper in John is a different one from that in Matthew and Mark. The identity of circumstances is too great, and the alleged differences too few, to leave a doubt on this point. Matthew and Mark narrate it as in the house of Simon the leper; John does not say where it took place, but he speaks of Lazarus as one of those who reclined at the table, implying that the supper was not in his own house. It was not, and is not now, customary in the East, for females to eat with the males; and therefore Lazarus, in his own house, would have been the master and giver of the entertainment. In the two former Evangelists, the woman anoints the head of Jesus; in the latter his feet; yet neither excludes the other. Matthew and Mark do not here name Mary; nor have they any where else mentioned her or Martha or Lazarus. Nor do they in this connection name Judas; whom we know as the fault-finder only from John.

§ 132. "The first day of unleavened bread" is here the fourteenth of Nisan; on which day, at or before noon, the Jews were accustomed to cease from labour and put away all leaven out of their houses; Ex. 12, 15-17. Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on Mark 14, 12. On that day towards sunset the paschal lamb was killed; and was eaten the same evening, after the fifteenth of Nisan had begun; at which time, strictly, the festival of unleavened bread commenced and continued seven days. In popular usage, however, the fourteenth day, being thus a day of preparation, was spoken of as belonging to the festival; and therefore is here called the "first" day. That such a usage was common, appears also from Josephus; who, having in one place expressly fixed the commencement of the festival of unleavened bread on the fifteenth of Nisan (Antiq. 3. 10. 5), speaks nevertheless in another passage of the fourteenth as the day of that festival, B. J. 5. 3. 1. comp. Ant. 11. 4. 8. In this way, further, the same historian could say, that the festival was celebrated for eight days; Jos. Ant. 2. 15. 1.

On this fifth day of the week, as the circumstances show, our Lord, after sending Peter and John to the city to prepare the Passover, himself followed them thither with the other disciples, probably towards evening.

On the Passover in general, see Intro. Note to Part VIII.

PART VIII.

THE FOURTH PASSOVER; OUR LORD'S PASSION; AND THE ACCOMPANYING EVENTS UNTIL THE END OF THE JEWISH SABBATH.

§§ 133—158.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.—THE PASSOVER.

As the events of our Lord's Passion were intimately connected with the celebration of the Passover, it seems proper here to bring together, in one view, those circumstances relating to that festival, which may serve to illustrate the sacred history. A more complete article upon this whole subject, was published by the author of these Notes in the Bibliotheca Sacra for August 1845, pp. 403-436; to which the reader is referred. See also Greek Harmony, p. 211 sq.

I. Time of killing the Paschal Lamb. The paschal lamb (or kid Ex. 12, 5) was to be selected on the tenth day of the first month, Ex. 12, 3. On the fourteenth day of the same month, (called Abib in the Pentateuch, and later Nisan, Deut. 16, 1. Esth. 3, 7,) the lamb thus selected was to be killed, at a point of time designated by the expression between the two evenings, as in the marginal reading of our version, Ex. 12, 6. Lev. 23, 5. Num. 9, 3. 5; or, as is elsewhere said, at evening about the going down of the sun, Deut. 16, 6. The same phrase, between the two evenings, is put for the time of the daily evening sacrifice, Ex. 29, 39. 41. Num. 28, 4. The time thus marked was regarded by the Samaritans and Karaites, as being the interval between sunset and deep twilight; while the Pharisees and Rabbins held the first evening to commence with the declining sun, and the second evening with the setting sun. Hence, according to the latter, the paschal lamb was to be killed in the interval between the ninth and eleventh hour, equivalent to our three and five o'clock, p. m. That this was in fact the practice among the Jews in the time of our Lord, appears from the testimony of Josephus; B. J. 6. 9. 3. The daily evening sacrifice also was offered at the ninth hour or three o'clock, p. m. Jos. Antiq. 14. 4. 3. See Acts 3. 1.

The true time, then, of killing the Passover in our Lord's day, was between the ninth and eleventh hour, or towards sunset, near the close of the fourteenth day of Nisan.

II. Time of eating the Passover. This was to be done the same evening. "And they shall eat the flesh in that night, roast with fire, and unleavened bread, and with bitter herbs shall they eat it," Ex. 12, 8. The Hebrews in Egypt ate the first Passover, and struck the blood of the victims on their door-posts, on the evening before the last great plague; at midnight the Lord smote all the first-born; and in the morning the people broke up from Rameses on their march towards the Red Sea, viz. "on the fifteenth day of the first month, on the morrow after the Passover," Num. 33, 3.

It hence appears, very definitely, that the paschal lamb was to be slain in the afternoon of the fourteenth day of the month; and was eaten the same evening; that is, on the evening which was reckoned to and began the fifteenth day.

III. Festival of unleavened Bread. From Ex. 12, 17, 18, comp. Deut. 16, 3, 4; and from Lev. 23, 6, comp. Num. 28, 17; it appears, that the festival of unleavened bread began strictly with the passover-meal, at or after sunset following the fourteenth day, and continued until sunset at the end of the twenty-first day. Comp. Jos. Ant. 3. 10. 5.

We have already seen that it was customary for the Jews, on the fourteenth day of Nisan, to cease from labour at or before mid-day; to put away all leaven out of their houses before noon; and to slay the paschal lamb towards the close of the day; see above and Note on § 132. Hence, in popular usage, the fourteenth day very naturally came to be reckoned as the beginning or first day of the festival, Matt. 26, 17. Mark 14, 12; and Josephus also could say, that the festival was celebrated for eight days; see Note on § 132.

It is hardly necessary to remark, that in consequence of the close mutual relation between the Passover and the festival of unleavened bread, these terms are often used interchangeably, especially in Greek, for the whole festival, including both the paschal supper and the seven days of unleavened bread; see Luke 22, 1. John 6, 4. Acts 12, 3. 4. Jos. Ant. 2. 1. 3. comp. B. J. 5. 3. 1.

IV. Other Paschal Sacrifices. 1. In Num. 28, 18-25, it is prescribed, that on the first and last days of the festival, the fifteenth and twenty-first of Nisan, there should be a holy convocation, in which, "no manner of servile work" should be done. And on each of the seven days, besides the ordinary daily sacrifices of the Sanctuary, there was to be "a burnt offering unto the Lord; two young bullocks, and one ram, and seven lambs of the first year;" also a meat-offering, and "one goat for a sin-offering." The first and last days of the festival, therefore, were each a day of convocation and of rest, and hence were strictly sabbaths; distinct from the weekly Sabbath, except when one of them happened to fall upon this latter.

2. On the morrow after this first day of rest or sabbath, that is, on the sixteenth day of Nisan, the first fruits of the harvest were offered, together with a lamb as a burnt-offering; Lev. 23, 10-12. This rite is expressly assigned by Josephus, in like manner, to the second day of the festival, the sixteenth of Nisan; Antiq. 3. 10. 5. The grain offered was barley; this being the earliest ripe, and its harvest occurring a week or two earlier than that of wheat; Jos. ib. Bibl. Res. in Palest. II. p. 99. Until this offering was made, no husbandman could begin his harvest; nor might any one eat of the new grain; Lev. 23, 14. It was therefore a rite of great importance; and in the time of our Lord and later was performed with many ceremonies. See Biblioth. Sacra, ib. p. 408.

Comp. Lev. 2, 14-16. Jos. Ant. 3. 10. 5. Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on John 19, 31. Reland Antiqq. Sac. 4. 3. 8.

3. There was also another sacrifice connected with the Passover, known among the later Hebrews as the Khagigah, or festival; of which there are traces likewise in the Old Testament. It was a festive thank-offering, (Engl. Vers. peace-offering,) made by private individuals or families, in connection with the Passover, but distinct from the appointed public offerings of the temple. Such voluntary sacrifices or free-will offerings were provided for and regulated by the Mosaic law. The fat only was burned on the altar (Lev. 3, 3. 9. 14); the priest had for his portion the breast and right shoulder (Lev. 7, 29-34. 10, 14); and the remainder was eaten by the bringer with his family and friends in a festive manner, on the same or the next day; Lev. 7, 16-18. 22, 29. 30. Deut. 12, 17. 18. 27. 27, 7. These private sacrifices were often connected with the public festivals, both in honour of the same, and as a matter of convenience; Num. 10, 10. Deut. 14, 26. 16, 11. 14. comp. 1 Sam. 1, 3-5. 24. 25. 2, 12-16. 19. They might be eaten in any clean place within the city (Lev. 10, 14. Deut. 16, 11. 14); but those only might partake of them, as likewise of the Passover, who were themselves ceremonially clean; Num. 18, 11. 13. John 11, 55. comp. Num. 9, 10-13. 2 Chr. 30, 18. Jos. B. J. 6. 9. 3.

Such voluntary private sacrifices in connection with the Passover seem to be implied in the Old Testament, in Deut. 16, 2. 2 Chr. 30, 22. 24. 35, 7-9; see more in Biblioth. Sacra, ib. p. 409 sq. Hence, as being a sacrifice, thus connected with a festival, these private free-will offerings were themselves called, at least among the later Hebrews, by the name Khagigah, i.e. festival. The earlier Rabbins connect the Khagigah directly with Deut. 16, 2, as above; Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on John 18, 28. There was, however, some difference of opinion among them, as to the particular day of the paschal festival, on which the Khagigah ought to be offered, whether on the fourteenth or fifteenth of Nisan; but the weight of authority was greatly in favour of the fifteenth day. Yet the later accounts of the mode of celebrating the paschal supper seem to imply, that a Khagigah was ordinarily connected with that meal. Indeed, mention is made of a "Khagigah of the fourteenth day," so called in distinction from the more important and formal ceremonial Khagigah of the passover-festival; which latter was not regularly offered until the fifteenth day, when the paschal supper had already been eaten. The former was then a mere voluntary oblation of thanksgiving, made for the purpose of enlarging and diversifying the passover-meal. See Lightfoot Ministerium Templi 13. 4. ib. c. 14. Reland Antiqq. Sac. 4. 2. 2.

V. The Paschal Supper. For a full account of this meal, both in its original institution and as it was probably celebrated in the time of our Lord, see Biblioth. Sacra, ib. p. 411 sq. That the Jews in the course of ages had neglected some of the original precepts, and also introduced various additional ceremonies, is evident from the manner in which our Lord celebrated the supper, as narrated by the Evangelists. What all these additions were, we have no specific historical account from cotemporary writers; yet the precepts preserved in the Mishnah and Talmud of Jerusalem, (compiled in the third century from earlier traditions,) probably refer to the most important of them, and serve to throw light upon some of the circumstances connected with the institution of the Lord's Supper. See Lightfoot Minist. Templi c. 13. Hor. Heb. on Matth. 26.

26. 27. Werner de poculo Benedict. in Ugolini Thesaur. T. XXX. See too Biblioth. Sac. ib. p. 411 sq.

According to these authorities, four cups of red wine, usually mingled with one fourth part of water, were drunk during the meal, and served to mark its progress. The first was merely preliminary, in connection with a blessing invoked upon the day and upon the wine; and this corresponds to the cup mentioned in Luke 22, 17. Then followed ablutions, and the bringing in of bitter herbs, the unleavened bread, the roasted lamb, and also the Khagigah of the fourteenth day, and a broth or sauce made with spices. After this followed the instructions to the son, etc. respecting the Passover; and the first part of the Hallel or song of praise (Pss. 113. 114) was repeated. The second cup was now drunk. Next came the blessing upon each kind of food, and the guests partook of the meal reclining; the paschal lamb being eaten last. Thanks were then returned, and the third cup drunk, called the cup of blessing; comp. 1 Cor. 10, 16. The remainder of the Hallel (Pss. 115–118) was now repeated and the fourth cup drunk; which was ordinarily the end of the celebration. Sometimes a fifth cup might be added, after repeating the great Hallel, Pss. 120–137.

The institution of the Lord's Supper probably took place at the close of the proper meal, immediately before the third cup, or cup of blessing, which would seem to have made part of it; comp. 1 Cor. 10, 16.

VI. Did our Lord, the night in which he was betrayed, eat the Passover with his Disciples? Had we only the testimony of the first three Evangelists, not a doubt upon this question could ever arise. Their language (see § 132) is full, explicit, and decisive, to the effect, that our Lord's last meal with his disciples was the regular and ordinary paschal supper of the Jews, introducing the festival of unleavened bread, on the evening after the fourteenth day of Nisan. Mark says expressly, 14, 12: when THEY killed the passover; which, whether the subject they refer to the Jews or be indefinite, implies at least the regular and ordinary time of killing the paschal lamb. Luke's language is, if possible, still stronger, 22, 7: "Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed," i. e. according to law and custom. This marks of course the fourteenth day of Nisan; and on that same evening our Lord and his disciples sat down to that same passover-meal, which had thus by his own appointment been prepared for them, and of which Jesus speaks expressly as the Passover, v. 15. Philologically considered, there cannot be a shadow of doubt, but that Matthew, Mark, and Luke, intended to express, and do express, in the plainest terms, their testimony to the fact, that Jesus regularly partook of the ordinary and legal passover-meal on the evening after the fourteenth of Nisan, at the same time with all the Jews.

When, however, we turn to the Gospel of John, we seek in vain in this Evangelist for any trace of the paschal supper, as such, in connection with our Lord at that time. John narrates indeed (c. 13) our Lord's last meal with his disciples; which the attendant and subsequent circumstances show to have been the same with that, which the other Evangelists describe as the Passover. Upon just that point, however, John is silent; but from this silence the inference can never be rightfully drawn, that this last meal was not the Passover; any more than John's similar silence in respect to the Lord's Supper warrants the conclusion that no such rite was ever instituted. John, as all admit, wrote his Gospel as a supplement to the others; and hence, in speaking of this last meal, he narrates only such circumstances as had not been fully set forth by the other Evangelists. He does not describe this meal as being the Passover, nor make any mention of the Eucharist, because this had been done, in both cases, in the most explicit manner, by Matthew, Mark, and Luke. In this way the difference in the two reports of the same occasion, is satisfactorily accounted for.

But there are a few expressions in John's Gospel, in connection with this meal, and especially with our Lord's Passion, which taken together might, at first view, and if we had only John, seem to imply, that on Friday, the day of our Lord's crucifixion, the regular and legal Passover had not yet been eaten, but was to be eaten on the evening after that day.

The point of the whole inquiry relates simply to the time of the Passover. According to all the four Evangelists, our Lord was crucified on Friday, the day before the Jewish Sabbath; and his last meal with his disciples took place on the preceding evening, the same night in which he was betrayed. The simple question, therefore, at issue is, Did this Friday fall upon the fifteenth day of Nisan, or upon the fourteenth? Or, in other words, did our Lord on the evening before his crucifixion eat the Passover, as is testified by the first three Evangelists; or was the Passover still to be eaten on the evening after that day, as John might seem to imply?

This question has been more or less a subject of discussion in the church ever since the earliest centuries; chiefly with a view to harmonize the difficulties. It is only in recent years, that the alleged difference between John and the other Evangelists, has been urged to the extreme of attempting to make it irreconcilable.

John obviously wrote his Gospel as supplementary to the other three. He had them then before him, and was acquainted with their contents. He was aware that the other three Evangelists had testified to the fact, that Jesus partook of the Passover with his disciples. Did John believe that their testimony on this point was wrong; and did he mean to correct it? If so, we should naturally expect to find some notice of the correction along with the mention of the meal itself, which John describes, as well as they. Indeed, that would have been the appropriate and only fitting place for such a correction. But John has nothing of the kind; and we are therefore authorized to maintain, that it was not John's purpose thus and there to correct or contradict the testimony of the other Evangelists; and if not there, then much less by mere implication in other places and connections.

Let us examine the passages referred to in John's Gospel; and see whether they require to be so understood or interpreted, as to present any appearance of discrepancy. They are the following:

a) John 13, 1: "before the feast of the passover." This form of expression, it is said, shows that our Lord's last meal with his disciples took place before the Passover; and could not, therefore, itself have been the paschal supper.

But we must here take into account the meaning of the Greek word thus rendered feast, the true and only proper signification of which is festival; that is, it implies every where a yearly day or days of festive commemoration; never a single meal or entertainment. So in Num 28, 16, 17, where the paschal supper, prepared on the fourteenth of Nisan and eaten at evening, is distinguished from the festival, (Engl. Ver. feast), which began on the fifteenth and continued for seven days. See farther Luke 2, 41. 22, 1. In this view, the phrase in question does not mean "before the paschal supper," but "before the festival of the Passover," i. e. of unleavened bread (Luke 22, 1). It is equivalent therefore to the Engl. festival-eve; and here marks the evening before the festival proper of seven days' continuance; on which evening, during the (paschal) supper, our Lord 'manifested his love for his disciples unto the end,' by the touching symbolical act of washing their feet. It is therefore evident, that this passage does not sustain the inference attempted to be drawn from it.

b) John 18, 28: "and they themselves [the Jews] went not into the judgment-hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover." From this last phrase, it has been inferred, that the Jews were expecting to partake of the paschal supper the ensuing evening; and of course had not eaten it already.

But to bring out this inference, the phrase "to eat the passover" must be taken in the most limited sense, "to eat the paschal supper." This certainly cannot be necessary, unless the context requires such a limitation; which is not the case here.

The word passover in the New Testament is found in no less than three main significations: a) The paschal lamb; Mark 14, 12. Luke 22, 7. 1 Cor. 5, 7. b) The paschal meal; Matth. 26, 18. 19. Luke 22, 8. 13. Heb. 11, 28. c) The paschal festival, comprising the seven days of unleavened bread; Luke 22, 1. 2, 41 comp. 43. Matth. 26, 2. John 2, 13. 6, 4. etc.—As now there is nothing in the circumstances or context of John 18, 28, to limit the meaning of the word passover in itself either to the paschal lamb or paschal meal, we certainly are not bound by any intrinsic necessity so to understand it here in the phrase "to eat the passover." If, on the other hand, we adopt for it in this place the wider sense of paschal festival, two modes of interpretation are admissible, either of which leaves no room for the above inference.

1. By modifying the force of the verb to eat, so as to make the phrase "to eat the passover" equivalent to the more common expression, "to keep or celebrate the passover." Precisely this form of expression occurs in the Hebrew in 2 Chron. 30, 22, literally: "and they did eat the festival seven days;" where the English Version has it: "throughout seven days." The Septuagint translates correctly according to the sense, though not according to the letter: "and they fulfilled (kept) the festival of unleavened bread seven days."

2. Or we may assign to the word passover (paschal festival), by metonymy, the sense of paschal sacrifices, that is, the voluntary peace-offerings and thank-offerings made in the temple during the paschal festival, and more especially on the fifteenth of Nisan; called in later times the Khagigah; see p. 198 above. A like metonymy is found in Ps. 118, 27: "bind the sacrifice (festive offering, lit. festival) with cords." See too Ex. 23, 18. Mal. 2, 3. The same metonymy is assumed by some in the passage above quoted, 2 Chr. 30, 22; which they then render thus: "and they did eat the festival offerings seven days."

It is manifest, that both the above methods of interpretation are founded on fair analogies; and that either of them relieves us from the necessity of referring the phrase in question to the paschal supper, and thus removes the alleged difficulty. The chief priests and other members of the Sanhedrim, on the morning of the first day of the festival, were unwilling to defile themselves by entering beneath the roof of the Gentile procurator; since in that way they would have been debarred from partaking of the sacrificial offerings and banquets, which were customary on that day in the temple and elsewhere; and in which they, from their station, were entitled and expected to participate.

This view receives some further confirmation from the circumstance, that the defilement which the Jews would thus have contracted by entering the dwelling of a heathen, could only have belonged to that class of impurities, from which a person might be cleansed the same day by ablution; the ablutions of a day, so called by the Talmudists. See Lev. 15, 5 sq. 17, 15, 22, 6. 7. Num. 19, 7 sq. Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on Joh. 18, 28. If now the passover in John 18, 28 was truly the mere paschal supper, and was not to take place until the evening after the day of the crucifixion, then this defilement of a day could have been no bar to their partaking of it; for at evening they were or might be clean. Their scruple, therefore, in order to be well-founded, could have had reference only to the Khagigah or paschal sacrifices offered during the same day before evening.

c) John 19, 14: "and it was the preparation of the passover, about the sixth hour." Does this "preparation" refer, as usual, to the Jewish Sabbath, which actually occurred the next day? or does it here refer to the festival of the Passover as such, and as distinct from the Sabbath? It is only on the latter supposition, that the passage can be made, in any way, to conflict with the testimony of the other Evangelists.

This "preparation" is defined by Mark (15, 42) to be "the day before the Sabbath," i. e. the fore-sabbath, the day or hours immediately preceding the weekly Sabbath, and devoted to preparation for that sacred day. No trace of any such observance is found in the Old Testament; though the strictness of the Mosaic law respecting the Sabbath, which forbade the kindling of fire and of course the preparation of food on that day (Ex. 35, 2 3 comp. 16, 22-27), would very naturally lead to the subsequent introduction of such a custom; as we find it in the times of the New Testament. In the still later Hebrew of the Talmudists, it bore the specific appellation eve, as being the eve of the Sabbath; Buxtorf Lex. col. 1659. The Greek word "preparation," is also every where translated by the like Syriac form for eve, in the Syriac Version of the New Testament.

Primarily and strictly, this "preparation" or "eve" would seem to have commenced not earlier than the ninth hour of the preceding day; as is implied, perhaps, in the decree of Augustus in favour of the Jews, where it is directed that they shall not be held to give pledges on the Sabbath, nor during the preparation before the same after the ninth hour; see Jos. Ant. 16. 6. 2. But in process of time the same Hebrew word for "eve" or "preparation" came in popular usage to be the distinctive name for the whole day before the Jewish Sabbath, i. e. for the sixth day of the week or Friday; Buxtorf Lex. col. 1659. Scaliger Emend. Temp. VI. p. 569. The same was the case in Syriac; and we know, too, that the corresponding word in Arabic for eve was likewise an ancient name for Friday; see Golius' Arabic Lexicon, p. 1551. Freytag III. p. 130. It appears then, that among the Jews, Syrians, and Arabs, the common word for eve, to which corresponded the Greek word "preparation," meaning the preparation of the weekly Sabbath, became at an early date a current appellation for the sixth day of the week. That is, Friday was known as the Preparation or Fore-sabbath; just as in German the usual name for Saturday is now Sonnabend, i. e. "eve of Sunday."

In the later Talmudists a passover-eve is likewise spoken of; Buxtorf Lex. col. 1765. But what this could well have been, so long as the passover (paschal supper) continued to be regularly celebrated at Jerusalem, it is difficult to perceive. The eve before the passover-festival could have included, at most, only the evening and the few hours before sunset at the close of the fourteenth of Nisan; as in the primary usage in respect to the fore-sabbath, as we have just seen. But according to all usage of language, both in the Old and New Testament, those hours and that evening were part and parcel of the passover-festival itself, and not its preparation; unless indeed the paschal meal and its accompaniments be called the preparation of the subsequent festival of seven days; which again is contrary to all usage. It would seem most probable, therefore, that this mode of expression did not arise until after the destruction of the temple and the consequent cessation of the regular and legal passover-meal; when of course the seven days of unleavened bread became the main festival.

But even admitting that a passover-eve did exist in the time of our Lord; still, the expression could in no legitimate way be so far extended as to include more than a few hours before sunset. It could not have commenced apparently before the ninth hour, when they began to kill the paschal lamb; see p. 196 above. On the other hand, the Hebrew term for eve, for which the Greek "preparation" stands in the New Testament, was employed, as we have seen, as a specific name in popular usage for the whole sixth day of the week or Friday, not only by the Jews, but also by the Syrians and Arabs. Hence, when John here says: "and it was the preparation of the passover, about the sixth hour," there is a twofold difficulty in referring his language to a preparation or eve of the regular Passover; first, because apparently no such eve or preparation did or could well then exist; and secondly, because, it being then the sixth hour or mid-day, the eve or time of preparation (supposing it to exist) had not yet come, and the language was therefore inapplicable. But if John be understood as speaking of the weekly preparation or fore-sabbath, which was a common name for the whole of Friday, then the mention of the sixth hour was natural and appropriate.

We come then to the conclusion, that if John, like Mark in c. 15, 42, had here defined the phrase in question, he would probably have written on this wise: "and it was the preparation of the passover, that is, the fore-sabbath of the passover," implying that it was the paschal Friday, the day of preparation or fore-sabbath which occurred during the paschal festival. In a similar manner Ignatius writes: "Sabbath of the Passover," Ep. ad Phil. c. 13; and Socrates also: "Sabbath of the festival," Hist. Ecc. V. 22. And further, in the only other two instances where John uses the word "preparation" in this way, he applies it to this very same day of our Lord's crucifixion, and in this very same sense of the weekly preparation preceding the weekly Sabbath; John 19, 31, 42.

d) John 19, 31: "for that sabbath-day was an high day." Here, as is alleged, it is the coincidence of the first festival day with the Sabbath, that made the latter a "high" or more properly a "great" day. This would certainly be the effect of such a coincidence; but the Sabbath of the Passover would also be still a "great" day, even when it fell upon the second day of the festival. The last day of the festival of Tabernacles is called "that great day," though in itself not more sacred than the first day; John 7, 37. comp. Lev. 23,

33-36. So the calling of assemblies, Is. 1, 13, is translated "a great day" by the Seventy, implying that in their estimation any day of solemn convocation was a great day. The Sabbath, then, upon which the sixteenth of Nisan or second day of the festival fell, might be called "great" or "high" for various reasons. First, as the Sabbath of the great national festival, when all Israel was gathered before the Lord. Secondly, as the day when the first fruits were presented with solemn rites in the temple; a ceremony paramount in its obligations even to the Sabbath; see above p. 197. Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on John 19, 31. Reland. Antiqq. Sac. 4. 2. 4. p. 227. Thirdly, because on that day they began to reckon the fifty days until the festival of Pentecost, Lev. 23, 15 sq. In all these circumstances there is certainly enough to warrant the epithet "great," as applied to the Sabbath on which the sixteenth of Nisan might fall, as compared with other Sabbaths. There exists, therefore, no necessity, and indeed no reason, for supposing, that John by this language meant to describe the Sabbath in question as coincident with the first paschal day or fifteenth of Nisan.

The preceding four passages are those mainly urged against the consistency of John with the other Evangelists. One or two other considerations are also sometimes brought forward.

e) John 13, 27-30. Here the words: "Buy that we have need of against the feast [festival]," having been spoken apparently near the close of the meal, imply, as some suppose, that the passover-meal was yet to come. But this again is to mistake the festival for the paschal supper, a signification which is quite foreign to the word; see p. 200 above. The disciples thought Judas was to buy the things necessary for the festival on the fifteenth and following days. If now our Lord's words were spoken on the evening preceding and introducing the fifteenth of Nisan, they were appropriate; for some haste was necessary, since it was already quite late to make purchases for the next day. But if they were uttered on the evening preceding and introducing the fourteenth of Nisan, they were not thus appropriate; for then a whole day was yet to intervene before the festival. This passage therefore confirms, rather than contradicts, the testimony of the other Evangelists.

f) There remains the objection sometimes brought forward, that a public judicial act, like that by which Jesus was condemned and executed, was unlawful upon the Sabbath and on all great festival days; see Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on Matth. 27, 1. This consideration has, at first view, some weight, and has been often and strenuously urged; yet it is counterbalanced by several circumstances which very greatly weaken its force.

The execution itself took place under Roman authority; and therefore does not here come into account. And as to the proceedings of the Sanhedrim, even admitting that the prohibitory precepts already existed at this early time, (which is very doubtful,) yet there are in the Talmud other precepts of equal antiquity and authority, which actually direct and regulate the meeting and action of that body on the Sabbath and on festival days; see Tholuck's Comm. on John, p. 304 sq. Edit. 6. But besides all this, the chief priests and Pharisees and scribes, who composed the Sanhedrim, are every where denounced by our Lord as hypocrites, 'who say, and do not; who bind heavy burdens upon others, but themselves touch them not with one of their fingers;' Matth. 23, 1 sq. Such men, in their rage against Jesus, would hardly have been restrained even by their own precepts. They professed likewise, and perhaps some of them believed, that they were doing God service; and regarded the condemnation of Jesus as a work of religious duty, paramount to the obligations of any festival. Nor are other examples of such a procedure by any means wanting. We learn from John 10, 22. 31, that on the festival of Dedication, as Jesus was teaching in the temple, "the Jews took up stones to stone him." On the day after the crucifixion, which, as all agree, was a Sabbath and a "great day," the Sanhedrim applied to Pilate for a watch; and themselves caused the sepulchre to be sealed, and the watch to be set; Matth. 27, 62 sq. A stronger instance still is recorded in John 7, 22. 37. 44. 45; where it appears, that on the last great day of the festival of Tabernacles, the Sanhedrim having sent out officers to seize Jesus, "some of them would have taken him, but no man laid hands on him;" so that the officers returned without him to the Sanhedrim, and were in consequence censured by that body. The circumstances show conclusively, that on this last great day of that festival, the Sanhedrim were in session and waiting for Jesus to be brought before them as a prisoner. Nor was it merely a casual or packed meeting, but one regularly convened; for Nicodemus was with them, v. 50. And finally, according to Matth. 26, 3-5, the Sanhedrim, when afterwards consulting to take Jesus and put him to death, decided not to do it on the festival. Why? because it would be unlawful? Not at all; but simply "lest there should be an uproar among the people." But when, through the treachery of Judas, this danger was avoided, the occasion was too opportune not to be gladly seized upon even on a great festival day.

All these considerations seem to me to sweep away the whole force of this objection; on which Scaliger and Casaubon, as also Beza and Calov, laid much stress; and which Lücke has again brought forward and urged with no little parade.

Such then is a general review of the passages and arguments, on the strength of which the alleged discrepancy between John and the other Evangelists in respect to this Passover has usually been maintained. Nothing has here been assumed, and nothing brought forward, except as founded on just inference and safe analogy. After repeated and calm consideration, there rests upon my own mind a clear conviction, that there is nothing in the language of John, or in the attendant circumstances, which upon fair interpretation requires or permits us to believe, that the beloved disciple either intended to correct, or has in fact corrected or contradicted, the explicit and unquestionable testimony of Matthew, Mark, and Luke.

For a fuller discussion of the subject, see the Greek Harmony, p. 211-224. For a review of other proposed methods of conciliation, and for the literature of the subject, the student is referred to the author's article above mentioned, in the Biblioth. Sacra, for Aug. 1845, p. 405-436.

The contention among the disciples had apparently occurred quite recently, perhaps even in the guest-chamber while taking their places at the table. That they were prone to yield to such a spirit, is evident from the instances recorded in § 79 and also § 108. Our Lord on this solemn occasion reproves them; especially by the touching act of washing their feet; see § 134.

§ 134. The washing of the disciples' feet by their Lord and Master was an impressive lesson, that they should live in harmony and love and humility one with another. The occasion of this act was their previous contention, as related by Luke in § 133. Compare Luke 24, 26 sq. with John 13, 16 sq. John's narrative is supplementary to that of Luke; and therefore he does not speak of the contention itself, because the latter had already described it.

On the phrase "before the feast of the passover," v. 1, see above in Introd. Note, p. 200.—The phrase "supper being come," v. 2, is here equivalent to "during supper;" see v. 4 and v. 12. The time of the action was probably after they had taken their places at table, and before they had partaken of the proper meal; perhaps between the first and second cups of wine; see p. 199 above.

§ 135. The sequence of the transactions during the supper appears to have been the following: The taking of their places at table; the contention; the first cup of wine; the washing of the disciples' feet and reproof (§§ 133, 134); the pointing out of the traitor and his departure (§ 135); the foretelling of Peter's denial (§ 136); institution of the Lord's Supper (§ 137), etc. Luke's order differs from that of Matthew and Mark, in placing by anticipation the institution of the Eucharist before the pointing out of the traitor, etc. He was apparently led to this by the mention of the first cup of wine, vv. 17, 18. Afterwards he returns and narrates the previous circumstances.

In the present section, Jesus first declares that one of the twelve shall betray him; they in amazement inquire, "Lord, is it I? is it I?" and Peter makes a sign to John, leaning on Jesus' bosom, that he should ask, who it was. John does so; and Jesus gives him privately a sign by which he may know the traitor, viz. the sop. The amazement and inquiry still continuing, Jesus gives the sop to Judas; who then conscience-smitten, but desiring to conceal his confusion, asks as the others had done, "Lord, is it I?" Jesus answers him, and he immediately goes out, before the institution of the Eucharist; comp. John 13, 26 sq.—For John 13, 28, 29, see Introd. Note, p. 204.

§ 136. Mark says, "Before the cock crow twice," v. 30; the other Evangelists have simply, "Before the cock crow;" see Note on § 144.

§ 137. The institution of the Lord's Supper took place obviously at the close of the passover-meal, and in connection with the "cup of blessing," or third cup, which terminated the meal proper; comp. 1 Cor. 10, 16, and see p. 199 above. With this view accords the expression "after supper," in Luke 22, 20; and so 1 Cor. 11, 25. Matthew and Mark speak of Jesus as breaking the bread "as they were eating," which implies nothing more than "during the meal," while they were yet eating; and does not require the institution of the bread to be separated from that of the cup.

§ 142. Matthew relates that our Lord went away thrice and prayed. Mark speaks of his going away twice only, but mentions his coming again the third time, v. 41; and therefore accords with Matthew. According to Luke, Jesus goes away and prays, and an angel strengthens him; after which he prays the "more earnestly," v. 44. The three Evangelists, therefore, agree in their narratives.

§ 143. Jesus advances to meet the crowd, and declares himself to be the person whom they sought. At the same time Judas, in order to fulfil his bargain, comes up and salutes him with a kiss.

§ 144. An oriental house is usually built around a quadrangular interior court; into which there is a passage (sometimes arched) through the front part of the house, closed next the street by a heavy folding gate, with a smaller wicket for single persons, kept by a porter. In the text, the interior court, often paved or flagged, and open to the sky, is the place where the attendants made a fire; and the passage beneath the front of the house, from the street to this court, is the porch in Matth. 26, 71. Mark 14, 68. The place where Jesus stood before the high priest, may have been an open room or place of audience on the ground-floor, in the rear or on one side of the court; such rooms, open in front, being customary. It was close upon the court; for Jesus heard all that was going on around the fire, and turned and looked upon Peter; Luke 22, 61.

Peter's first denial took place at the fire in the middle of the court, on his being questioned by the female porter.—Peter then, according to Matthew and Mark, retreats into the porch or passage leading to the street, where he is again questioned, and makes his second denial. Luke and John do not specify the place. The Evangelists differ in their statements here, as to the person who now questioned him. Mark says the same maid saw him again, and began to question him, v. 69; Matthew has "another maid," v. 71; Luke writes "another," i. e. another man, v. 58; while John uses the indefinite form, they said. As, according to Matthew (v. 71) and Mark (v. 69), there were several persons present, Peter may have been interrogated by several.—The third denial took place an hour after, probably near the fire, or at least within the court, where our Lord and Peter could see each other; Luke 22, 61. Here Matthew and Mark speak of several interrogators, Luke has still "another," and John specifies the servant of the high priest.

The three denials are here placed together for convenience, although during the intervals between them the examination of Jesus was going on before the high priest; the progress of which is given in § 145.

Mark relates that the cock crowed twice, vv. 68, 72; the others speak only of his crowing once. This accords also with their respective accounts of our Lord's prophecy; see § 136. The cock often crows irregularly about midnight or not long after; and again always and regularly about the third hour or day-break. When therefore "the cock-crowing" is spoken of alone, this last is always meant. Hence the name cock-crowing, for the third watch of the night, which ended at the third hour after midnight; Mark 13, 35. Mark therefore here relates more definitely; the others more generally.

§ 145. This examination by Caiaphas, John 18, 19-23, took place soon after Peter's first denial; see § 144. Not improbably the high-priest again withdrew, after having sent off messengers to convoke the Sanhedrim, which met at early dawn, Luke 22, 66.—Luke 22, 63-65 is transposed, in accordance with Matthew and Mark.

§ 146. On John 18, 28, see Intro. Note, p. 201.

§ 149. The scarlet robe of Matth. 27, 28, and the purple robe of John 19, 2, are put for the paludamentum or red military cloak worn by officers; see Adam's Rom. Antiqq. p. 371. The Greek word in Matthew signifies properly coccused, crimson, and seems to be nearly synonymous with purple; just as purple-red and crimson are often interchanged in English.

§ 150. On the phrase "preparation of the passover," v. 14, see the Intro. Note, p. 202. In the same verse, the expression "about the sixth hour," does not accord with the "third hour" of Mark 15, 25; see in § 153. But the "third hour" of Mark, as the hour of the crucifixion, is sustained by the whole course of the transactions and circumstances; as also by the fact stated by Matthew, Mark, and Luke, that the darkness commenced at the sixth hour, after Jesus had already for some time hung upon the cross; see § 155. The reading sixth in John is therefore probably an early error of transcription for third, arising out of the similarity of the Greek numeral letters. Indeed, this last reading is found in two of the best manuscripts, as well as several other authorities; so that its external weight is marked by Griesbach as nearly or quite equal to that of the common reading; while the internal evidence in its favour is certainly far greater.—The suggestion of some commentators, that John here computes the hours from midnight, seems to be without any historical foundation. The time also which would thus result, viz. sunrise, would be much too early for the course of events.

§ 151. Judas repented, it would seem, as soon as he saw that Jesus was delivered over to be crucified. Till then he had hoped, perhaps, to enjoy the reward of his treachery, without involving himself in the guilt of his Master's blood.

According to Matthew (v. 5), Judas "strangled," i. e. hanged himself. Luke says in Acts 1, 18, "falling headlong he burst asunder in the midst." These two accounts are not inconsistent with each other; the rope breaking, the fall might easily be such as to cause the bursting of the abdomen.

In Acts 1, 18 the word "purchased" is to be taken as expressing the idea: he gave occasion to purchase, was the occasion of purchasing. For such an usage, see Matth. 27, 60. Rom. 14, 15. 1 Cor. 7, 16. 1 Tim. 4, 16. etc.

The quotation in Matth. 27, 9, 10, is found, not in Jeremiah, but in Zech. 11, 12 sq. The reading Jeremiah is therefore most probably an early error of a transcriber, misled by a reminiscence of Jer. 18, 1 sq. The Syriac version, the earliest of all, as also several other versions and manuscripts, have simply "by the prophet;" which is apparently the true reading. Other later authorities read Zechariah.

§ 152. Jesus bore his cross at first; but he being probably faint from exhaustion, Simon was compelled to bear it after him.

The "vinegar mingled with gall" of Matthew 27, 34, is the same with the "wine mingled with myrrh" of Mark 15, 23, viz. cheap acid wine mingled with bitter myrrh. Such a drink was given to persons about to be executed, in order to stupify them. See Lightfoot Hor. Heb. on Matth. 27, 34.

§ 153. Various slight transpositions in the verses are made in this Section, in order to present their parallelism to the eye.—On the four different forms of the title on the cross, see Note on § 15.

§ 154. According to Matthew and Mark, both the malefactors reviled Jesus; while according to Luke, one was penitent. In the former Evangelists, there is here an enallage of number; the plural being put for the singular. This is often done, where the predicate relates strictly to one subject, while yet the writer expresses the idea generally. So Matth. 26, 8 comp. John 12, 4. Matth. 2, 20. 9, 8. Mark 7, 17 comp. Matth. 15, 15. Mark 5, 31 comp. Luke 8, 45. Matth. 24, 1 comp. Mark 13, 1. John 19, 29 comp. Matth. 27, 48. etc.

For the "vinegar" in Luke 23, 36, see note on § 155.

In John 19, 25, the marginal reading of the English version is the proper one, viz. Cleopas instead of Cleophas. It is strictly a Greek form of a Hebrew name, which is elsewhere represented by Alpheus.—The Cleopas of Luke 24, 18, is a different name of regular Greek derivation, and belongs to another person.

§ 155. In Matth. 27, 46 Eli is the Hebrew word for my God; and in Mark 15, 34 Eloi is the corresponding Aramæan word for the same.

The "vinegar" in Matth. 22, 48 and the parallel verses, is here the posca or common drink of the Roman soldiers, viz. cheap acid wine mingled with water. In Matthew and Mark the sponge is said to be put upon a reed; in John, upon hyssop. Here probably a stalk or stem of hyssop is to be understood; the cross not being of any great height. The particular plant designated by the hyssop of the Hebrews, has not yet been fully ascertained by botanists. It probably included not only the modern hyssop of the shops, but also other aromatic plants, as mint, wild marjoram, etc.

§ 156. Matth. 27, 55. 56, etc. refers to a later point of time than John 19, 25 sq. Mary and the other women had now retired to a distance from the scene of suffering.

It was according to custom among the Jews, that the bodies of persons publicly executed should be taken down and buried before sunset. Thus Josephus, B. J. 4. 5. 2: "So great care did the Jews take respecting sepulture, that even the bodies of those condemned to be crucified they took down and buried before sunset."

PART IX.

OUR LORD'S RESURRECTION, HIS SUBSEQUENT APPEARANCES, AND HIS ASCENSION.

§§ 159—173.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

A FULL discussion upon this part of the Gospel History, embracing a review of the main difficulties in the way of harmonizing the accounts of the four Evangelists, was published by the author of these Notes, in the Bibliotheca Sacra for Feb. 1845, p. 162 sq. To this the student is referred for a more complete examination of the subject.

It is no doubt true, that more of these apparent difficulties are found in this short portion of the Gospels, than in almost all the rest. This has its cause in the circumstance, that each of the sacred writers here follows an eclectic method, and records only what appertained to his own particular purpose or experience. Thus many of the minor and connecting facts have not been preserved; and the data are therefore wanting to make out a full and complete harmony of all the accounts, without an occasional resort to something of hypothesis. Had we all the facts, we may well rest assured, that this part of the sacred history would at once prove to be as exact, as consistent, and as complete, as any and every other portion of the Word of God.

The general results of the investigations upon which we are now entering, may be presented in the following summary view of the events and circumstances connected with our Lord's resurrection and ascension, in the order of their occurrence.

The resurrection took place at or before early dawn on the first day of the week; when there was an earthquake, and an angel descended and rolled away the stone from the sepulchre and sat upon it; so that the keepers became as dead men from terror. At early dawn, the same morning, the women who had attended on Jesus, viz. Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, Joanna, Salome, and others, went out with spices to the sepulchre in order further to embalm the Lord's body. They inquire among themselves, who should remove for them the stone which closed the sepulchre. On their arrival they find the stone already rolled away. The Lord had risen. The women knowing nothing of all that had taken place, were amazed; they enter the tomb, and find not the body of the Lord, and are greatly perplexed. At this time Mary Magdalene, impressed with the idea that the body had been stolen away, leaves the sepulchre and the other women, and runs to the city to tell Peter and John.

The other women remain still in the tomb; and immediately two angels appear, who announce unto them that Jesus is risen from the dead, and give them a charge in his name for the Apostles. They go out quickly from the sepulchre, and proceed in haste to the city to make this known to the disciples. On the way Jesus meets them, permits them to embrace his feet, and renews the same charge to the Apostles. The women relate these things to the disciples; but their words seem to them as idle tales, and they believe them not.

Meantime Peter and John had run to the sepulchre, and entering in had found it empty. But the orderly arrangement of the grave-clothes and of the napkin, convinced John that the body had not been removed either by violence or by friends; and the germ of a belief sprung up in his mind, that the Lord had risen. The two returned to the city. Mary Magdalene, who had again followed them to the sepulchre, remained standing and weeping before it; and looking in she saw two angels sitting. Turning around she sees Jesus; who gives to her also a solemn charge for his disciples.

The further sequence of events, consisting chiefly of our Lord's appearances, presents comparatively few difficulties. The various manifestations which the Saviour made of himself to his disciples and others, as recorded by the Evangelists and Paul, may accordingly be arranged and enumerated as follows:

1. To the women returning from the sepulchre. Reported only by Matthew. See § 162.
2. To Mary Magdalene, at the sepulchre. By John and Mark. § 164.
3. To Peter, perhaps early in the afternoon. By Luke and Paul. § 166.
4. To the two disciples going to Emmaus, towards evening. By Luke and Mark. § 166.
5. To the Apostles (except Thomas) assembled at evening. By Mark, Luke, John, and Paul. § 167.

N. B. These five appearances all took place at or near Jerusalem, upon the first day of the week, the same day on which the Lord arose.

6. To the Apostles, Thomas being present, eight days afterwards at Jerusalem. Only by John. § 168.
7. To seven of the Apostles on the shore of the Lake of Tiberias. Only by John. § 169.
8. To the eleven Apostles and to five hundred other Brethren, on a mountain in Galilee. By Matthew and Paul. § 170.
9. To James, probably at Jerusalem. Only by Paul. § 171.
10. To the eleven at Jerusalem, immediately before the ascension. By Luke in Acts, and by Paul. § 171.

Then follows the ascension. § 172.

§ 159. The women had rested on the seventh day, according to Luke 23, 56; and the Sabbath being past, Mark relates (v. 1) that they brought spices to anoint the body. This purchase would seem to have been made before the Sabbath; see Luke 23, 56.

The angel had descended and the earthquake had taken place, before the arrival of the women. Our Lord therefore had arisen from the tomb at or before early dawn. See the next Note.—Verses 2-4 of Matthew are here transposed into their natural order. As they stand in Matthew, they should be read as in the pluperfect: "had been" and "had rolled away."

The body of our Lord was laid in the sepulchre before sunset on Friday; and he rose early on the morning of Sunday. He therefore rose on the third day; having lain in the tomb during one whole day and a part of two others; in all not far from thirty six hours. On the expressions: the third day and after three days, see Note on § 49

§ 160. The point of time when the women visited the sepulchre is very definitely marked by all four of the Evangelists, by expressions which all go to fix the time at what we call early dawn, or early twilight; after the break of day, but while the light is yet struggling with darkness.

But Mark, in v. 2, has added the phrase: "at the rising of the sun." These words seem, at first, to be directly at variance with the language of the other three Evangelists, and with the "very early" of Mark himself. Yet as Mark, by the expression "very early," has definitely fixed the time in accordance with all the other Evangelists, we cannot suppose that by the subsequent phrase "at the rising of the sun," he meant to contradict himself and them. He must therefore have employed this latter expression in a broader and less definite sense, not inconsistent with the other. As the sun is the source of light and day, and his earliest rays produce the contrast between night and dawn, so the term sun-rising might easily come in popular usage, by a metonymy of cause for effect, to be put for all that earlier interval, when his rays still struggling with darkness do yet usher in the day.

Accordingly, we find such a popular usage existing among the Hebrews and in the Old Testament. Thus in Judg. 9, 33, Zebul, after directing Abimelech to lie in wait with his people in the field during the night, goes on to say: "And it shall be, in the morning, as soon as the sun is up, thou shalt rise early and set upon the city." Here we have the very same reference to the sun-rising; and yet we cannot for a moment suppose that Abimelech was to wait till the sun actually appeared above the horizon, before he made his onset. So the Psalmist, Ps. 104, 22, speaking of the young lions that by night roar after their prey, proceeds thus: "The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens." But beasts of prey do not wait for the actual appearance of the sun above the horizon ere they shrink away to their lairs; the break of day, the dawning light, is the signal for their retreat. See also Sept. 2 K. 3, 22. 2 Sam 23, 4. In all these passages the language is entirely parallel to that of Mark 16, 2; and they fully illustrate and confirm the principle, that the sun-rising is here used by Mark in a popular sense, as equivalent to the rising of the day, or early dawn.

There was probably something in respect to Mary Magdalene, which gave her a peculiar prominence in these transactions. This may be inferred from the fact, that John mentions Mary Magdalene, and her alone; while the other Evangelists likewise name her first, as if holding the most conspicuous place.—On the different names and number of the women, as narrated by the different Evangelists, see Note on § 57.

Mary Magdalene, amazed at not finding the body of Jesus, and supposing it to have been stolen, leaves the other women, probably in the sepulchre, and returns to the city to tell Peter and John. To them she uses the phrase "we know not," v. 2, meaning herself and the other women; but afterwards, when she speaks to the angels, it is "I know not," v. 13.

§ 161. Luke speaks of two angels; Matthew and Mark of only one; see the Note on § 57.—Mark says he was sitting; Luke speaks of them apparently as standing, v. 4. But the Greek word, in its appropriate and acknowledged usage, is to appear suddenly, to be suddenly present, without reference to its etymology; comp. Luke 2, 9. Acts 12, 7.

In Matthew, the angel addresses the women apparently while still sitting on the stone outside of the sepulchre; in Mark and Luke, on the contrary, the conversation takes place in the sepulchre. But although Matthew does not speak of the women as entering the tomb, yet in v. 8 he describes them as coming out of it; so that of course his account too implies, that the interview took place within the tomb, as narrated by Mark and Luke.

In recording the charge sent by the angels to the Apostles, Matthew and Mark dwell more upon Galilee; and Luke more upon the Lord's previous announcement of his resurrection.

§ 162. It is evident that Mary Magdalene was not with the other women, when Jesus thus met them on their return. Her language to Peter and John forbids the supposition, that she had already seen the Lord; see John 20, 2. See too Biblioth. Sacra, Feb. 1845, p. 171.

§ 163. Mary Magdalene had gone to Peter and John only; who would seem to have lodged by themselves in a different part of the city. The other women went apparently to the rest of the disciples. When therefore it is here said of John, on his entering the sepulchre (v. 8), that "he saw and believed," this is not at variance with v. 9, nor yet with Luke 24, 11. What was it that John thus believed? Not the mere report of Mary Magdalene, that the body had been taken away; for so much he must have known and believed, when he stooped down and looked into the sepulchre. His belief must have been of something more and greater. The grave-clothes lying orderly in their place, and the napkin folded together by itself, made it evident that the tomb had not been rifled, nor the body stolen by violent hands; for these garments and the spices would have been of more value to thieves, than merely a naked corpse; at least, thieves would not have taken the pains thus to fold the garments together. The same circumstances showed also that the body had not been removed by friends; for they would not thus have left the grave-clothes behind. All these considerations excited in the mind of John the germ of a belief, that Jesus was risen from the dead. He believed because he saw; "for as yet they knew not the Scripture," v. 9. He now began to recall and understand our Lord's repeated declaration, that he was to rise again on the third day; a declaration on which the Jews had already acted in setting a watch. See Matth. 16, 21. 17, 23. Luke 9, 22. 24, 6, 7. etc. Matth. 27, 63 sq. In this way, the apparent want of connection (sometimes urged) between verses 8 and 9, disappears.

§ 164. Mary Magdalene now manifestly sees the angels for the first time; and this circumstance also goes to show, that she had previously left the other women at the sepulchre before the angels appeared to them.

A main difficulty occurs here in fixing the order of time, between our Lord's appearance to Mary Magdalene and that to the other women in § 162. This arises from the use of the word first in Mark 16, 9, which seems to imply that this appearance to Mary Magdalene was the first of all: "he appeared first to Mary Magdalene." Yet the whole course of events and circumstances shows conclusively, that Jesus had previously appeared to the other women. We are therefore compelled, and that in accordance with good and ordinary usage, to regard "first" as put here not absolutely, but relatively. That is to say, Mark narrates three and only three appearances of our Lord; of these three that to Mary Magdalene takes place first, and that to the assembled disciples the same evening occurs last, Mark 16, 14, where our translators have used the word afterward, which is less correct. Now as the word for last is here put relatively, and does not exclude the subsequent appearances of our Lord to Thomas and in Galilee; so too first stands here relatively, and does not exclude the previous appearance to the other women.

In this way the whole difficulty in the case before us vanishes; and the complex and cumbrous machinery of earlier commentators becomes superfluous. See more in the Greek Harmony, p. 232.

§ 166. This appearance of our Lord to Peter, is mentioned only by Paul and by Luke, v. 34. It had not taken place when the two disciples left Jerusalem for Emmaus; or at least they had not heard of it. It had occurred when they returned; and that long enough before to have been fully reported to all the disciples and believed by them. It may perhaps have happened about the time the two disciples set off, or shortly afterwards.

On the name Cleopas, see Note on § 154. This is a different person from the Cleophas (Clopas) of John 19, 26.

§ 167. Paul speaks of the Apostles by their usual appellation, as the twelve, 1 Cor. 15, 5; Matthew, Mark, and Luke here speak of them as the eleven; Matth. 28, 16. Mark 16, 14. Luke 24, 33. Yet on this particular occasion, only ten were actually present; see John 20, 24.

When the disciples beheld their risen Lord, they thought they saw a spirit. Jesus reassures them; and presents to them indubitable evidence, that the same body of flesh and bones which had been crucified and laid in the sepulchre, was now risen and alive before them. On the general subject of the nature of our Lord's resurrection body, see a full discussion by the author of these Notes in the Bibliotheca Sacra for May, 1845, p. 292 sq.

Then follows our Lord's charge and commission to the eleven Apostles, delivered to them here in private by themselves; and distinct from the public and more general commission recorded in Matth. 28, 19, 20.—As a symbol of this commission to them in particular, and of the power which they should shortly receive through the Spirit imparted from on high, "he breathed on them, and said, Receive ye the Holy Ghost;" John 20, 22. There was in this emblem a recognition and reiteration of the gracious promise of the Spirit before made; which was to be abundantly fulfilled on the day of Pentecost. See John 14, 26, 16, 7 sq. Acts 2, 1 sq.

§ 169. This appearance of our Lord to the seven disciples at the Lake of Galilee, is shown to have preceded that upon the mountain, by John 21, 14. It was his third appearance to the Apostles; see §§ 167, 168. They were now waiting the appointed time, to meet Jesus upon a certain mountain; Matth. 28, 16.

§ 170. The set time had now come; and the eleven disciples went away into the mountain, "where Jesus had appointed them." It would seem probable, that this time and place had been appointed by our Lord for a solemn and more public interview, not only with the eleven whom he had already met more than once, but with all his disciples in Galilee; and that therefore it was on this same occasion, when, according to Paul, "he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once." That the interview in Matthew was not confined to the eleven alone, seems evident from the fact that "some doubted;" for this could hardly be supposed true of any of the eleven, after what had already happened to them in Jerusalem and Galilee, and after having been appointed to meet their risen Lord at this very time and place. The appearance to the five hundred must at any rate be referred to Galilee; for even after our Lord's ascension, the number of the names in Jerusalem were together only about an hundred and twenty; Acts 1, 15. And further, Paul in enumerating the appearances of Jesus, in 1 Cor. 15, 5-8, specifies only those to Apostles, with this one single exception; which therefore seems of itself to imply, that the eleven also were here included. I therefore, with many leading commentators, do not hesitate to regard the interviews thus described by Matthew and Paul, as identical. It was a great and solemn occasion. Our Lord had directed, that the eleven and all his disciples in Galilee should thus be convened upon the mountain. It was the closing scene of his ministry in Galilee. Here his life had been spent. Here most of his mighty works had been done and his discourses held. Here his followers were as yet most numerous. He therefore here takes leave on earth of those among whom he had lived and laboured longest; and repeats to all his disciples in public the solemn charge, which he had already given in private to the Apostles: "Go ye therefore and teach all nations;—and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." It was doubtless the Lord's last interview with his disciples in that region; his last great act in Galilee.

§ 171. Luke relates, in Acts 1, 3, that Jesus showed himself alive to the Apostles "after his passion, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God." This would seem to imply interviews and communications, as to which we have little more than this very general notice. One of these may have been the appearance to James, mentioned only by Paul (1 Cor. 15, 7), and subsequent to that to the five hundred brethren. It may be referred with most probability to Jerusalem, after the return of the Apostles from Galilee.

Afterwards, our Lord again, according to Paul, "was seen of all the Apostles." This was apparently an appointed meeting; the same which Luke speaks of in Jerusalem, immediately before the ascension. It was of course the Lord's last interview with his Apostles.

§ 172. During the preceding discourse, Acts 1, 7, 8 (§ 171), or in immediate connection with it, our Lord leads the Apostles out as far as to Bethany; and lifting up his hands he blessed them; Luke 24, 50. This act of blessing must be understood, by all the laws of language, as having taken place at or near Bethany. "And it came to pass, WHILE he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven." Our Lord's ascension, then, took place at or near Bethany. Indeed, the sacred writer could hardly have found words to express the fact more definitely and fully; and a doubt on this point could never have suggested itself to the mind of any reader, but for the language of the same sacred writer in Acts 1, 12, where he relates that after the ascension the disciples "returned unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet." Luke obviously did not mean to contradict himself; and the most that this expression can be made to imply, is, that from Bethany, where their Lord had ascended, which lies on the eastern slope of the Mount of Olives, a mile or more below the summit of the ridge, the disciples returned to Jerusalem by a path across the mount. Indeed, Bethany is described in the New Testament as connected with, or as part of, the Mount of Olives; as "at the Mount of Olives," Mark 11, 1. Luke 19, 29. And further, where Matthew and Mark speak of Jesus, during the week of his passion, as going out at evening from Jerusalem to lodge at Bethany, Luke says expressly that he went out at night and abode in the Mount of Olives; see Matth. 21, 17. Mark 11, 11. 19. 20. Luke 21, 37. This serves to show, that Luke, in c. 24, 50 and Acts 1, 12, uses the terms Bethany and Mount of Olives interchangeably, and almost as synonymous.

Yet from this remark in Acts there arose, probably early in the fourth century, the legend which fixed the place of the ascension on the reputed summit of the Mount of Olives. If that was indeed the true spot, then our Lord ascended from it in full view of all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; a circumstance not hinted at by the sacred writers, nor at all in accordance with the life and character of the Saviour.
